

High Court to Rule on Lawyer 2-Hour Sentence

Arguments in the appealed case of Spencer Yates, Roseburg attorney, who is under a 24-hour sentence for contempt of court, were heard Wednesday afternoon by the State Supreme Court. Yates was given the contempt sentence by Circuit Judge Carl Wimberly, Roseburg, after Yates allegedly described the judge's tone of voice as irascible in questioning a witness in a civil case. At the conclusion of the trial Judge Wimberly requested the Roseburg attorney to make a public apology but Yates refused.

The attorney spent a few hours in jail before being released on his notice of appeal to the supreme court. The famed Bow Bells of London's church of St. Mary-le-Bow, historic since the time of William the Conqueror, will soon be replaced. They were destroyed by Nazi bombs in World War 2.

Vote Due on Annexation of 20 Acre Area

Some 30 or more voters in an area of about 20 acres in the northeast Salem suburbs will vote on annexation to the City of Salem Friday. The proposed annexation area is located south of Silverton road, east of Lansing avenue, north of and including Hammel street. The Salem city council has already approved the annexation, following a favorable report from the City Planning commission. Polling booths have been installed by City Recorder Alfred Mundt at 3310 Silverton Rd., and will be open for voting from 2 to 8 p.m. Friday. The annexation proposal was initiated by petition circulated by A. H. Rogers and other property owners in the area. Widening of Hammel street was required by city officials before endorsement was given by the council.

Court Voids Suit On Basis of Old Time Water Rule

Holding that the plaintiffs had no legal claim to the water that flows down Mill creek, Judge George H. Duncan Wednesday afternoon allowed the defendant's motion for a nonsuit in the damage suit brought by Mr. and Mrs. Otto R. Nation against the state highway commission. The Nations had sought damages of $25,000, claiming that the diversion of water from Mill creek by the construction of the Salem bypass had virtually ruined the operation of Paradise Island, owned by the plaintiffs. The Commission's counsel delved into the records and came up with the information that back in 1837 a man-made channel diverted water from the Santiam river into Mill creek. The claim was advanced that this water does not belong to property owners living along the stream.

Richard Walker will manage the meat department and John Stron will handle the produce market. There will be 90 feet of frozen foods and ice cream in line with Erickson's idea that frozen foods will become even more popular than they are now. A complete bakery department with a variety of breads and pastries baked in Erickson's own bakery, will be a feature in the new store. The 12th Street store is the fourth Erickson market in the Salem area. Others are located on South Commercial Street, Portland Road and at Four Corners. In addition Erickson operates super-markets in Woodburn, Albany and McMinnville, two stores in Springfield, and four stores east of the mountains. "I selected the South 12th Street location because I felt the district was entitled to a modern supermarket and further because I believe that it is the fastest growing area in the city," Erickson said.
