

Miss Bacon Wed at Albany

ALBANY — Amid a setting of blue delphiniums and white chrysanthemums arranged in large baskets tied with white satin bows, and candlelight, Miss Bette Lou Bacon exchanged her nuptial vows with Elbert Ray Jennings, Jr., before the altar of the First Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Rev. Morton L. Booth, P.D., officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Harrison Bacon, Jr., of the Nebergall Loop Road and Mr. Jennings is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Ray Jennings, Sr., of Albany.

For her wedding the bride chose a dress of ice blue Chantilly lace over blue satin. The tulle veil was fastened to a net cap. The dress was made on princess lines with the skirt falling in a scalloped lace train. The bride carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Maid of honor was Miss Virginia Claypool. She was attired in a delphinium blue tulle over taffeta dress with white lace hat and matching mitts. She carried a blue, pink and white flowered nosegay.

Bridesmaids were Miss Diana Bacon, Salem, sister of the bride, Miss Constance Sue Harwood, Miss Patricia Parrett, Miss Charlene Salmon, all of Albany. The bridesmaids were dressed identically to the maid of honor, except their dresses were of lighter shades of delphinium blue. With their dresses they wore white hats and carried nosegays like the maid of honor's.

Miss Beth Alden and Miss Sandra Wells were the flower girls, and were attired in pink nylon or tulle over blue taffeta full length dresses. Each wore a wreath of pink rosebuds in her hair. Dennis R. Jennings, brother of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

Edwin Kraft was best man for Mr. Jennings and seating the wedding guests were Jack Donahue, Gene Jacobs, Arlen Saamard and Merle Warren, all of Albany. Lighting the candles were Miss Lael Hudleston, Albany and Miss Joyce Chilcote, Jefferson and each wore a white choir robe. Mrs. William Kurtz played the wedding music and marches and also accompanied Mrs. Jerry Jennings of Yakima, Wash., aunt of the bridegroom, who sang.

After the ceremony a reception was given in the church parlors. The bride's table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake of blue. Mrs. W. H. Alden presided at the coffee urn. Mrs. Loyd Ferguson, Salem, aunt of the bride, poured the punch. Mrs. Roy Claypool cut the wedding cake and was assisted by Mrs. Hugh Evans, Canby, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. T. R. Parrett, Albany. Assisting about the rooms were Mrs. Joseph Curran, Mrs. Arnold Turnbull and Mrs. Fenn Emerson, all of Albany. Passing the guest book were the Misses Judy Straubhan, Eureka, Calif., and Georgia Jo Alden, Albany. Passing the bridegroom's cake was Miss Barbara Evans, Canby, and at the gift table were Misses Jean Peterson and Diana Collier. Piano music was furnished during the reception by Miss LuAnn Mullen.

The couple left on a wedding trip to the Oregon coast by automobile. For traveling the bride wore a blue linen suit made box style, with white accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

After June 25 the couple will be at home in Florence.

Miss Kirsch Bride at Sublimity

SUBLIMITY — White and blue delphiniums decorated the altar for the 10 a.m. ceremony at St. Boniface Catholic church, Saturday June 16 when Miss Carol Ann Kirsch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kirsch of Pendleton, was wed to John McCall Fahsholtz of Stayton. Mrs. Fay Fahsholtz of Stayton is the bridegroom's mother.

Father Neugebauer performed the marriage. Soloists were Mrs. Henry Miotke and Joe Dougherty, accompanied by Leonard Hendricks.

Alvin Kirsch escorted his daughter to the altar. The bride's ballerina length wedding dress was fashioned of white Chantilly lace over white and pale blue taffeta. Her fingertip length train was held in place with a tiara of blue and white flowers embellished with sequins. She carried pale blue daisies enhanced with white net.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Joanne Kirsch, wearing a ballerina length dress of white net over light blue taffeta and tied with white satin sash. Little Marilyn Ann Miotke, cousin of the bride, acted as flower girl. Her dress was patterned after the maid of honor's. White daisies with blue net formed the bouquet for the maid of honor. The flower girl carried a ring of white miniature chrysanthemums. Kenneth Miotke was ring bearer.

Charles Fahsholtz served his brother as best man with Henry Miotke, the bride's uncle, as usher.

The bride's mother wore a light pink lace dress with white carnation corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a white figured sheath dress and red duster ensemble and white carnation corsage. Grandmother of the bride, Mrs. P. J. Etzel, was attired in deep gray-blue lace wearing corsage of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was given at the P. J. Etzel home. Mrs. Henry Miotke, aunt of the bride, cut the cake. Mrs. P. J. Etzel, grandmother of the bride, cut ices, with Mrs. Joe Wolf and Carol Coulter assisting.

For their wedding trip to the coast the bride donned a pink and gray sheath dress. Upon their return they will reside at Stayton.

Irene Cole Recent Bride

DALLAS — Yellow and blue was the color scheme for the wedding of Miss Irene Shirley Cole of Dallas and Dennis McFarland of Albany on Saturday evening, June 16, at the First Methodist church in Dallas. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cole Sr. of Albany, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. McFarland of Albany, formerly of Dallas.

Large baskets of yellow and blue flowers decorated the altar with blue candles in the windows. Arrangements of blue and yellow irises were in the vestibule. Lighting the candles before the ceremony were Mrs. Russell Beebe and Miss Jan Lund, both wearing yellow net halter-length dresses and blue wristlets.

The Rev. Fremont Paul, former pastor of the Methodist church, from Cottage Grove, officiated at the 8 o'clock ceremony. Mrs. Robert Dornhecker was vocalist and Mrs. Walter Funk the organist.

Of lace and tulle over taffeta was the bridal dress, fashioned with a low, round neckline and long sleeves of lace and inserts of lace in the floor length bouffant skirt. A crown enhanced with tiny flowers held in place the fingertip illusion veil. The bride carried an arrangement of yellow roses centered with an orchid. Mr. Cole gave his daughter in marriage.

Mrs. Ed Reimer was her sister's matron of honor and she wore a blue taffeta frock fashioned with a long torso and featuring a bow in back. She carried a nosegay of yellow Esther Reed daisies.

Jesse Hudson stood with Mr. McFarland as best man and ushers were Jim Foster and Walter Haener.

Mrs. Cole chose a dress of deep aqua and wore a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. McFarland wore a navy and white tulle with white accessories and pink carnations.

A reception took place in the church dining rooms. Monte and Kevin Reimer, young nephews of the bride, passed baskets containing yellow and blue wrapped dream cakes. Cutting the bride's cake was Mrs. E. K. Hutchinson of LaGrande, aunt of the bridegroom. Assisted by Miss Marlene Burr, serving the coffee was Mrs. Walter Haener and pouring the punch was Mrs. Jessie Hodson. In charge of the gift table was Miss Joyce Rulter and passing the guest book was Miss Laura Lee Ayers, Salem, cousin of the bride.

For going away the bride wore a princess style dress of black and white print with a black bolero and white accessories. She wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. McFarland will make their home in Dallas.
