Mink Trend Reported By Furriers

By GAY PAULEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK—We're sorry to break this news to husbands. But the odds are all in favor of mink for her new fur coat. Here's why, said spokesmen for the fur industry in New York, where 75 to 85 per cent of all fur garments are made.
The furriers have had their sales headaches since World War II, except in the mink division. And, as the demand for this luxury fur grew, the manufacturers who specialized in the less expensive and less glamorous muskrat, rabbit and skunk climbed on the mink bandwagon.
The result is an actual shortage of some furs. A spokesman at Fur Age, the weekly trade publication, said it wouldn't be "too fantastic to predict" that one day a woman would HAVE to wear mink because there wasn't much else around.
If this I-sigh-for-mink trend continues, that is.
The Mutation Mink Breeders Association reported that of the 974,000 fur garments made in 1955, 285,000 were mink—coats, stoles, jackets and smaller items. Mink accounted for 50 per cent of the 1955 sales total of $300 million, George Greenberg, executive manager of the Associated Fur Manufacturers, Inc. reported. Last year was the best the industry has had since 1946.

Fur Age just published a study which showed that for the fourth consecutive year there were more mink manufacturers than any other in the industry. In 1950, there were 656 mink specialists. Now there are 923.
The publication said manufacturers of Persian lamb, once the number one seller, have suffered most by women's expensive tastes. There also are fewer making muskrat, rabbit, kidskin and marmot.
Fur Age listed the top six furs—in sales, not in luxury—as mink, Persian lamb, muskrat, squirrel, Alaska seal and mouton.
SALEM TOASTMISTRESS club will meet Thursday at 6:30 instead of 8 o'clock, as previously announced, so that members may attend the reception for the new city manager and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Kent Mathewson at the Marion hotel. The regular meeting will be at the Golden Pheasant.

Miss Downs Is Bride

MONMOUTH (Special) — Miss Jean Downs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Downs, Valsezt, and Pvt. J.C. Ronald Bollot, son of Maurice Bollot, Monmouth, were married at the First Christian church on Saturday, September 15, with the Rev. Richard Owens performing the ceremony.
An uncle of the bride, Bud Downs, Valsezt, was the organist and the soloist was Ronald Eamons, Valsezt. Miss Jackie Shell, Silverton, cousin of the bride, and Miss Rosemary Bollot, Monmouth, sister of the bridegroom, in yellow and blue dresses, lighted the candles. Mrs. Joe Marsh, grandmother of the bride from Silverton, decorated the church.
The bride wore a long dress of white satin and Chantilly lace with seed pearls. She carried a white Bible with two orchids and streamers of stephanotis.
The maid of honor was Miss Pat Blair, Valsezt, and the bridesmaids were Miss Peggy Houston, Carlton, Miss Coleen Wright, Valsezt and Miss Beverly Birchell, Salem. They all wore blue and pink crystalline dresses and carried nosegays of white and pink asters with ribbon streamers.
Jack Cowan, Valsezt, was the best man and ushers were uncles of the bridegroom, Nick Blankenbaker, Corvallis, Jack Blankenbaker, Salem, and Bill Blankenbaker, Monmouth.
At the reception following, Miss Sharon Dahl, Valsezt, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the guest book. At the gift table were Mrs. Kenneth Hinkle, Salem; Miss Wanda Jo Blankenbaker, Monmouth, aunts of the bridegroom. Pouring coffee was Mrs. Ivan Blankenbaker, Monmouth, grandmother of the bridegroom and at the punch bowl was an aunt of the bride, Mrs. Elaine Schell, Silverton. Another aunt of the bride cut the cake, Mrs. Opal Dahl, Valsezt.
A special guest was Mrs. Ted Kubena, Dallas, aunt of the bridegroom, with whom he has made his home for several years.
The couple are now at home near Richland, Wash.
