

Jaycee Speech Contest Won by Kenneth Savage

South Salem Student Takes Democracy Voice Event

A South Salem high school student was selected Tuesday as winner of the 10th annual voice of Democracy speaking contest sponsored by the Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Winner is Kenneth Savage, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Savage, 1540 South Cottage St., who spoke on "The Song of Democracy."

The winner was in competition with representatives of four other Salem high schools who were so close that judges decline to place them in order.

Other students participating were Gloria Koch, Sacred Heart; Shirley Newfield, Salem academy; Wanda Noel, North Salem and Daniel Ritter, Serra.

For winning the contest Savage will receive a portable radio as well as a certificate and a Voice of Democracy key.

Judging the contest, staged at the KSLM studio, were Gene Hickman, Carl Ritchie and the Rev. Joseph Harding.

The Blue Heaven motel in the 3600 block of South Commercial St., owned by Del S. Burdick, Eugene, was exchanged for a farm and rest home in Brooks, an apartment house at 1935 Center St., and a home in Manbrin Gardens, all owned by George A. and Nell Bathman.

Negotiations for the property trade were handled by Don Douglas, Realtors.

Young Prince Plays Soccer With 31 Boys

LONDON (AP) — Eight-year-old Prince Charles, heir to the British throne, has risked his royal shins in a rough and tumble soccer game with 31 of his young future subjects.

The game took place yesterday at a day school in southwest London where, it is rumored, the young prince will enroll next year. Up to now he has been tutored privately at Buckingham Palace.

Charles arrived at the playing field in a black sedan, wearing the school uniform, apparently to keep him from being conspicuous. The school headmaster acted as referee.

Charles left in his car while the others were still playing.

Reed College Fetes Griffin

PORTLAND (AP) — Dr. Frank Loxley Griffin, retiring president of Reed College, was honored Tuesday night at a testimonial dinner.

Reed faculty and alumni gathered to praise the 75-year-old mathematician who was called from retirement two years ago to head the college. He was succeeded recently by Dr. Richard H. Sullivan.

Reed trustees announced the establishment of a "Griffin chair of mathematics" in recognition of Griffin's many years as head of the college mathematics department. The trustees said a $250,000 endowment will be set up to provide income for "a distinguished mathematician to head the department."

Seattle Red Hearing Set

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rep. Doyle (D-Calif.), a member of the House Un-American Activities committee, said Tuesday the group has scheduled a two-day hearing in Seattle next month in connection with a probe of alleged Communist-front organizations on the West Coast.

Doyle said 25 witnesses had been subpoenaed from the Portland and Seattle areas to appear at the Seattle sessions Dec. 13-14. The committee, Doyle said, also planned hearings in Los Angeles and San Francisco. Rep. Walter (D-Pa.) is chairman of the committee.

Burglary, Theft at Silverton Studied by Sheriff's Office

The sheriff's office is investigating a case of burglary in a dwelling at Hobart Road about two miles east of Silverton. The house was received today.

The burglary occurred at a house owned by the Cyrus Onizley estate of Hobart Road about two miles east of Silverton. The house was entered by removing the mauling from around a rear door and forcing the lock. A wood heater and a swing rocker were the only things taken from the house.

Many tools were not molested.

Keizer Youths Admit Drop of Dirt Upon Car

Three Keizer boys, two of them 12 and one 13, have admitted to a deputy sheriff that they dropped the hat full of dirt from the Chevonne overpass onto a passing car on the Ballock Freeway, Saturday, resulting in a shattered windshield on the car and injury to an occupant.

The boys appeared in juvenile court Wednesday with their parents. The boys said they dropped rocks on other cars while they were on a Boy Scout hike.

They found a plastic hat under the overpass, they said, and filled it with dirt.

It fell on the car driven by Bernard Mainwaring. The impact broke the windshield and flying glass injured Mrs. Mainwaring.

Meningitis Case Found Improved, Still in Danger

Four and a half year old George Schroeder, who was hospitalized Sunday with meningitis, was said to be improved Wednesday by his doctor, but was still not out of danger, the doctor said.

The little boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Schroeder, 3037 Hulsey Ave, was taken to the Salem General hospital after becoming ill at home on Sunday.

Dr. Willard Stone, Marion county health officer, said Wednesday no new cases of meningitis had been reported. An eight-month old child, Richard E. Bouchie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forest E. Bouchie, Turner, died of another form of meningitis after a brief illness.

Death Comes To Mrs. Reed At Home Here

Mrs. Ruth Leavitt Reed, whose father was one of Oregon's early physicians, died Tuesday at the Methodist home here. She had made her home there for the past 14 years, coming here from Portland.

Born Feb. 9, 1878, at Fennimore, Wis., Mrs. Reed was the daughter of Dr. Justin Joseph Leavitt and Ruth Crook Leavitt. With her parents she moved from Wisconsin to Jefferson, Ore., in 1885. They moved from there to Molalla and later to Portland.

A graduate of Willamette university, Mrs. Reed went on to receive a degree from the University of Washington. She taught 10 years in the Vancouver, Wash., schools, first in the grade school and then the high school, before her marriage in Portland, March 25, 1912, to McClellan Reed. Her husband preceded her in death about 13 years ago.

Mrs. Reed was active in the educational missionary program of the Methodist Episcopal church and served for 10 years, about 1930-1940, as state president of the Oregon Women's Missionary Society.

Surviving is a brother, Charles Leavitt of Portland.

Funeral services for Mrs. Reed will be held at the W. T. Rigdon chapel Friday at 1:30 p.m. with Rev. Burton C. Bastus officiating. Interment is to be at the Riverview cemetery, Portland.

Gas Rationing Stirs British Truck Strike

LONDON (AP) — A thousand truck drivers struck Wednesday to protest a decision taking 10 per cent of the government's industrial vehicles off the road because of the nation's fuel crisis.

The drivers are employees of the nationalized British Road Service (BRS). They haul general goods and foodstuffs other than meat.

It was the second walkout in two days to threaten costly losses in food and other industries since the government moved to meet the fuel shortage resulting from closure of the Suez Canal.

Even before the government announced Tuesday night that gasoline and fuel oil rationing would begin Dec. 17, the BRS had ordered one of every 10 of its vehicles off the road.

Douglas Sets Up New Flood Alert System

ROSEBURG (AP) — A newly organized alert system will be set up by Douglas County residents informed of river stages during periods of flood threat.

Federal, county and municipal agencies joined in establishing the alert system to minimize loss of life and property should the Columbia River be hit again by a disastrous flood like the one of last winter.

Ben B. Irving, director of the warning set-up, said volunteers have been enlisted as stream watchers at 15 points along major streams, and they'll be put to work during periods of heavy rainfall.

More volunteers would be alerted should the Weather Bureau expect imminent flooding. At the same time, Irving said, Civil Defense units would be alerted to put into effect relief and evacuation plans.

Among the groups participating are Douglas County Water Resources Survey, Civil Defense units and the U. S. Weather Bureau.

Landing Strip Open in Gorge

CASCADE LOCKS, Ore. (AP) — A new emergency landing strip has been provided near here in the Columbia River Gorge, where quickly changing weather often creates hazardous flying conditions.

Washington and Oregon started construction of the 1,000-foot runway six years ago under the federal aid to airports program but paving was delayed. It was completed a couple of weeks ago.

Washington's director of aeronautics, Robert L. Nuber, and Oregon's director, Earl W. Snyder, were among officials who gave the emergency strip a test run Tuesday.

Helser Says Stocks to Make Strong Comeback Next Year

The stock market will make a strong comeback next year, with the exception of certain lines that are badly over-priced, in the opinion of J. Henry Helser, founder and president of the investment firm that bears his name. He believes the market will be "touchy" until late December.

Helser made this prediction during a luncheon at Meier & Frank-Salem Tuesday noon attended by a few businessmen and representatives of the press and radio.

Business Stronger "Business is much stronger than most people believe," Helser said. Backing up this assertion he pointed out that there has been a big reduction in inventories during recent weeks.

The prediction was made by Helser at the holiday business "will be the biggest ever known." He also informed the group of approximately 15 persons that industries of the Atlantic coast, seeking favorable places for expansion are viewing Oregon with favorable eyes. Although he declined to be specific, "because it might not happen," the investment broker did say he thought the Willamette valley was a good field for expansion in the field of electronics.

The hope was expressed by Helser that Oregon would change its tax structure. The present system he added, has a tendency to drive industry elsewhere.

Recent election returns will not substantially alter the nation's economy but international events may, according to the collective opinion expressed at an information meeting sponsored by the investment firm, at the Marion hotel Tuesday night.

Impetus Given Business Helser told about 300 clients that recent trouble in Egypt and Hungary has given an impetus to American oil, raw material and defense business.

Alfred Barnston, San Francisco, general partner of Suro & Co., said he could see no immediate change in America's financial-industrial program as a result of the November elections.

"The same economic policies that have guided the nation during the past several years, probably will continue," he said. Barnston noted, however, that inflationary forces, which have been curbed recently, are still very much alive.

"With rises in wage levels and defense expenditures, the inflationary spiral could easily continue," he said.

Rose Society Picks Officers George Candaux was re-elected president of the Salem Rose society at the annual Thanksgiving pot-luck dinner held by the group Tuesday evening at the YMCA.

Other officers named include John Thomas, vice-presidents; Mrs. A. D. Brown, treasurer, and Miss Ruth Squier, re-named secretary.

TV TRANSFER REFUSED WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission Tuesday denied a request for transfer of television channel 5 from Walla Walla, Wash., to Pendleton, Ore.

Church Council Hears Talk of New Chaplain

The Rev. John M. Humphreys, first full-time Protestant chaplain at the Oregon state hospital, spoke concerning his purpose and opportunities at that institution during Monday night's November meeting of the Salem Council of Churches. The meeting, which drew a capacity audience, was held at Faith Lutheran church, Keizer.

Rev. Humphreys explained his relation to the hospital in terms of four aspects: as a member of a psychiatric team; as serving the religious needs of approximately 3,000 non-Catholic patients; as helping to create a Christian community within the hospital; and as representative of the concerned body of Christians in the community.

Other matters taken up during the session included appointment of Dr. Charles Derthick as vice president, succeeding Rev. Louis White, who is moving to California. The group heard a report by the Rev. Joe Harding concerning newspaper cooperation in the national Bible reading project, Thanksgiving to Christmas. It unanimously opposed the granting of a liquor license to the new Cherry City bowling alley.

The December 17 meeting of the council will be held at First Presbyterian church when the North Salem high school choir will furnish Christmas music.

500,000 More NW Jobs Said Need by 1965

PORTLAND (AP) — A federal employment official told the Columbia Basin Inter-Agency Committee Tuesday that the predicted population gains in the Pacific Northwest may never be realized unless more new job opportunities are provided.

This came from Daniel L. Goldy, regional employment security director for the Department of Labor, who said the present increase in new jobs is not fast enough to meet the population growth.

Goldy went on to say that the region must create up to a half million new jobs by 1965, mostly by developing the resource potential.

A two-year study of fishery needs of the basin will be the subject of the committee's next meeting, to be held in Portland Jan. 23.

Carson Proposed As Senator to Replace Hatfield

A boost for Harry Carson, Silverton mayor and druggist as a possible successor to State Senator Mark Hatfield was given in Marion county court Wednesday by P. H. Bell.

Bell, who was active as a real estate broker in Salem for 30 years, now a retired Silverton resident, told Judge Rex Hartley that Carson was a capable man, one who would be a fitting successor to Hatfield.

Judge Hartley expressed appreciation for Bell's interest in the matter, but added that no appointment could be made until a vacancy exists. Senator Hatfield is not scheduled to resign his office until complete official returns of the November general election have been received by the election's division of the secretary of state's office.

Hatfield defeated Monroe Sweetland for the office of secretary of state.

Mrs. Stewart Dies at Home At Age of 90

Mrs. Clara Stewart, widow of James S. Stewart, who served in the state legislature from both Wheeler and Benton counties, died Tuesday at a local nursing home at the age of 90 years. She had been in the nursing home for the past two years.

Born near Grants Pass June 15, 1866, Mrs. Stewart was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Knox, who came to Oregon from Missouri by ox cart in 1852. Her husband was a newspaper publisher in Fossil and from there the Stewarts moved to Corvallis where Stewart was employed by the state.

The Stewarts moved to Salem when Stewart became connected with the state land board and made their home here for a number of years. Stewart died in 1934 and some time afterward Mrs. Stewart went to Canton, Ohio, where she resided until returning to Salem about eight years ago.

Mrs. Stewart was a member of the Rebekah lodge at Fossil and Corvallis and a member of the Methodist church.

Survivors include two sons, Ivan and William Halbert Stewart, both of Salem; six grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at the Clough-Barrick chapel Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and interment will be in Belcrest Memorial park.

Rites Set for Mrs. Dillard

Funeral services will be held at the Beach-England chapel, Eugene, Friday at 1:30 p.m. for Mrs. Grace Hammit Dillard, member of an early Oregon family who died at her home at 335 South 24th St. on early Tuesday morning after a short illness.

Interment is to be in the Rest Haven Cemetery, Eugene. Services will be under the direction of the W. T. Rigdon chapel.

Mrs. Dillard, who came to Salem four years ago to make her home with her sister, Mrs. Maude Pressnall, was born January 15, 1883, at Mahawk, Ore. Her parents were N. P. Hammit and Frances Zunwalt Hammit. Mrs. Dillard's husband, Alfred Dillard died several years ago.

Surviving besides the sister in Salem are a brother, Claude C. Hammit, San Jose, Calif., and several nieces and nephews.
