AAUW Grant Is Assigned

The named international fellowship grant of the Salem branch, American Association of University Women, has been assigned to a woman from the Netherlands, according to Mrs. H. E. Smedley and Mrs. Marvin Holland, Salem fellowship co-chairmen.

The Frances Pohle Utter grant of $500 will be combined with units from other states to provide a stipend of about $2000 to aid Elizabeth Steyn Parve, a chief scientific officer at the laboratory for physiological chemistry of the University of Amsterdam.

Miss Steyn Parve will work at the Institute for enzyme research at the University of Wisconsin.

For music, Miss Roberta Clemmens sang accompanied by Miss Donna Cunningham. Both are Willamette university students.

She received her doctorate in physical chemistry from the University of Amsterdam and became an assistant at the laboratory.

As a chemist in the Netherlands Red Cross, she investigated the postwar state of nutrition of the inhabitants of the former Dutch East Indies. Later she worked as a welfare officer in refugee camps there.

With two others, she moved to the Eykman Institute in Batavia in 1946 where, after reorganizing the chemistry department, they surveyed troops in Western Java. Miss Steyn Parve was appointed in 1952 as secretary of the scientific council for cancer research.

In her present capacity at the Amsterdam laboratory, she teaches biochemistry, and continues scientific research. She is the author of a number of publications in her field, and through her AAUW grant, will gain an uninterrupted period of research.

The grant assigned to her is similar to grants from Medford, Albany, Eugene, Portland, Klamath Falls and Pendleton. A ninth named fellowship from The Dalles will be combined with other funds for an American scholar, according to Mrs. William Niskanen, Bend, state fellowship chairman.

Grant holders receive directly the same amount of spending money, full living expenses and an additional $80 monthly for incidental expenses including books and holiday travel.
