

Miss Holmes Wed Sunday At Dallas

DALLAS (Special) — Yellow and blue were the colors chosen by Miss Wanda Elaine Holmes for her wedding Sunday, when she was married to James Stephen McClelland of Chicago. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Holmes of Roseburg, former residents of Dallas and Mr. McClelland is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James McClelland of Salem. Dr. George G. Roseberry officiated at the 3 o'clock double ring ceremony at the First Methodist church in Dallas.

Baskets of yellow gladioluses and candelabrum with tall tapers were arranged at the altar and formed a background for the rites. An arrangement of yellow gladioluses was on the organ. Lighting the candles were Charles McClelland of Salem, a cousin of the bridegroom, and Frances (Andy) Anderson of Portland. Soloist was Terry Murray, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Wendell DeHaven who also played the nuptial music.

The bride was presented in marriage by her father. She was attired in a dress of white nylon tulle and lace over satin. The tulle bodice featured a collar of lace with lace forming a V on the front and back of the bodice. The long sleeves of tulle were edged with lace at the wrists. The floor length bouffant skirt was of pleated tulle with an apron effect overskirt of tulle edged with lace. The fingertip veil of tulle was held in place by a tiara enhanced with seed pearls. The bride carried a white orchid with clusters of stephanolids resting on a white Bible.

Sister of the bride, Mrs. Robert Hankins of Coos Bay, was matron of honor and wore a ballerina length dress of blue crystal-ette in front and back. Bridesmaids were Miss Sue Ostrom, Milwaukie, a sorority sister, and Mrs. Ron Culver of Salem. Their costumes were the same as the matron of honor and all the bridal attendants carried bouquets of yellow gladioluses with blue ribbon and tied with blue bows.

Flower girls were Jeannie and Julie Orett, small nieces of the bridegroom. They were dressed in frocks of yellow organdy and carried baskets of yellow flowers.

Ron Culver, Salem, stood with Mr. McClelland and ushers were Charles McClelland, a cousin, Salem, and Frances Anderson, Portland.

Mrs. Holmes chose for her daughter's wedding an ensemble of cocoa brown lace with a matching lace jacket. Her accessories were of cocoa and cream. The mother of the bridegroom wore a blue linen weave dress enhanced with lace and a matching lace jacket. With this she wore white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of pink cymbidium orchids.

The young couple greeted their guests after the ceremony, in the church social rooms. Baskets of yellow flowers were about the rooms and the bride's table was covered with a linen cloth inset with a lace. The tiered bridal cake decorated in blue and yellow was flanked by crystal candelsticks. Cutting the cake was Mrs. Elmer Scheelar, aunt of the bride, from Portland, assisted by Miss Sue Shreeve of Eugene. Pouring were Mrs. Fred Zilo, a cousin of the bride, from Monmouth and Mrs. Sam Orett, sister of bridegroom, Salem. Assisting about the rooms were Miss Phyllis Ruitter, Miss LaVelle Aubert, Portland, Mrs. Donald Overholser, Lebanon. Taking the gifts was Miss Ruitter and circulating the guest book was Mrs. Otto Skopil, Jr. of Salem.

For traveling the bride donned a brown sheath dress with matching overjacket trimmed with white collar and cuffs and white accessories. She wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The couple left Sunday evening for Chicago where they will make their home. Mr. McClelland is employed by Continental Can company in Chicago as a research engineer.
