

NCAA Council Ponders New Crackdowns on Schools

Probations or Bans Awaiting Violators

Texas A&M and Miami Request Reviews

DETROIT (AP)—College athletic officials, mindful of the plight of 11 wayward schools, waited apprehensively Tuesday for possible new crackdowns by the powerful council of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn.

The council, policy directing body of the NCAA, was expected to announce any disciplinary action against member schools accused of violating the NCAA code.

Penalties against the offending schools could mean probation for one to three years and a ban against participation in all events sponsored by or affiliated with the NCAA.

May Review Penalties

The council also was expected to act on requests by Texas A&M and the University of Miami to review penalties that would keep their football teams from accepting any post-season bowl bids.

The 16 members of the 18-man council who attended the opening session Monday heard a report by the NCAA's infractions committee, which reviewed its latest investigation of accused violators of NCAA regulations.

Chairman A. D. Kirwan, a faculty representative from the University of Kentucky delivered the report, which was not made public. Kirwan revealed, however, that his committee had checked on a larger number of reported violations this year than at any other time in recent years.

Being Disciplined

Eleven schools currently are under NCAA disciplinary action. Six of them are on probation and are ineligible for all 14 NCAA events and the 25 cooperating events, including post-season bowl contests. They are Texas A&M, Miami, the University of Florida, Auburn, UCLA and the University of Washington.

The University of Louisville is on probation and ineligible for NCAA basketball tournaments and cooperating basketball events.

Four—Oklahoma, St. Louis, Mississippi College and Kansas—are on probation but are eligible for all athletic events.

Kirwan said most athletic administrators now recognize that "the free ride" has become the accepted thing for star athletes.

"If we are going to give room, board, tuition, books and a limited amount of spending money, all right," he said, "but let's not go beyond that."

Olympics to Begin in 9 Days; Hungarian Nationals Up Flag

Yanks to Enter Warmup Meet Wednesday

MELBOURNE (AP)—The red, white and green nationalist flag of Hungary was raised at the Olympic Village Tuesday in an uneventful official ceremony belying the international tensions still threatening the games, scheduled to begin in nine days.

In direct contrast to Monday's demonstration by Hungarian expatriates during which the Communist Hungarian banner was torn down and slashed with a knife, some 60 athletes and officials stood quietly as the traditional flag went up.

The chief of the Hungarian delegation, Julius Hegyi, had said earlier that the change of flag was ordered before he left his country. At the time, nationalists temporarily were in power and Hegyi said he since had received no instructions to restore the Communist flag.

Can't Be Separated

But while calm surrounded the flag-raising ceremony, there were renewed indications that the International Olympic Committee would be unable to divorce the games from world politics as it had hoped.

There were these developments:

1. A spokesman for Syria's Olympic Committee said the Arab States will ask the IOC to ban Britain, France and Israel from participating in the games on grounds that "Anglo-French-Israeli aggression against Egypt constitutes a serious contravention of international ethics, principles and traditions."

2. A Swedish member of the IOC admitted that five Scandinavian countries—Sweden, Norway, Finland, Denmark and Iceland—plan a meeting soon to consider the Suez crisis, but said that as of now they plan to compete.

3. Hegyi, himself, refused to answer questions on the subject of whether Hungarian athletes would compete against the Russians.

To Enter Meet

Egypt had suggested recently that the committee ban Britain, France and Israel and the Syrian announcement was in the nature of confirming that all the Arab states will back the move.

On the almost forgotten athletic side, part of the U.S. Olympic track and field team went through final preparations for its Australian debut Wednesday. An invitational meet will be held at Geelong, a seaside resort 50 miles west of here and Jim Kelly, head coach of the U.S. forces, said he would enter men in the high jump, pole vault, shotput, high hurdles, sprint relays and middle distance runs.

Among the Americans named were shot-putter Parry O'Brien, pole-vaulter Bob Richards, sprinters Andy Stanfield, Leonard King, and Ira Murchison and hurdler Jack Davis.

Vladimir Kuts, Russia's outstanding distance runner, will compete in a special 2-mile run against Australia's flying milkman, Dave Stephens, and American steeplechaser Phil Coleman and Deacon Jones. A 1000-meter race will pit Australia's Jim Binley against Uncle Sam's Jerome Walters and New Zealander Murray Halberg.

Washington Running May Beat Stanford

Witte vs. Wiggin Arguments Persist

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—If past performance is any indication, Stanford can just about forget pass defense when it meets Washington's Huskies at Palo Alto Saturday.

Washington simply doesn't pass—at least to hear Husky publicist John Thompson tell it. Coach Darrell Royal backs almost entirely on rushing off the split-T formation.

The Huskies, Thompson informed Northern California football writers Monday, completed only three passes against UCLA last week—the only time since the Minnesota game Sept. 29 they've hit on more than two.

Rushing is another matter. Stanford Coach Chuck Taylor said his souts told him the Indians can't afford to let any Washington backs get loose. "They're awfully dangerous," he commented.

Split Unfamiliar

"The split-T will be unfamiliar to us, since Washington is the only Coast team using it," he added.

Taylor's Rose Bowl hopes vanished Saturday under a 20-19 Oregon State victory, but he said his Indians played one of his best all-around games against the Beavers. He settled, in his own mind at least, the relative merits of Oregon State tackle John Witte and Stanford's All-America Paul Wiggin.

"After viewing the pictures of the game," Taylor said, "I'll go along with Wiggin as the best we've seen or played against all season."

Oregon State Coach Tommy Prothro covered a little more time: "Witte is the best tackle, offensively and defensively. I've ever seen." And on the comparison with Wiggin: "...they played nose-to-nose and Witte took Wiggin on either side. It didn't matter."

Coach Jack Myers of College of the Pacific had his own version of the Wiggin-Witte comparison. He said he wouldn't take either of them for his own John Nisby.

COP faces pass-happy Hardin-Simmons Saturday at Stockton.

Coach Pappy Waldorf said his California Bears expect a strong running and passing attack from Washington State at Berkeley. WSC is coached by Jim Sutherland, a former Waldorf assistant.

Pappy commented that despite Cal's 20-7 loss to Southern California, the Bears played better in the first half than they have all year. The defeat, he said, resulted from a blocked punt, an intercepted pass and a Trojan pass play on which the ball went over the head of the intended receiver but was caught by another man.

Damaged Beavers Meet Idaho Next

2 Starting Ends, Tackle, Guard Are Injured

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Oregon State College, the No. 11 team nationally in the Associated Press poll, will go into its important football game with Idaho at Moscow Saturday lacking its two starting ends.

Coach Tommy Prothro, assessing the damage in the Stanford game which Oregon State won to become a favorite for the Rose Bowl, said a knee injury would keep Bob DeGrant on the sidelines and a shoulder separation would keep Norm Thiel out of play.

Other knee injuries will keep tackle Ernie Zwahlen and guard Vernon Ellison out, too.

Prothro said he thought the team, while not "high" for its meeting with Idaho had too much pride to let down.

Looks "Dismal"

At Moscow, Idaho coach Skip Stahley said the outlook for the game with OSC was "only slightly more dismal than it was for the last three games." And Idaho, after losing four straight, came back to win its last three games.

There were no injuries on the Idaho squad in its 42-20 win over Utah State, Stahley said when he gave the players a brief workout Monday.

Oregon lacked only end Bruce Bregan as it worked out Monday for a Saturday game in Portland against the University of Southern California. He was out with a leg cut.

USC, which defeated California 20-7 Saturday, was said by coach Jess Hill to have "finally jelled" as a late season team after losing Jon Arnett and other seniors limited to five games.

Fullmer Flying East to Train

'Deacon' to Ready for Title Bout Against Ray Robinson

WEST JORDAN, Utah (AP)—Gene Fullmer, named for former heavyweight champ Gene Tunney and fighter most of his life, flies to New York City today for the house of his dreams.

He meets middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson for the title Dec. 12 in Madison Square Garden.

Fullmer laid off his job as an apprentice welder two weeks ago and last night fed his 25 mink for the last time until he returns home.

The valuable mink are the gift of his manager Mary Jensen, who operates a large mink ranch here.

Fullmer says he hopes to raise the animals full time when he returns from the ring.

Called the Deacon

The "Deacon"—he got his nickname in the Army because he is a member of the Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) Church and never drinks or smokes—is only 25 but has been fighting for 17 years.

"His folks decided before he was born he was to be a boy and a fighter," Jensen says. "He started fighting in exhibitions when he was 8."

Speaking of the Robinson scrap, Jensen said:

"Fullmer will be aggressive for three minutes of every round. He's going to keep the pressure on all the way. We are figuring on 15 rounds at top speed. If it stops earlier, so much the better."

"It's no secret we'll concentrate on a body attack. We won't box him—you don't box a master. We're going in there and work those 36 years off Robinson."

Title Beckons Boardman, 20

DeMarco Decided But Win Costs Injuries

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Larry Boardman feels he could lick lightweight champion Joe Brown today but the sensational young fighter from Marlboro, Conn., says he isn't in any hurry for the title fight.

The 20-year-old Boardman says he wants to go on learning lessons like the one he picked up last night in defeating roughhouse Paddy DeMarco. He met one of the toughest tests for a young fighter—how to combat a mauler, a guy who makes you look bad even when you win.

DeMarco, the former lightweight champion from Brooklyn, used every roughhouse trick in the book. He maul ed, pushed, grabbed, tackled, hit on the break and charged in his famous "billy goat" style. Referee Dave Beloff took the fourth round from Paddy for attempting to punch as Boardman fell forward on a push.

Through it all, Boardman kept his head. He smashed DeMarco with rights and lefts from long range and refused to be goaded into fighting Paddy's style. In the fifth round, the hard-punching Boardman caught DeMarco flush on the chin, sending him to the canvas.

As a result, Boardman received the unanimous vote of the two judges and the referee. The point spreads announced were 48-39, 49-41 and 49-39, an easy though personal victory for Assa's top-ranked lightweight contender.

Toutle Lake Beats Bucks

TOULETE LAKE, Wash. (Special)—St. Paul's Buckaroos outgained and outscored Toutle Lake's 6-man football team for three quarters here Monday, only to lose 44-33 when the home club exploded for 29 points in the last period.

It was a non-league game for both teams, but they played neck and neck in the first half. The second period ended with an 18-16 tie. St. Paul went ahead in the third quarter, scoring 15 points to Toutle Lake's 6, but the home team dominated the fourth quarter to win going away.

Terry Kirk was the St. Paul star, scoring two touchdowns. Duane Brentano, Richard Kock and Dave Schneider each got one for the losers.

St. Paul	6 12 15 0-33
Toutle Lake	6 12 6 20-44

Roy Simmons has coached Syracuse University lacrosse teams for the last 25 campaigns.

Capital Trophy To Go Tonight To Silver Foxes

SILVERTON (Special)—Silverton high will receive the 1956 Capital conference football trophy tonight in one of the main events scheduled for the loop's annual dinner meeting.

Coaches and school officials from the league's teams will be present for the meeting, scheduled for Tony's cafe at 6:30 p.m. Schools represented will include Silverton, Cascade, Gervais, Stayton, Serra Catholic, North Marion, Woodburn and Mt. Angel.

Also on the agenda will be the selection and announcement of the league's all-star team for the next season. Plans for the coming basketball season as well as spring sports for the Capital conference will be discussed.

French Horse Wins $70,000

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—Master Boing, French winner of $70,000 in yesterday's International race, is going after American money soon as a steady diet.

The 3-year-old was sold quickly after the race for $10,000 by Andre Lumbard of Paris to N. B. Hunt, Dallas oilman, and Edward L. Stephenson, Warrenton, Va., thoroughbred breeder.

The new owners already have the next $100,000 race picked out for the brown colt who showed his fine French heels to nine other horses from six countries. It is the San Juan Capistrano, a grass race like the International, March 9 at Santa Anita, Calif.

French horses now have scored two of the most impressive victories in the International. Master Boing won by a masterful five lengths. Worden took it by six lengths in 1953.

For the fourth time in the five Internationals, the betting public of 33,615 made an American horse the favorite. This time it was Mrs. Jan Burke's Dedicate, who finished fifth.

Despite uncelebrated optimism of the French camp and an advance tip on Master Boing by the astute jockey Eddie Arcaro, the winner got away at odds of $18.20 for $2.

Llangollen Farin's Mister Gus of the United States was second, Prince Certaud, an Australian campaigner making his first start for American owner Forest Smith Jr. of Los Angeles, came in third; and C. V. Whitney's Fisherman with Arcaro was fourth.

Taylor Rates OSC's Durden As One of Finest He's Seen

Tops Arnett or Peaks; Lauds 2 Others

By HENRY RIEGER
United Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—You can have USC's Jon Arnett, your Michigan State's Clarence Peaks and all the rest of the All-America "nominees" but Stanford's Coach Chuck Taylor will take Oregon State's wingback Earnel Durden "as one of the finest backs I've ever seen."

And chucking Chuck, who never picks his ball club to lose a game, is a rarity in collegiate football ranks, should know.

It was Durden who all but single footed (actually he has two feet) defeated Stanford 20-19 in the Rose Bowl decider (PCC end of the decision) at Palo Alto last Saturday.

In OSC's first TD drive it was erstwhile Earnel who racked up 46 yards of the 30 yard drive. And when the Arrow Secc chips were down in the final period, it was once again Earnel who ran 39 yards down the sideline after taking a wobbly swing pass from Paul Lowe to set up OSC's second score.

If anyone should know an All-American candidate when he sees one, it is Taylor.

No Remarks

He whispered MSU's Pauls but his linemen put him through a human meatgrinder early in the season. And he was present when the same line stalled All American Arnett two weeks ago.

But his club had no remedy for the speedy OSC sophomore from Los Angeles.

All Taylor could say, in retrospect to the Northern California Football Writers Association Monday, was an awe. "He's one of the finest backs I've ever seen" in talking about Durden.

Admitting that Durden was the best of the Beaver bouncers, he also had some nice things to say about a couple of other OSC backs.

"It was Lowe (sophomore tailback) who broke our back early in the fourth quarter with his unbreakable 10-yard run through our entire team, and tailback Joe France was almost as effective."

Lowe's TD put OSC back in the ball game and all but cinched a Rose Bowl bid for the club from Corvallis.

Taylor told the local grid scribers his team had "no excuses" in losing to OSC.

Best Effort

As a matter of fact, he said, "It was our best all-around effort of the year. It was our best game."

"We just met a set of sensational backs which we were unable to stop when it counted," he said. While spending most of his time praising Tommy Prothro's boys from OSC, he had some All-American

Taylor Rates OSC's Durden As One of Finest He's Seen

"John Brodie (Stanford quarterback who leads the nation's collegiate passers) played his top game of the year," he said. Brodie completed 19 of 31 passes for 223 yards and keyed all three Stanford touchdowns.

He also had All America comments for his big tackle, Paul Wiggin, who also "played the best game of his career."

Mention of All America tackle nominees touched an avalanche. Every coach, or collegiate tub thumper at the meeting, came up with his A-A tackle choice.

John Witte, OSC senior who played head-to-head Saturday, had his champions as did Washington's George Krueger, College of Pacific's John Nisby and "little" San Francisco State's Floyd Peters.
