New Derby Rules Raise Cost Allowed for Racers to $15

1956 DERBY RULES Official rules of the Soap Box Derby have been revised for 1956, raising to $15 the maximum each contestant may spend for materials used in building his racer.

This $15 limit does not include the cost of official wheel and axle sets which may be obtained only from Chevrolet dealers at sponsoring points. The previous cost limit was $10.

This is the principal change made in the rules at a recent meeting of the All-American Rules Committee in Detroit, according to W. J. King, general manager of the Derby and assistant advertising manager of Chevrolet, national sponsor of the boys' event.

The committee took this action in the hope that it would give more boys a greater opportunity to compete in the event, fully realizing that prices of certain materials had risen to a point where a $10 limitation posed a real problem," King said.

King said the committee has set Sunday, August 12, 1956 as the date for the 19th All-American Soap Box Derby at Derby Downs in Akron, O. On that date some 150 local champions from Salem and other cities in the United States, Canada, Alaska and Western Germany will compete for a total of nine top prizes, including $15,000 in college scholarships. First prize will be a $5,000 four-year scholarship.

In other action, the committee ruled that fiber glass may be used in car construction.

Except for the new maximum cost and the fiber glass allowance, rules generally were unchanged. However, King said the committee re-emphasized several other provisions in answer to many letters received since the running of the 18th All-American last August.

Among these points are: No boy who has ever won an officially sponsored Soap Box Derby race, his car, his wheels, or any other part of his car, can race again in a Soap Box Derby.

Each contestant must build the car which he races in the Derby. This means that he must also do the exterior finishing work — such as sanding, painting, etc. — of the car. The only exception to this is that a car which has won an authorized local race may be painted and lettered by the newspaper or other sponsor before being shipped to the All-American.

Sides of a car's cockpit must be built so they are open. Sides must be cut away in a curved manner so there are no enclosures or irregularities.

A Soap Box Derby car may be built up to the maximum 250 pounds allowable for car and boy combined but this weight must be built solidly and safely into the body or chassis of the car.

Official rule books are available in Salem upon registering at Capital Chevrolet Company, co-sponsor of the Salem Derby with the Capital Journal.

Kerrigan Gets Ike Thanks for Primary Filing

PORTLAND — President Eisenhower has thanked Paul Kerrigan for the nominating petitions that put the President's name on the Oregon May 18 primary ballot.

In a letter to Kerrigan, a Reed College student who led the nominating petition drive, Eisenhower said: "Thank you very much for your telegram concerning the filing in Oregon. I was glad to know we are so well along with our planning in your state."

"There is much work to be done but with such initiative as you and your associates are showing, we will be more than ready for the challenges that lie ahead."

BPA Awards Road Contract

PORTLAND — Bonneville Power Administration awarded a contract for a construction project Friday and opened bids on another project.

F. H. Jarnagin, Port Angeles, Wash., was awarded a contract for clearing right-of-way and construction of access roads for the Sultan-Covington section of the Chief Joseph - Covington 345,000-volt transmission line. Jarnagin's bid was $139,948.

Parker Schram, Portland, was apparently low bidder at $37,539 for construction of a McNary powerhouse switchyard line to carry power from the dam for Pacific Power and Light Co. and Umatilla Electric Co-operative.

Church Gives Name Pencils

MOLALLA — All visitors in the Sunday school and church services of Molalla church of the Nazarene last week received special gift pencils with the church name, a scripture reference and slogan imprinted on them. A large supply was made available for the users to hand to visitors, along with a registration card.

Special music for the day was furnished by Stanley Van Arsdal and Laurence Morford, in a trombone and trumpet duet, in addition to a mixed quartet and girls' trio.

This week a number of folks are working at the church, refinishing the floor of the sanctuary. The high school young people held a taffy pull Thursday night. During the Youth Hour Sunday night, there were 10 who completed work in a study of the minor prophets of the Old Testament, while another group was in a planning session, arranging programs for the coming month.

Next Sunday is Home Department day and those who have the use of Sunday school materials but are unable to attend regularly will receive special recognition for March 18, stated Rev. J. L. Van Arsdal, pastor of the church. The following Sunday will be "Baby day" and the cradle roll will receive special recognition.

Death Comes to Carrie L. Nevil

UNIONVALE — Mrs. Carrie L. Nevil, 84, of Longview Wash., died suddenly at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Nevil Tuesday. She came here Sunday for a visit and her death was unexpected.
