Attacks Prepare Way for Canal Area Invasion

Arabs Cut Oil Sent To Europe

WASHINGTON, N.Y. (AP)—An emergency meeting of the U.N. General Assembly has been called for 5 p.m. (PST) Saturday night to deal with the British-French rejection of the Assembly's Middle East cease-fire.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House announced Saturday the United States will file two new resolutions with the United Nations General Assembly aimed at establishing "permanent peace" between Israel and its Arab neighbors and also working out "permanent arrangements" for continuous operation of the Suez Canal.

LONDON (AP)—Britain and France rejected Saturday the U.N. effort to halt their attack on Egypt. Their air forces opened up large scale attacks on highways, railroads and communications — paving the way for invasion.

At the same time, the Arab forces of the Middle East struck back. With the Suez Canal's closure cutting off oil shipments to Europe, Beirut received reliable information that a pipeline running across Syria to the Mediterranean had been blasted to put a further pinch on oil shipments.

Cairo had appealed earlier in the week to Arab workers to interfere with oil movement.

Egypt Claims Sinking

Egypt claimed in a communique broadcast from Damascus, that her coastal batteries had sunk a British troop carrier and another British vessel off Suez. Such claims are subject to reconstruction pending the receipt of additional information.

Egypt requested the United Nations to act immediately on the British-French defiance of the U.N. resolution calling for a cease-fire, and the U.N. planned a special meeting "as soon as possible" to deal with the rejection.

Iraq announced the dispatch of troops into Jordan — raising the possibility of a two-front war for Israel. Syrian forces also were reported rolling into Jordan, whose foreign minister declared there was a "fifty-fifty" chance of an immediate attack by Israel.

Canal Opening Planned

A French military spokesman said the allied ground forces would have as their first task the opening of the Suez Canal. He charged the Egyptians sabotaged the waterway by sinking six ships in it. The Egyptians have asserted that French-British air action blocked the canal.

Arabs struck a blow against western-owned oil installations. The pipeline of the British-owned Iraq Petroleum Co. in northern Syria was blown up in three places, reports from company employees received in Beirut. The line runs from Kirkuk, Iran to Baniyas on the Syrian Mediterranean coast.

Cairo radio has appealed to Arab workers to stop the vital flow of oil to the British and French. Their oil resources have already been hit by the blocking of the Suez Canal.

Prime Minister Eden, in rejecting the demand by 64 members of the United Nations for an immediate cease-fire, told Parliament: "There must be a continuation of the action."

Police Action

The French Foreign Ministry similarly said the "police action" must be carried out to halt Israeli-Egyptian hostilities threatening the canal.

Denying Laborite charges that Britain defies the United Nations, Eden said Britain wanted a U.N. force to keep the peace in Palestine. Hugh Gaitskell, Labor Party leader, accused Eden of gravely damaging the moral authority of the U.N.

Eden retorted that if the U.N. would build up an international force "to take practical action to meet a situation which cannot be met by passing resolutions, then I am sure the future of the U.N. will be assured and peace much strengthened."

CORRESPONDENTS MOVE

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—British Saturday flew its first war correspondents into the Mediterranean in preparation for the expected invasion of Egypt. Twenty-four newsmen, including two Americans — Leonard Ledington of the Associated Press and John Crider of International News Service — touched down at Athens en route from London to Allied forces headquarters in Cyprus.

59 Men Safely Out Of Mine After 40 Hours; 53 Remain

SPRINGHILL, Nova Scotia (AP)—Fifty-nine men were rescued from a coal mine here Saturday after being entombed for 40 hours. The first of the rescued men to reach the surface hauled 53 other men may have perished in last Thursday's massive explosion.

NIGHTMARE RIDE TAKEN

Two Hitchhikers In Custody of Police

A trip to a football game turned into a nightmare for a Tacoma man Friday night when he was robbed, heard two men calmly discussing methods of how they might kill him, was knocked unconscious and eventually escaped in Salem by staying calm and using his head.

One man was arrested by city police after a 100-mile-an-hour chase through city streets and another was later arrested by state police near the home of his parents near Corvallis.

Tommy Tyler Tilden, 37, Tacoma, said the whole affair started when he left his home Friday evening for Portland where he planned to attend the Saturday afternoon Oregon State-Washington football game.

Picked Up Hitchhikers

Near Olympia he picked up two hitchhikers who identified themselves at that time only as "Harry" and "Jesse James," he related. Police later identified them as Harry Hartman Shores, 21, and Jesse J. Riddle, both soldiers from Ft. Lewis. Both were being held Saturday for probable filing of auto theft and robbery charges in Multnomah county.

Tilden said he drove on to Vancouver where he looked for a sister who was supposed to meet him at a restaurant. They were unable to find her, he said, so he drove around awhile, had a few beers in a tavern and then drove some more.

Demo Senators Attack Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Six Democratic members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee charged Friday that "four years of indecision, tactlessness, timidity and bluster" by the Eisenhower administration helped precipitate the current Middle East crisis.

In a statement, the six said the British-French-Israeli military move against Egypt is this country's "worst diplomatic disaster in memory" — a disaster which will be a disaster for the Eisenhower administration policies might have averted.

The statement came from Sens. Green (RI), Fulbright (Ark), Sparkman (Ala.), Humphrey (Minn.), Mansfield (Mont) and Morse (Ore)—all of the Democrats on the committee except George (Ga) and Long (La).

The six said they are in total agreement with the Democratic Presidential nominee, Adlai Stevenson, that "President Eisenhower's Middle East policy has failed and that it has reached 'an absolute dead end.'"

AEC Brands as Untrue Adlai's Statement on Fallout Studies

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration Saturday described as "false" and "untrue" statements by Adlai Stevenson about a 1964 Atomic Energy Commission study of ways to purify milk contaminated by radioactive fallout.

The White House released an AEC statement which said it was "untrue" that the administration was so concerned about fallout from H-bomb tests that it considered, in AEC's words, "large scale purification of our milk supplies."

Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the AEC, who signed the statement, said actually a study was made "to determine the feasibility of purifying milk if it ever were contaminated by fallout should we be attacked by an enemy using atomic weapons."

Strauss also described as "false" Stevenson's charge that the project was kept secret. The AEC chairman said the study has been available to the public since last year, having been distributed by the Commerce Department and placed in the AEC's 49 libraries throughout the country.

"Mr. Stevenson's continuous efforts to frighten the public on the eve of the election are not admirable," Strauss said.

James C. Hagerly, White House press secretary, handed out the AEC paper. He described Stevenson's statement, issued Friday in Cleveland, as "amazing" and said he had asked the AEC to detail the facts.

The Democratic presidential candidate had said he received "direct evidence," from Dr. Francis A. Graham of St. Louis that "in August, 1964, the Atomic Energy Commission undertook to investigate methods of removing radioactivity from milk."

Stevenson and Graham had informed him "the Eisenhower administration considered the danger from strontium 90 in our food serious and worthy of urgent attention, but kept this fact from the American public."

Gov. Smith praised Collins for his service on the board and thanked him for his constructive contributions.

Portland Man Appointed to Parole Board

Governor Elmo Smith Saturday announced the appointment of James J. (Jimmy) Richardson of Portland as a member of the state board of parole and probation.

Richardson will fill the unexpired term of Harry V. Collins of Salem who resigned effective December 1, because of plans for prolonged absences from the state. Richardson will retire on December 31 after serving for 29 years as general manager of the Multnomah Athletic club and Multnomah stadium.

Operation On Dulles Reported

State Secretary Suffers From Appendicitis

WASHINGTON (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was operated on for acute appendicitis, the State Department announced today.

Dulles was rushed to the Army's Walter Reed medical center at 4 a.m. (PDT) after suffering stomach pains during the night.

The first announcement of the 68-year-old secretary's illness said he was "resting comfortably" and transacting diplomatic business by telephone from his hospital suite.

The State Department said prior to the operation announcement the "provisional diagnosis" had been appendicitis. This diagnosis was not made definite even in the operation bulletin which read:

"The Secretary of State will undergo within the hour an operation based on the provisional diagnosis of acute appendicitis."

From his hospital suite, Dulles talked with President Eisenhower by telephone for about 10 minutes before he underwent surgery.

The White House announced afterwards that the United States would disclose a new move in the Middle East crisis this afternoon.

Dulles was awakened this morning by stomach pains. Two physicians were summoned to his home.

The secretary returned Friday from New York where he played a leading role in the all-night United Nations General Assembly session which resulted in adoption, 65-4, of a ceasefire request in the Egyptian fighting.

Dulles is occupying the Walter Reed president's suite where Mr. Eisenhower stayed during his illness operation and convalescence last June.

Dulles' illness was disclosed by the State Department at mid-morning.

Ad Executives End Two-Day Session Here

Over 50 advertising executives representing 30 daily newspapers in the Northwest ended their annual Pacific Northwest Newspaper Advertising Association meeting in Salem Saturday afternoon after two days filled with activity.

On Friday, they heard Gerry Frank, manager of Meier & Frank store, urge them to work together with retail merchants to "save" downtown shopping areas.

Ross Johnson, manager of the Eugene Register Guard classified advertising department, told the group that classified columns in a newspaper are read as closely as news stories.

Robert Clark, Longview Daily News, Wash., was given an award for the best advertising campaign developed by a newspaper salesman in the Pacific Northwest.

Other awards went to the Tacoma News-Tribune for best promotion idea, Vancouver Sun for best color ads, and Oregon Journal, Portland, for best overall exhibit.

A skill concerning the trained and untrained retail ad salesman was presented to the group by E. A. Brown, Statesman-Journal-Advertising Director, assisted by Larry Rizer and Arthur Schick of his advertising staff.

Nice Weather In Prospect

Bright blue skies and sunshine prevailed in Salem for most of Saturday with promise there would be more of the same, Sunday. Late night and early morning fog was the only mar in prospect for the near-perfect late fall weather for the valley.

A high of around 60 is called for Sunday. The Friday maximum in Salem went only to 51 but the Saturday mark was due to go higher with the afternoon warming.

Weather reports gleaned from around the state revealed late weather is due in all areas over the weekend.

Russ Promise No More Reinforcements Will Go Across Hungary Border

Tempo Stepped Up As Election Nears

UNITED STATES, N.Y. (AP)—The United States called on the U. N. Security Council Saturday to order Russia to halt immediately "any form of intervention" in the internal affairs of Hungary.

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—Radio Budapest announced a Soviet military delegation promised Saturday that no more Russian reinforcements will cross the border into Hungary.

Generals of the Soviet and Hungarian armies had begun discussing what a Hungarian government spokesman called "technical details of the withdrawal of Russian troops from Hungary."

Recessing late Saturday, the generals agreed to resume their discussion Sunday night.

The Hungarian government proposed the talks Friday and Soviet Ambassador Yuri V. Andropov accepted.

The Russians now surround Budapest, hold the international airport in the capital, plus several other airbases, and have blocked the main road from Budapest to Austria.

Hungary was seeking United Nations help as Soviet troops maneuvered within the country.

Premier Imre Nagy, who held his post in a government shake-up Saturday, sent his second appeal in two days to the U.N. urging action on his request that the world body guarantee Hungarian independence.

Maj. Gen. Pal Maleter, rebel hero of the Hungarian insurrection, look over the Defense Ministry in a reorganization of the Hungarian government announced by Radio Budapest.

Nagy will continue to head the government as premier and foreign minister.

A Hungarian spokesman said no reports have been received Saturday of fresh Russian reinforcements entering the country. Two armored divisions came in from the Soviet Union Thursday and some small units Friday.

"But," the spokesman added, "there are enough troops in Hungary now to destroy the whole country if they wished."

Robber Takes $260 in Salem Store Holdup

The second robbery in Salem within a week netted the thief about $260 Friday night, city police reported.

The thief held up the Cover Girl women's apparel shop, 190 North Liberty St., as the firm was preparing to close about 9 p.m., the officers were told by Mrs. Aleck Cohen and Mrs. Edna Phelps, partners in the store.

Mrs. Cohen told officers the man walked to the rear of the store where she was working and ordered her to "get behind the counter and give me all the bills."

She cleaned out the cash register at his direction and gave him the money, she related. The amount included about $200 in cash and the remainder in checks, she said.

The thief didn't actually show a gun, Mrs. Cohen said, but he held his hand in his topcoat pocket with something pointed at her that looked like it might be a gun.

He left after warning her and Mrs. Phelps to wait five minutes before doing anything. There was no one else in the store at the time, the women said.

The robber walked out the front door and turned around the corner onto Court street, they said.

The robber was described as about 35 to 40 years old and dark-haired. Brown women said he appeared to have been drinking.

Police said there appeared to be no connection with the holdup of the Safeway store at 12th and Center streets last Saturday night. Descriptions and methods of operating by the two men did not match, they said.

Ike Ahead 2 to 1, McKay Has Edge in Capital Journal Poll

Final results of the Capital Journal straw vote project today gave President Eisenhower a lead over Adlai Stevenson by a little better than two to one, but with Mark Hatfield receiving the highest total vote and the largest majority, over his opponent for secretary of state, Monroe Sweetland.

Fifteen high schools and four colleges participated in the vote, together with several Salem civic organizations. Votes were taken for three weeks on the Capital Journal's business office counter and last Monday night votes were secured in five Salem stores.

All the votes were decisive except for U. S. senator where Douglas McKay defeated Wayne Morse by only 204 majority out of 7570 votes cast for their office. Largest vote was 7667 for president. The figures follow:

For President: Eisenhower 3149, Stevenson 2518.

For U. S. Senator: McKay 2077, Morse 3392.

For Congress: Lee 2578, Norblad 4839.

For Governor: Holmes 2845, Smith 4708.

For Secretary of State: Hatfield 5188, Sweetland 2390.

Last votes to come in Friday afternoon were from Central high school of Independence and Monmouth which gave majorities to three Democrats. Its vote was: President, Eisenhower 135, Stevenson 112; congress, Lee 137, Norblad 127; governor, Holmes 144, Smith 121; secretary of state, Hatfield 141, Sweetland 108.

Blizzard Edges Over Plains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A powerful blizzard, now more than 36 hours old, edged slowly northward over the western plains states Saturday with slightly diminished force, leaving at least four persons dead.

The snowfall ceased during the night at Imperial, in southwest Nebraska, and wind velocities elsewhere in the storm area dropped from peaks of around 75 miles an hour to velocities of 25 to 32 miles per hour in Nebraska and South Dakota.

Snow still was falling in the Nebraska panhandle, northeastern Colorado, southeastern Montana and southwestern North Dakota.

The slackening wind brought hopes that snow plows would be able to go to work on drifts piled up by a fall of six to 12 inches.
