British Jet Bomber Crashes at London Airport

Big Crowd Sees RAF Pride Fall

2 Survive, 4 Die; Plane Arriving From N.Z.

LONDON (AP) — A huge delta winged plane, one of Britain's secret atom bomb carriers, crashed and exploded in fog and rain at London Airport Monday before horrified dignitaries welcoming the plane home from New Zealand.

Four bodies were recovered from the smoking, flaming wreckage which littered the airport. Witnesses and a spokesman for the builders of the Vulcan, the A. V. Roe Co., said the canopy mysteriously came off the plane as it swooped in for a landing after its 26,000-mile, testing-proving flight to New Zealand and Australia.

Witnesses said the plane was flying at about 300 feet. Parachutes ceased them to the ground.

A company spokesman said that as the bomber approached the runway "it seems that it hit something, possibly an obstruction. He (the pilot) immediately turned his engines on to full power in an attempt to climb away but at this point, although he gained some height and went back into clouds, he recognized that the aircraft was out of control and, within seconds, gave the order to abandon ship."

The spokesman said there were no indications "whatsoever that anything was wrong with the bomber. All four engines were operating as usual."

Russians, Brass at Scene

A large group of Russians, at the airport to welcome Bolshoi Ballet dancers arriving from Moscow in Soviet jetliners, saw the crash. Nearby was a welcoming delegation from the Royal Air Force, the British government and families of the crew members.

Marshal Broadhurst had planned a news conference immediately after the landing to tell how the world's largest delta winged plane performed on its long flight.

UF Campaign Past $100,000 Mark Monday

United Fund collections rose to $100,743 Monday at the week's initial report luncheon at the Marion hotel. This is 44 per cent of the goal of $227,800 and a jump of some $15,000 over last Friday's final figures.

Chairman William Hammond urged leaders to concentrate their efforts during the next few days. He said this week will be the critical time for UF collections, which have lagged slightly behind those of a year ago.

Several division leaders, he explained, have waited until the first of the month before starting concentrated canvass efforts.

The Utilities division continues to lead the percentages with 88 per cent turned in. They have $7,661 out of a goal of $8,800.

Federal workers have contributed $779 of their $1,000 goal for 78 per cent. Industrial division has contributed $21,460 for 61 per cent of its $35,000 goal.

Other report luncheons are scheduled Wednesday and Friday at the Marion.

Death Toll Up to 5 in Hunt Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The death toll in Oregon's deer hunting season, which got underway at sunrise Saturday, stood at five Monday morning.

Three persons died of heart seizures, including Yamhill County Commissioner Charles Newman of McMinnville. One man was fatally wounded while preparing for a hunting trip.

And another man was dead from undetermined causes. He was Donald Barron, 20, Klamath Falls mill worker, who disappeared in the Lake of the Woods area near Klamath Falls Friday night.

Barron's three companions said he became separated from them. A huge search party combed the woods Saturday and Sunday and the body was found Sunday night by bloodhounds owned by Norman Wilson of Dallas.

Judge Upholds Book Dealers' Indictment

A decision issued Monday by Circuit Judge Geo. R. Duncan. The ruling was made in connection with demurrers filed by the defense.

This means that the two men will have to stand trial on the charge unless defense counsel decides to appeal Judge Duncan's ruling to the state supreme court.

No Decision on Appeal

At the offices of Scopl and Williams, defense attorney for Cummings, it was said that no decision would be made regarding an appeal until there was opportunity to study the decision.

Defense counsel in both cases held that the indictments were unconstitutional and that they were insufficient.

Indecencies of numerous kinds were penalized at common law and the publication of indecent books was made indictable and punishable, points out Judge Duncan in his decision.

He quotes precedent covered by a certain statute which held that "a statute penalizing 'any act' (without defining the act) which 'openly outrages the public decency' is injurious to public morals" was sufficient to sustain a conviction for operating a betting pool.

A reasonable degree of indecency is unavoidable in the criminal codes.

Word in Common Use

"The word indecent is a word in common use though its meaning varies within reasonable limits to fit the occasion. As applied to a book, it may generally be said to mean that which is unfit to be disseminated among the general public because it tends to coarsen and degrade the minds of its readers, or tends to suggest or induce immoral or lascivious thoughts or conduct."

"It is fair to assume that as a whole our adult population is comprised of individuals of ordinary experience, intelligence and moral sensibilities capable of distinguishing between decency and indecency, according to existing standards."

The indictments were returned a few weeks ago after a number of persons appeared before the jury. Mrs. John Pfeiffer of Silverton was the principal mover in the case and took a number of months to consider quantities of magazines and books which she presented in evidence.

Should Soviet-Yugoslav relations grow warmer, it is estimated that a billion dollars in "munist credits" and grants. Since relations with Tito began improving three years ago, the Soviet bloc has showered the Yugoslavs with economic benefits to compensate for the 1949 Stalin inspired boycott.

Train Hits Car, 2 Die At Gervais

Woodburn Couple Victims; One 79 And Other 81

GERVAIS (Special) — A train-car crash claimed the lives of an elderly Woodburn couple here about 6:30 p.m. Sunday.

Dead are Mr. and Mrs. Lothair C. Wood, 905 North Second St., Woodburn. Wood was 81, and his wife, Mary, was 79, the Marion county coroner's office reported.

Struck by Train

Witnesses said the Wood car was westbound when it was struck by a speeding Southern Pacific passenger train at the crossing near the depot. They were apparently killed outright. Wood was thrown from the car by the impact while the body of his wife was found under the car after the train came to a halt.

The Woods had been shopping and visiting in Gervais only a few minutes before the fatal accident, residents said. A number of townspeople were in the streets in midtown Gervais where the accident occurred. One resident told police he yelled at the Woods in an attempt to warn them of the oncoming train but they apparently didn't hear him.

Didn't See Train

The crossing offers a fairly good view to the south but the victims apparently failed to see the flashing headlight of the oncoming Klamath passenger train, officers said.

Funeral services will be Wednesday, October 3, at 10:30 a.m. from Ring-Cornwell chapel. Burial will be in Belle Passi cemetery.

Salem Youth On Hunt Dies As Car Rolls

An automobile accident Saturday claimed the life of a young Salem man en route to central Oregon on a deer-hunting trip.

Douglas Wray McKeever, 18-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray McKeever, 2015 Carlton Way, was killed when the car he was driving left the highway and went over an embankment about a mile west of the Santiam summit on U.S. Highway 20, state police reported.

Noland Rayford Raines, 2550 Shell Ave., Salem, a passenger in the car, escaped from the accident suffering only a bruised eye and shock, it was reported. He told authorities that he was asleep in the front seat when the accident occurred.

Raines reportedly was walking dazedly away from the wreckage when other deer hunters arrived at the scene from nearby. They were parked around the curve to the west of the scene when they heard the crash, they said.

Young McKeever and Raines had left on their hunting expedition about 3 a.m. and were on their way home about 11:30 a.m. when the accident happened, his parents said.

He was born April 13, 1938 at Sharon, Kansas, moving to Salem in July, 1946, with the family.

The victim is survived by his parents and a sister, Mrs. Gerald McKee, Pittsburgh, Pa. He was a 1955 graduate of North Salem high school.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Virgil T. Golden chapel with Rev. Lowell Holte of Grace Lutheran church officiating. Interment will be in Restlawn Memory Gardens.

LATE FLASHES

BINGEN, Wash. (AP) — A chimney sweep's long-handled brush contacted a 69,000-volt power line here Monday, killing the man outright. The victim, Walter Ziegele of Hood River, Ore., was on the roof of an automobile building preparing to clean a chimney.

BALTIMORE (UP) — Dr. Milton Eisenhower, the youngest brother of the President, was installed today as president of Johns Hopkins University and said he "has no political ambitions and does not aspire to the presidency."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interior Department announced today that William C. Strand, 45, director of information and special assistant to the secretary, had resigned to join the staff of the Republican National Committee. It was understood he probably would return to the department after the Nov. 6 election.

State Bureaus Seek Total of $710.6 Million

Budget Requests Above 1955 Appropriations By $91 Million

By JAMES D. OLSON Capital Journal Writer

Budget requests for the 1957-59 biennium filed by all state agencies totaled $710,611,377, Robert R. Johnson, director of the state department of finance announced Monday.

This is $91,032,327 more than was contained in the 1955-57 budget approved by the 1955 legislature.

Of the total requests, $277,072,941 came from agencies seeking appropriations from the general fund, while requests totaling $433,538,436 came from self-sustaining state agencies.

Big Increases Asked

Seven state agencies requested increases in budgets amounting in excess of $500,000. These total increases included the board of higher education, $14,867,399; department of welfare, $251,973; board of corrections, $8,764,037; military department, $1,583,860; state police, $684,910; state tax commission, $1,398,296, and Oregon Technical Institute, $2,524,956.

The budget, which will be presented by the governor to the 1957 legislature, will be greatly reduced if Gov. Elmo Smith's announced intention of presenting a balanced budget is carried out.

The budget division of the department of finance is now conducting hearings with various state departments, gathering data on the requests. Later the budget division and Director Johnson will go over the budget requests with the idea of trimming them in every possible way.

Go to Governor

The budget requests will go to the governor who will review the requests and possibly make further reductions.

Finally the budget will go to the legislature where, if past experience prevails, the recommended budget will be increased through the various appropriations made outside of the budget requests.

The latest report from the state tax commission indicates that income tax receipts for the biennium will be more than $35,000,000 above estimates made by the last legislature.

Says Paycheck Robbery Was Condoned

By MERRIMAN SMITH United Press White House Writer

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UP) — President Eisenhower, using the harshest words of his campaign, today accused the Democrats of condoning "paycheck robbery" by not doing enough to halt inflation.

He also accused them of filling the voters' heads with "wicked nonsense" about his administration and with "fancied lies" about the state of the nation.

And he said the last time they were in power "special favoritism, cronyism and laxity" reigned in Washington.

Opens Up First Time

Mr. Eisenhower's strong blasts at the opposition party were contained in a campaign address prepared for delivery today in Cleveland's broad Public Square. The speech marked the first time the Chief Executive has, in political parlance, fully "opened up" to the Democrats in this campaign.

He will follow it up with a second address tonight — a nationwide radio and television talk to be delivered at 8:30 p.m. from the University of Kentucky Coliseum in Lexington, Ky. It will be carried by the Columbia Broadcasting System.

More Speeches Added

The barbs used in today's address, coupled with a White House announcement Sunday that more speeches are being added to the President's itinerary, plainly showed Mr. Eisenhower is toughening up his campaign. The new speeches, the White House said, will be part of a campaign swing into Minnesota, Washington and Oregon Oct. 17-19.

In his attack today on the Democrats' handling of the inflation problem, Mr. Eisenhower said: "The men of the opposition know perfectly well that one of the main reasons they were thrown out of office four years ago was their tolerance of the thievery of inflation."

He said inflation cut the value of the average American's paycheck by one-third in a seven-year period, "yet the opposition did nothing to stop this economic thievery and they know it."

The record shows we — not they (Democrats) — have made the most successful fight to stop inflation's robbery of every paycheck," he said.

Denounces Democrats

In this industrial area where there are thousands of union members, Mr. Eisenhower also paid particular attention to labor. He denounced as "more than political bunk" and "willful nonsense" what he called the Democratic idea that Democrats "alone truly care for the working men and women of America and that the Republican Party is really a vague kind of conspiracy by big business to destroy organized labor and to bring hunger and torment to every worker in America."

This, the President said, is "wicked nonsense." To the contrary, he said, under the Republican administration, organized labor had grown in quantity and quality.

U.S. Destroyer President to Speak In Portland Oct. 18

Ike Will Spend 5 Hours in City On Tour

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The White House Sunday confirmed earlier reports that President Eisenhower will visit Portland Oct. 18.

His schedule, announced in Washington, calls for him to arrive at 3 p.m., drive to the Multnomah Hotel where a 5 p.m. reception will be held in his honor, then make a radio-TV address at 7:30 p.m. from the Civic Auditorium. After the talk, the President is to leave by plane for Washington.

While here, Eisenhower is expected to urge the election of Douglas McKay, Republican candidate for the Senate seat now held by Democratic Sen. Wayne Morse.

Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate, is due in Portland next week on his way to California.

McKay was to resume his active campaigning Monday after a Sunday rest. He has scheduled talks this week at Portland and will visit Washington, Douglas and Lane counties.

Morse, a former Republican, continued his campaigning Sunday with a statement claiming Democratic credit for such projects as Green Peter Dam.

"If I had remained on the Republican side of the aisle, with Republicans controlling the appropriations Committee of the Senate, not one cent would have been authorized for such projects as Green Peter, because of the opposition of the Eisenhower administration," he said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson disclosed today plans for an intensive campaign next week in California, with speeches in half a dozen cities, and in other far Western states.

In a bid for California's 32 electoral votes — exceeded only by New York's 45 and tied by Pennsylvania's quota — Stevenson plans speeches in Oakland, Richmond, Berkeley, Fresno, Long Beach and San Diego. Earlier this week he will speak in Great Falls, Mont., Boise, Idaho, Seattle, Wash., and Portland, Ore.

The Democratic presidential candidate, who returned to his campaign headquarters here early yesterday, attended Unitarian church services and then spent the day working on speeches he will make on an eastern swing starting tomorrow and conferring with aides.

Sen. Estes Kefauver, his running mate, said he and Stevenson agreed at a talk yesterday "the situation is looking fine, and we are making very good progress."

The Marion county clerk's office will remain open from 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week to accommodate persons who need to register for the November 6 general election.

The books will be closed as of 8 p.m. Oct. 6 and no further registrations will be taken after that time.

Clerk Henry Mattson emphasized that his offices will be open through the noon hour each day.

Registration has speeded up during the past few weeks, but it is evident that there are several hundred who have not taken care of this matter. Those who wait until the final day may be compelled to wait in line a considerable length of time.

Five hundred and ninety persons were registered Friday and Saturday at downtown banks and firms under the auspices of the League of Women Voters. Of the total, 302 registered as Republicans, 276 as Democrats and 13 declared themselves to be Independents.

Portland General Electric workers Monday finished returning power to a scattered few farm homes that were part of a large section of the Eola Hills and Spring Valley areas without power Sunday night after a pole on Wallace road was sheared off by a car.

Driver of the car was Mrs. Robert Hulbert, McMinnville, who told the Capital Journal Monday that her car hit the pole after trying to avoid another which had driven into her lane of traffic.

Mrs. Hulbert said she met the oncoming car as she started over a hill. In an attempt to avoid it she went into the ditch on her side of the road and continued in it for about two hundred yards.

She said that the car went out of control as she tried to get it back on the highway and went across the road shearing off the pole.

Mrs. Hulbert reported she was knocked unconscious. With her in the car were her two children, Douglas 7, and Susan, 4 1/2.

Wires from the downed pole fell on the car. Mrs. Hulbert said Driver of another McMinnville bound car pushed the wires off the car and took Mrs. Hulbert and her children to McMinnville.

Although badly bruised Mrs. Hulbert said she and the children did not sustain any other injuries.

Most of the residents of the area had power Sunday night following the 8:30 p.m. accident, PGE officials explained. But a few people retired early and did not discover and report the outage until Monday.

The area blacked out extended 10 miles north from West Salem and from Willamette river west into the Eola Hills. The car sheared off a PGE transmission pole carrying lines from Dayton to West Salem.

Power was restored about 11 p.m. but PGE workers spent a busy day repairing blown transformers and fuses.
