Lundeen's First Jury Dismissed

Unable to Reach Verdict; 2nd Trial On

EUGENE — A deadlocked jury was dismissed Wednesday night after reaching no decision in the first trial of Ernest Lundeen, Eugene attorney under indictment on two separate charges involving financial dealings with two clients.

While the jury was still out Circuit Judge Dal M. King of Coos County opened Lundeen's trial on the second charge.

The first trial was on a charge of receiving money stolen in a food market robbery. Lundeen, 34, will be re-tried on this charge, possibly after the new court term begins October 1.

Claim Default on Fees

As the trial on the second charge — larceny by bailer, or embezzlement — began Wednesday afternoon, Robert Anderson, assistant attorney general, said the prosecution would attempt to prove that Lundeen defaulted on an agreement with Moses Moody, a client now in the state penitentiary, concerning legal fees.

Anderson said that an insurance company paid Moody and Lundeen $2,000 to settle a claim for injuries Moody suffered in an automobile accident. Anderson said the two agreed to endorse the insurance check and that Lundeen would keep one-third of the money as a fee, returning the rest to Moody.

Anderson said the state would bring out testimony in an attempt to prove Lundeen illegally retained all of the $2,000.

Made Several Trips

Mark Weatherford, Albany attorney, said the defense expected to prove that Moody owed Lundeen more than the amount of the insurance check. Weatherford told the court that Lundeen made several trips to the state of Washington, at Moody's request, on his client's behalf.

Moody, one of the first state witnesses in the second trial Wednesday, denied this.

The state accused Lundeen of converting to his own use $1,312.71 which rightfully belonged to Moody.

Merchants Set Giant Parade, Yule Contest

Christmas season may be ushered into Salem by a parade of giant balloons.

Tentative plans are now being made for the parade, proposed to the Salem area merchants by the executive committee of the Salem Chamber of Commerce commercial division.

It is planned that several hundred youth would take part in the parade, which would feature life-sized elephants, other animals and familiar figures representing Christmas, Easter, circus days and birthday joys of childhood.

Following a meeting Wednesday with merchant leaders from all commercial areas of Salem, the committee decided to recommend that merchants underwrite such a parade.

Fred Lund was named chairman for the parade and Donald McGeorge the finance chairman. Each will select his own committee.

It was also decided by the group to propose that a community-wide contest for outdoor house decoration for Christmas be held. A committee composed of Mrs. Mary Beane, chairman, Lloyd Hammel, Mrs. Earl Moody, Fred Starett and Craig Carver was named to study the possibility of such a contest.

Truck Driver Hero, Averts Blast Deaths

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. — A truck driver was acclaimed a hero Thursday for warning oncoming motorists before his cargo of dynamite and magnesium went up in an earth-shaking explosion.

The truck and an automobile smashed head-on Wednesday night on a busy highway, 10 miles east of Bakersfield, killing the motorist.

County Roads Need Improvement

Marion County Engineer John Anderson, standing, and Commissioner Roy Rice point out cracks in 33-year-old pavement on Macleay road at a point where resurfacing and realignment of curves need attention. County court members took a 140-mile tour Wednesday to see where they could spend $875,000 in federal funds, decided they could use a lot more. (Capital Journal Photo)

School Nearly Empty in Clay Boycott Move

CLAY, Ky. — Only two Negro students, one white pupil and seven of a teaching staff of 17 showed up for class Thursday in the face of this community's passive resistance against integration.

The mayor said whites would boycott the school.

In sharp contrast to past days, no crowd showed up at Clay's hilltop school, where the enrollment is 590.

The two Negro students, James Gordon, 10, and his sister, Theresa, 8, arrived an hour and a half before class was to start. They played in the school yard and talked to newspapermen and National Guardsmen posted in the area.

Several students came to school but quickly left after they had picked up books and personal belongings.

One 6-year-old girl, Linda Spence, came out of the school building crying and said: "I'm afraid. There's nobody inside. I ain't staying. I want my Momma."

A woman who knew the child took her home.

Only the school principal, Mrs. Irene Powell, and six teachers were present.

AG Rules on Registration

Atty. Gen. Robt. Y. Thornton said in an opinion today that voters may be legally registered outside the county clerk's office.

Thornton said that the county registrar could set up some other definite place to register voters, but could not register them door-to-door.

The opinion was expressed in a letter to state Sen. Monroe Sweetland of Milwaukie who had asked Thornton for a clarification of an earlier opinion relating to registration of voters.

Thornton said "undoubtedly the registrar should set up some other definite place to register voters, but could not register them door-to-door."

Air Crash Survivor Wanders

One Body Found In Ruins of Ship Carrying 2

WELLPIT, Wash. — Two men reportedly took off in a light plane that crashed and burned near here Wednesday night, but only one charred body was found in the wreckage.

The body was identified as that of the pilot, Frank Hamilton, 52, who flew low over an isolated mine in Stevens County to drop a business message.

Ralph M. Olson, about 35, was listed as a passenger by the Civil Aeronautics Administration, but State Patrolman William Allen said only one body was removed from the wreck.

Seen to Board Plane

Olsen's family said he planned to take a trip Wednesday with Hamilton, a pilot for the Northwest Uranium Co. and at least one witness said they both boarded the plane at Fells Field in Spokane.

Mrs. Robert Leonard, Olson's sister, said the family feels he survived the crash, was thrown clear and then wandered away "in a daze."

Hamilton had taught Olson to fly and presumably took him along for the ride while he dropped the note at Northwest Uranium's mill near here on the Spokane Indian Reservation.

CAA Searches Area

A CAA search party combed the area Thursday.

There is no telephone on the property and the note asked George Cloward, a company engineer, to meet Hamilton later in Spokane. Cloward said the plane started to climb after flying low to drop the note, seemed to stall, then crashed.

3 Killed, 22 Hurt as Bus, Truck Crash

MONROE, Mich. — A Greyhound semi-cruiser bus and an auto haulway truck crashed "end on near Monroe early Thursday, killing three persons and injuring 22, State Police said.

Trappers said the truck driver and two bus passengers were killed. Two of the dead were identified as Francis G. Pesko, the trucker, and Mrs. Frankie Mae Semple, 38, both of Detroit.

The other victim was not identified immediately.

He said it had already been decided to take some U.S. tankers out of the mothball reserve fleet to divert oil and other traffic around Africa if anything should happen to deny passage of the canal.

Woman Dies in Fall From Span

BEND (UP)—The body of Mrs. John H. Bruns, 56, reported missing from her home at Camp Sherman on the Metolus river, was found by state police today when she apparently had fallen from a railroad bridge in the deep Crook river gorge.

Mrs. Bruns had been reported despondent after the death of her sister, Mrs. John E. Kilkenny, 67, who police said took her own life by leaping from the St. Johns bridge over the Willamette in Portland last July 22.

Mrs. Bruns was reported missing last night. State police located the body after Mrs. Bruns' car was reported abandoned at the parapet in Peter Skene Ogden park between the railroad bridge and the bridge that spans the Crook river on U. S. highway 97. State police were bringing the body out of the rugged canyon this afternoon.

Suez Operation by West Means War, Says Egypt; U.S. Stoutly Backs Plan

Dulles: Won't Shoot, Will Detour

WASHINGTON (UP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said today the United States does not intend to shoot its way through the Suez Canal or enter any shooting war if Egypt tries to block the canal.

At the same time Dulles appealed to Egypt to accept the new Western sponsored "users association" to assure freedom of navigation in the canal. Dulles called the plan a basis for "a just, yet peaceful settlement" of the Suez crisis.

Dulles said there is no intention on the part of the West to impose a Suez settlement on Egypt. He said it is fantastic that anyone might think this case. Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru earlier today criticized the "user association" plan as an "imposed solution" fraught with "grave consequences."

Approved by Eisenhower

Dulles outlined the U.S. position at a press conference packed by about 175 reporters. He read a 700-word prepared statement and then answered questions.

President Eisenhower approved Dulles' statement in advance during a telephone conference from his Gettysburg, Pa., farm this morning.

Mr. Eisenhower will fly back here Friday to confer with Australian Prime Minister Robert Gordon Menzies who headed a five-nation committee which tried to gain to it has already been decided to take some U.S. tankers out of the mothball reserve fleet to divert oil and other traffic around Africa if anything should happen to deny passage of the canal.

Would Avoid Canal

He said American ships in that event would take the long way around the Cape of Good Hope at the southern tip of Africa instead of going through the Suez shortcut.

He said this diversion would be more expensive, of course, but that the United States believes it would not be catastrophic.

Salem Driver Escapes From Blazing Truck

LEBANON (Special) — A dump truck belonging to Eldon C. Reynolds of Salem was damaged to the extent of about $300 when it caught fire on the Berlin road east of Lebanon Tuesday morning.

Vic Bell, Salem driver, said the gas tank under the bed of the truck caught fire as he was hauling a load of rock down a hill.

Setting the brake, he attempted to put out the blaze with dirt, but fire had burned through the air hose, releasing the brake. The truck rolled down the hill and stopped against undergrowth.

TACOMA MAN SLAIN

Taunts Result in Pendleton Killing

PENDLETON — Taunts flung on the streets of Pendleton early Thursday resulted in a shooting that killed William Mancanarae Jr., 27, Tacoma.

Dist. Atty. John Walker said Hollis Carl Doe, 30, Pendleton, came into the police station voluntarily afterwards and admitted the shooting.

Doe is being held for investigation. Walker said he had pleaded together this story.

Doe, a Negro, stopped his car on the west side of Pendleton to talk to some women he saw there about 3 a. m. Mancanarae and three others were in another car, talking to the women. A dispute

Father Unable to Explain Slaying of 2 Girls

By MIKE FORBES
Valley Editor

LEBANON (Special) — Stunned relatives of two little girls beaten and slashed to death by their mother Wednesday were going about the sad task Thursday of making funeral arrangements which at noon still were not completed.

The mutilated bodies of Ruth Upham, 4, and her sister, Lois, 2, were at the Huston Funeral Home.

The mother of the children, Mrs. Graham (Helga) Upham, is being held under observation at the Oregon State hospital in Salem where physicians described her condition as "very disturbed."

She has been charged with first degree murder in a complaint issued by Dist. Atty. Courtney Johns who then obtained a court order compelling the woman to the state hospital for psychiatric examination.

The father of the children, who works as a technician in the Lebanon community hospital, was unable to explain the motive for the brutal slaying in his home at 614 Evans Dr. He told State Police that Mrs. Upham had been depressed for about a month.

A neighbor told police that Mrs. Upham had told her recently that she feared "The Devil is getting hold of my soul."

Officer Riegel reported that an hour of questioning of the prisoner failed to disclose a motive for the killing.

Russians Join In Warning Allies

LONDON (UP)—Egypt served notice on the West today that any attempt by a "users association" to take over operation of the Suez Canal "means war."

Soviet diplomats in London voiced a similar warning. They said Russia wants to avoid any such conflict over Suez, but at the same time they let it be clearly understood that Russia would be among those nations providing Egypt both with volunteers and arms.

The Egyptian warning came in the midst of an angry international exchange of charges and counter charges in which the only conciliatory words came from Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Dulles Against War

Dulles said at a press conference in Washington that the United States does not intend to shoot its way through the Suez canal or enter any shooting war if Egypt tries to block the canal. He said the United States still "seeks a just and peaceful solution to the Suez question." But he supported a users association.

In the House of Commons in London, during the second day of debate over the British and French plan to set up a "users association" for the canal, Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd made it clear the government had no intention of backing down.

Ike Keeps in Close Touch With Dulles

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (UP) — President Eisenhower kept in close touch with developments in the Suez Canal crisis today while relaxing at his farm near here.

Mr. Eisenhower conferred by telephone with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles in Washington on the new proposed international operating authority for the strategic waterway.

Dulles discussed with the President a lengthy statement outlining the U.S. attitude toward the latest proposal to solve the vexing problem brought on by Egypt's nationalization of the private company operating the canal.

Mr. Eisenhower planned to fly back to Washington Friday after then obtaining a court order compelling the woman to the state hospital for psychiatric examination.

Massachusetts School Balks At Hiring Negro From Oregon

GLOUCESTER, Mass. (UP) — An Oregon man who was hired by mail to teach school here was given $1,000 and sent home when he proved to be a Negro.

City Councilman Manuel F. Lewis called today for a "complete public investigation" into the payment made last Thursday for transportation of the teacher, Warren McClure, 34, from his Eugene home to Gloucester and back.

No school official would say McClure's color influenced the decision to terminate his contract. However, Superintendent of Schools L. Munro Grandy acknowledged he did not know McClure was a Negro until the teacher arrived here.

McClure was hired by the school department at $4,300 a year. Because of Massachusetts antidiscrimination laws, the department could not request information as to his color on the application form.
