

Cranberry Quick Breads Fine Way to Use Fruit

By MARIAN LOWRY FISCHER
(Capital Journal Foods Section Editor)

The bright red cranberries, so much a part of the holiday period, are in good supply on the markets now. Of course where there is turkey for the Thanksgiving or Christmas menu, there also will be cranberry sauce or jelly, and the fruit is a favorite with ham or pork dishes, too.

Requests have come in lately for cranberry breads. Recipes have been published from time to time over the years, but here are three for cranberry quick breads:

- Cranberry Spice Bread
- 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 - 1/2 cup sugar
 - 3 teaspoons baking powder
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
 - 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 1 cup chopped walnuts or filberts
 - 1 egg
 - 1 cup fresh cooked whole cranberry sauce, drained
 - 2 tablespoons melted shortening
- Heat oven to 350 degrees. Sift together the flour, sugar, baking powder, salt, soda and cinnamon. Add the nuts. In a mixing bowl beat egg; add cranberry sauce and shortening. Add dry ingredients. Stir until just blended. Pour into greased 9 by 5 by 3 loaf pan. Bake in 350 degree oven for 45 minutes, or until done. Cool well on rack before cutting.
- Cranberry Raisin Bread
- 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 - 1/2 cup sugar
 - 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
 - 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
 - 1 cup sugar
 - 1 orange (juice and grated rind)
 - 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine

- 1 egg, well beaten
- 1 1/2 cups fresh cranberries, chopped
- 1 cup raisins
- Sift flour, salt, baking powder, soda, and sugar into mixing bowl. Put orange juice and grated rind into measuring cup. Add melted shortening and enough boiling water (about 2 tablespoons) to make 3/4 cup. Stir juice mixture and beaten egg into dry ingredients until just blended. Fold in chopped cranberries and raisins. Pour into greased 9 by 5 by 3 loaf pan. Bake in 350 degree oven 1 hour and 10 minutes. Remove from pan. Cool. Store overnight for easy slicing.

- Cranberry Nut Bread
- 2 1/2 cups sifted enriched flour
 - 4 teaspoons double acting baking powder
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1 cup sugar
 - 1/2 cup shortening
 - 1 cup milk
 - 1 egg
 - 1/2 cup of chopped walnuts or filberts
 - 1 cup fresh cranberries, chopped
- Sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar together in mixing bowl. Cut in shortening until texture of coarse meal. Form a well in dry ingredients. Add milk and egg. Mix until flour mixture is dampened. Stir in chopped nuts and cranberries. Pour into well greased 9 by 5 by 3 loaf pan. Spread batter into corners of pan, leaving the center slightly hollowed. Allow to stand 20 minutes before baking. Bake in moderate oven 350 degrees, 60 to 70 minutes. Remove from pan. Cool. Store overnight for easy slicing.

FOOD NOTES Meat Buys For Holidays Are Listed

Housewives whose families are tired of eating turkey will find rib roasts and other cuts of beef featured in many of the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores this weekend.

Also featured are pork roasts and pork chops, which are 4 to 10 cents cheaper this week in some sections. Ribs of beef are quoted as much as 6 cents cheaper.

And some stores will feature turkey again this weekend. Federal market experts, incidentally, credit the lower price of turkeys with bringing about the lowest costs in five years for Thanksgiving dinners. A typical family of four paid $6.29 for Thursday's big meal, $1.48 less than last Thanksgiving and away below the $8.63 meal when the figures first were compiled in 1951.

Miss Bentley Recent Bride

WOODBURN (Special) — Miss Aileen Ann Bentley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bentley of Woodburn, was wed to Neil Joseph Stone, son of Mrs. Cecelia Stone of Portland, Saturday, November 17, in the chapel of St. Mary's Cathedral, Portland. The Rev. Valentine Mollenhauer celebrated the nuptial mass.

The bride wore a wedding dress of white Chantilly lace over taffeta, ballerina length, and a crown of seed pearls which held in place her veil of fingertip length. She carried a bouquet of white roses and a pearl rosary, a gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Ray Miller of Woodburn, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a dress of champagne colored Chantilly lace over taffeta, fashioned identically to that of the bride, and her bouquet was pom pom chrysanthemums.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at Berg's Chalet. Miss Peggy Stone, sister of the bridegroom, cut the wedding cake and Miss Bonnie Bentley, sister of the bride, passed the guest book.

Texas Still Has 2 Thanksgivings

By ROBERT E. FORD
DALLAS (UP) — Texas is blessed with two Thanksgivings this year. No other state can make that claim.

Texans can take their pick — Nov. 22 or Nov. 29. For this they can thank Franklin D. Roosevelt, the U.S. Congress, the Texas Legislature and a rugged states rights outlook.

FDR started the ball bouncing in 1939. November had five Thursdays that year. He announced that the third Thursday would be Thanksgiving.

He hoped to make merchants especially thankful. His plan was to allow a greater spread between Christmas and Thanksgiving so shoppers would have more time for yule buying.

People who wanted their traditions to stay put cried out. Texans called it federal intervention.

FOREST INDUSTRY PAY CHECKS WORK FOR EVERYONE IN THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST

"42 million payroll dollars for home furnishings..."

Approximately how the average wage earner spends his paycheck

Clothing	9
Autos and transportation	14
Home furnishings	6
Medical and personal care	7
Taxes (income and property)	7
Recreation, savings, insurance, education, etc.	13
	100%

Estimated from U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, Bureau of Consumer Expenditures based on average wage earner family of 3.4 persons.

About 42 million dollars will be spent this year by the 160,000 people employed in this region's forest products industry to buy furniture, refrigerators, TV sets and other home furnishings.

Although large, this expenditure is only about six per cent of the annual forest industry payroll in Oregon and Washington. Food, housing, clothing, taxes and other necessities and luxuries account for the balance, making a total of about 700 million dollars a year.

Buying power of forest industry paychecks is felt all through the Pacific Northwest, creating jobs and income for almost every business, trade and profession. The industry's payrolls and business expenditures thus support about one-half of our economy.

Prosperity in this region depends a great deal on a stable forest industry. To maintain stability, the industry is growing timber as a crop, assuring a perpetual source of raw materials. It is also manufacturing an increasing variety of products to help provide the volume of sales necessary for steady employment.
