

Wedding Saturday At Church

Wed Saturday evening at the First Methodist church were Miss Barbara Jocelyn Anderson, daughter of Mrs. Lorena C. Anderson, Salem, and Homer Delbert McKean, Yakima, Wash., son of Mrs. Gertrude Boggie, Lebanon. Dr. Brooks H. Moore performed the ceremony at 8 o'clock.

Baskets of gold and yellow chrysanthemums and two candelabras with yellow candles decorated the church. Josef Schaefer was organist and Dr. Paul Trueblood sang. Lighting the tapers were Misses Janet Shumway, cousin of the bride, and Judy Haynes of Bend.

The three attendants and candle-lighters all wore forest green princess style, waltz length crystallite dresses, with scoop necklines. They wore matching satin shoes and ruffled headbands, and their colonial bouquets were of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums.

Wed 65 Years—Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Hassler, above, recently observed their 65th wedding anniversary at Lebanon.

65th Anniversary for Mr. Mrs. Hassler

LEBANON (Special)—The 65th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Hassler was celebrated by relatives and close friends quietly at their home at Milton street Sunday. Both were born in Linn county of early-day pioneer families.

Mr. Hassler and Miss Ivy Charlton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Charlton, were married near Crabtree November 1, 1891. They lived near Lacombe until they retired from farming about 38 years ago, and moved to Lebanon, where Hassler served on the city council for eight years.

Their three children are Lloyd C. Hassler of Spokane, Mrs. O. J. Downing of Salem and Van C. Hassler of Lebanon. They have three grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.
