Benefit for Millrace Restoration

By PAT DEENEY

(Capital Journal Correspondent) UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE (Special)—Dancing to the music of Wally Heide Saturday night, several Salem students helped the Senior class raise money at the millrace benefit dance. The Senior class dispensed with the usual Senior Ball, an annual all-campus formal dance sponsored by the seniors, to give a benefit for the restoration of the millrace. The seniors have also donated their entire class treasury to this purpose.

Those seen at the dance were Anne Ritchey, Sandra Schori, Jerry Blank, Roger Weaver, Julie Astrup, Scott Page, Anne Heltzel, Jean Lidbeck, Courtney Kourtz, Betty Lou Boehm, Kaye Tomlinson, Plum Brown, and Sharon Johnson.

Sally Jo Greig, Sigma Chi Sweetheart on the Oregon campus in 1953-54, was one of the honored guests this last Saturday night in Portland, where she attended the annual Sweetheart Ball of Sigma Chi. Jeannine Graber of Willamette university was also at the dance.

Bill Cook is chief engineer of the "Fishbowl Show," presented over radio station KWAX, and featuring "easy-to-listen to music" and interviews. This last week, the show was broadcast live from the Student Union on Wednesday at 8:30 p.m.

Bill Mainwaring has just been elected vice president of Sigma Chi fraternity. That gives Salem one president, one vice president, and one acting-president so far this year; Julie Miller, being the newly elected president of Pi Beta Phi; Mainwaring, the veep of Sigma Chi; and Marcia Webb, who has been the acting-president of Gamma Phi Beta this term.

Sunday, after a big weekend, always seems to come as a big shock to many students. Gene Jones, Jim Mathieson, Bev Lockard, and Anne Ritchey were all seen at the College Side yesterday afternoon, seminare over their coffee for today's midterms. Mathieson said that he had three midterms scheduled for today.

Gary Parker has a rather pleasant trip ahead of him for next weekend. He is singing with the Oregon Beta Theta Pi song team, when it travels to Seattle for the regional song fest. The boys from Oregon will be leaving on Friday and returning to campus Sunday.

Women's Week, which will be in full swing this week, got an early beginning Saturday morning at 9:30 with a WRA play day for all girls on campus. Sports and games of many sorts were played. At noon the play day was ended with a demonstration by members of Amphibians, the women's swimming honorary.

The next featured event of women's week was the 2 a.m. closing hours for Saturday night's dance. Men were required to pay 10 cents for each minute after one o'clock until they departed from their dates' living organizations—the maximum fine being 60¢ for the entire hour. This money was collected in all women's living organizations and will be used toward the AWS scholarship fund.

Monday at four the next event of the week, The Apple Polish Party, will be staged, when the University professors don house boy uniforms and serve coffee to students. Tuesday at noon women's organizations—YWCA, AWS, WRA—will conduct elections. Then Tuesday night, an assembly featuring Ruth Rose Robertson, attorney at law and public accountant at Portland, who will speak on "The Woman's Place."

On Wednesday, a panel discussion will be sponsored by the YWCA and Mortar Board. Stated for Thursday is a party and Thursday night the Hazel Scherwing dinner will conclude the events of the week.

On this coming weekend, Marion Baum will be attending the panhellenic retreat as a member of the panhellenic council.

Many Salem students will be busy with house dances this coming weekend. Women's houses giving dances are Kappa Kappa Gamma, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Alpha Theta, Chi Omega, Delta Zeta, University House, Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Xi Delta, Alpha Gamma Delta, Ann Judson House, and Delta Gamma.

Lloyd Weisensee, the second year law student who filed a claim in Lebanon—Miss Joanne Johnson, above, and Rollin H. Knight have announced their betrothal. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Johnson. Mr. Knight's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Knight. Miss Johnson attends Oregon State college and her fiance is currently aboard the USCG cutter Winona at Port Angeles. Wedding plans have not been told.

West Salem Lions Auxiliary Active

Mrs. Robert Covert was hostess to members of West Salem Lions auxiliary Monday evening. Mrs. Richard Smith presiding. Mrs. Covert reported to the state officers dinner to be Thursday, March 8, at 7 o'clock at Lipman. A report was given on the Mothers March. A card party was announced for March 24, to be given by the Lions group.

Mrs. Bert Osborn was appointed chairman for the Lions auxiliary hot dog booth at the Lions club carnival. The carnival will be Friday and Saturday, February 24 and 25, at the Legion hall in West Salem.

Mrs. Robert Chown, Mrs. Roy Smith and Mrs. W. L. Scheele were guests. Mrs. L. B. McClendon will be hostess for the March meeting.

Surprise Event

Mrs. Robert Norton and Mrs. John Hall were honored at a surprise birthday luncheon, Saturday, in Meier and Frank's Salem store Oregon room. Attending were the two honor guests, and Mrs. Gerald Hall, Mrs. Ronald Ruch, Mrs. Harvey Reinke, Mrs. Dean Ray, Mrs. Allen Megquier, Mrs. Duane Jensen, Mrs. Charles Patterson, Mrs. Virgil Fleetwood, Mrs. Raymond Hall, Mrs. Ray Tompkins, Mrs. Don Hendrickson, Miss Norma Hall.

WRC Meeting

Members of Sedgwick Womens Relief Corps met at Nohlgren's restaurant for a luncheon Friday. A business session and inspection followed at Veterans of Foreign Wars hall. The inspector was Mrs. Bernella Johnson of Portland. Other out-of-town visitors were Mrs. Mary Schnasa, Portland, Mrs. William Brown, Mrs. G. G. Ore, Mrs. Jones Prater, all of McMinnville.

MISS DIANNE McFarland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald L. McFarland of Salem and a first year student at Colley college, Nevada, Mo., will be among the nearly 200 Colley students to visit the Nelson Art gallery in Kansas City, February 25. They also will attend the Kansas City showing of the Broadway show, "Bad Seed."

P.L.E. and F club is to meet on Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Lawrence DeLapp, 2215 Electric avenue, Mrs. Maynard Cox to be co-hostess.

The small claims court against a campus policeman and towing firm, has had the case transferred to the district court, as a result of last Tuesday's court action. Weisensee is charging that the space from which his car was towed, was not marked with a specific "no parking" sign, and that the city police were not notified before the towing.

In four more weeks this term will be over—which means, we have but three weeks remaining to complete all of this term's work. Guess it's time to really get busy.

It happens only once every 4 years!
