

Lafayette Man Overcomes Handicaps to Walk Again

By MRS. GEORGE HAYES LAFAYETTE (Special) — "For Sale — Wheel Chair." Perhaps that doesn't mean much to the average person, but to elderly John Sharp, of Lafayette, it stands for quite a lot. He will be 81 years old, September 4, and has spent most of the last four years in bed — but not any more!

The plucky little man, whose pleasant chatter is a constant inspiration to his many friends and neighbors, dates his story of illness and return back some 25 years ago. It was in Newton county, Mo., a quarter of a century ago that Sharp fell from a wagon pulled by a team of horses. A wagon wheel passed over his body, and he has had physical troubles ever since.

John and his wife, Grace, came to Lafayette 8 years ago. It was a common sight to see him hobbling about town on his way to church or the post office, or to see his fine garden, the envy of everyone around. Four years ago, however, pneumonia struck, and that together with heart trouble took the little man down.

Two years were spent bedfast. Doctors said it was doubtful if he could make it, and all agreed he would probably never walk again. But they hadn't considered the determination which had kept him going all these years. At the end of two years, aided by his attentive wife and various other relatives, John was lifted to a wheel chair, a welcome change from the high hospital bed. The next year was spent between the bed and the wheel chair.

Then, "Mr. Sharp" as all Lafayette knows him, decided it was time to try walking again. He persuaded his family to find a walker for him. Since that time, the wheel chair has been cast aside and more and more time spent in the walker.

For an 80-year-old man to learn to walk again was quite a task, but neighbors rejoiced recently when they saw him walking out in the front yard — the first time in four years! Since that time Mr. Sharp claims he's walked around the house a dozen times. By the way, the wheel chair is no longer for sale. It sits on the front porch as a resting station during the outdoor jaunts. The tired old heart still causes trouble and it is necessary to make frequent rest stops.

Constant companion and help during these hard years has been his wife, Grace, who admits her job is much easier now that John can satisfy his longing to be out-of-doors. "He just wouldn't be still, and was constantly wanting to get out and work," she says.

The five children of the Sharps, one son was killed in World War II together with numerous grandchildren have patiently watched the progress and of course rejoice that "Dad" now walks.

What's more, Mr. Sharp is not through gardening by a long way either. If you call on him, he'll proudly display the bed of turnips

4-Year-Old Boy Falls From Car, Escapes Injury

DONALD (Special) — Craig Hunt, 4, son of the Gilbert Hunts of Caldwell, Idaho, fell out of the family car when the door flew open and into the lane of approaching traffic, as the family was en route to visit relatives here.

The father stopped the car and scooped his son up out of the way of a rapidly approaching car. The boy was taken to the hospital in Pendleton for a check later but it was found only apparent injury was bruise and no bones were broken.

BUILT-IN HOME
SAN DIEGO, Calif. — Swallows hatched above the door of the San Diego zoo's restaurant in a nest which was built in. The mother had started it while concrete in the door structure of the building was still wet.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your 4th number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
