'Little Guys' Support the Game

The topnotchers get most of the headlines, money, time on television, etc., but the backbone of the bowling game is still the "little guys" who bowl about once a week and strictly for kicks. This statement is amply illustrated in the current issue of Sport magazine.

That worthy publication carries a six page spread on the typical night out of the average bowler under the title "Bowling Night." Featuring lots of pictures it follows the subject from his work as a telephone man home to dinner and then the bowling alley for the evening's play. Actually, the article is an attempt to show the value of industrial league bowling as a great many of the nations bowlers compete in huge leagues sponsored by their employer.

DICK LANKOW
. . . picks "impossible" split

The best example of that type of bowling in the west are the number of teams and leagues sponsored by Boeing in Seattle. At the 1954 ABC tournament in that city there were several complete squads of bowlers from various Boeing leagues. We remember back to the days shortly after the war when we worked in a small six alley house in West Seattle when there were four complete leagues made up of Boeing employees.

Like the article depicted in Sport, Salem has a telephone crew, also. They are the Ladd's Market entry in the University Commercial league and the group has been together for several years. Steckelberg, Larry Dixon, Chris Horn, Clay Parham, Frank Buzzell and company sponsored themselves for several years but have been bowling as the marketeers for the last three or four stanzas.

The Impossible Comes Harder

We were treated to quite a display of split conversions this past week with some really phenomenal shots being made by various bowlers. In the University Classic League Dick Lankow made a clean conversion of the "impossible" 4-6 split, sliding the six-pin across the alley to tumble the four.

That created quite an uproar in that end of the house and, when the noise had subsided, Hal Comstock stepped up and did exactly the same thing but had an added pin to spill when the 10-pin was left standing also. That was the first time we had ever seen the 4-6 split converted and to see it done by two men back-to-back on the same team is ridiculous. That wasn't bad enough, George Causey also picked the 4-6 in the State House No. 1 League at the new Cherry City Bowl on Wednesday night.

Others picking toughies during the week were Virg Weber of the Kannier Motors team in the University 800 League when he converted the 4-6-7-9-10 and Ralph Lulay of Ripp's Service Station chopping down the 4-7-10 in the same league. Ann Thrush and Reva Chamberlain also chopped the 6-7-10 in the Capitol Ladies City League and Arpha Amunds spill the 3-9-10. It takes a very strong ball to down the 3-9-10 split and Arpha had to have her pill placed perfectly to spare that one.

The annual B&B turkey shoot got under way at the duckpin house last week and already three men have received the bird. Keith Kaye, Arnie Meyer and Les Capps all acomplished the difficult feat of throwing ten balls between the 4-6 split to win their Christmas dinner. Of course it's only natural that those three should win as they hold nearly all the local duckpin records, averages, high games, etc. between them.

Winning Is a Sometime Thing

One of the better bowling aggregations in the city have just about thrown in the towel in their efforts to figure out how to win some ball games. We refer to the Harger's Sporting Goods gang in the University Classic League. In the first five weeks of the current campaign they had lost only one game and were nearly out of sight of the rest of the rest of the league but in the seven weeks past have gone nearly as fast the other way as they have won but two games.

The team is made up of Jack Olney, Dick Lankow, Hal Comstock, Roy Farley and Pinky Hartwell and look like one of the best teams ever in the Classic. The only trouble is, they just can't win a game. If anyone knows the secret of winning it will be worth some money to you if you'll just call Hal Comstock.

Both this paper and the Statesman will be carrying daily results of the bowling efforts of itty-bitty buddy, Frank Evans, in his quest for the National Individual Match Game Bowling Championship in Chicago. Frank got off to a slow start Saturday in the first six-game qualifying block when he totaled 1149 for the six games. We all wished Frank the best of luck when he left and trust everyone in Salem is pulling for the little man to make the finals of the star-studded event.

Rough? Don't You Believe It

DISA & DATA . . . . . Bob Ryan, warming up for the Longview tournament over the week-end, fired a 725 series in the Capitol Major Wednesday night. Bob didn't actually shoot 725 but he did shoot 681 on alleys one and two and, to us anyway, that is just like a 725 on any other pair in the house . . . . .

Everyone says the new alleys at the Cherry City Bowl are tougher than a five year old rooster but the gals in the Classic League out there won't believe it. Monday night they had seven gals over the 500 mark with Alma Penny turning in a 558 series and Barb Smith a 220 game. Others checking in with big ones were Carolyn Miller 215-538, Barb Smith 527, Phyllis Curry 524, Joyce Kunke 510, Marion Hara 203 and Alma Penny 202.

Walt "Shotgun" Gardner also likes the new place as he turned in a fine 224-630 Monday night to top the league efforts so far. D. Cushing shot a dandy with 628 to finish second for the night . . . . . Rich Staudinger had one of his more erratic nights Tuesday when he shot a 250 game and a 559 series. That figures to be only 59 more pins for two games than he totaled in the third game . . . . .

Mel Bowcut, representing the heavyweight division, and Wayne Domes, representing the lightweight division, wrestled to a draw in the University Commercial No. 1 League Thursday night as each totaled 619 for the session. Mel took the officials decision, however, when he threw the high game of 249 . . . The Ladies City League had a new high team game for the third week in a row as the Randie Oil Gang toppled the timbers for 1005 to beat the old mark of 992. Individual scores were not available but the "Stinkers" must have really found the groove.

Jabberwalkies Elect Officers

Salem Jabberwalkie Field Archers have elected Ted Thompson president to succeed Dr. L. E. Watson.

Others elected at an annual meeting Thursday at Four Corners Community hall were Fuller Burtner, vice-president; Wreva Mobley, secretary-treasurer; Robert Mobley, two-year board member; and Larry Barham, Oregon Bow Hunters field governor.

Kenneth Burnett is a holdover board member.

Saxons Win First Game, Vikings Lose

Experienced Ft. Vancouver Quintet Tops North 53-47, South Rallies In Final Seconds, 44-42

By JOHN HARVEY
Capital Journal Sportswriter

VANCOUVER (Special)—South Salem did something its cross town rival North Salem couldn't do Saturday night—open its basketball season with a win—but the Vikings still should rate the favorite in tomorrow night's North-South game at Viking Villa.

South Salem put on a late rally to pull out a 44-42 win over Hudson's Bay in the second game of a double-header after Coach Ward Paldanius had seen his Viks lose 53-37 to Fort Vancouver in his North Salem debut.

To Return Friday

The Saxons were ragged and it took the reserves to win, but the Vikings were smoother in losing to one of the top prep quintets in Washington that includes an all-stater in Chuck Chronis.

All four teams in the double-header had a hard time hitting the basket as close to 2,000 people looked on. These same four teams play at North Salem next Friday with South facing Fort Vancouver and North going against Hudson's Bay.

The letterman-loaded Trappers proved to be just too much for the Viks as Chronis, 6-5 Gordon Upkes and Tim Campbell, and 6-1 Joe McKnight proved that experience pays.

The Vikings took a 5-4 lead midway through the opening period, but the hosts pulled into 14-5 lead at the end of the period.

McKee Carries Offense

With Denny McKee carrying most of the Viking offensive load with his on-handers from 20 feet, the Viking managed to stay with in striking distance and trailed 27-19 at halftime.

The Trappers scored five quick points in the opening minutes of the second half to pull into a 32-19 lead. The third quarter score was 32-29.

After Dale Drake and Jim Litchfield sank field goals for North Salem, Fort Vancouver gradually increased its lead to win the game.

Upkes, a Southwest Washington all-star last season, led the scoring with 16 points, followed by Campbell with 14 and Chronis with 12. McKee paced the Vikings with 10 points.

Al Harter, the big 6-7 center for the Vikings, made only two points as Upkes bottled him up most of the game. His brother Grant, a 6-7 sophomore, played briefly in the final quarter but didn't score.

Wins in Last Seconds

Jerry Brunelle, the only regular to play the last six minutes, sank a five-foot jump shot with four seconds remaining to give the Saxons their opening win. It took a long uphill pull by the ragged Saxons which almost fell short.

The first points of the game weren't scored until Gary Krenelka of the Eagles made a lay-in with 3:36 remaining in the opening period. Hudson's Bay held a 7-6 lead at the end of the quarter.

Hudson's Bay, however, caught fire in the opening minute of the second stanza, scoring three field goals to spurt into a 13-6 lead. The Eagles led by as much as 11 points and led 25-16 at halftime.

Ron Russell, 6-2 center, paced a third-quarter rally that brought the Saxons within four points, 32-28, with three minutes left. Hudson's Bay pulled away to a 36-29 lead at the end of the quarter.

7 Straight Points

Bob Henderson opened the final period with a lay-in for the Eagles, but the Saxons scored seven straight points to make it 38-36. With three minutes remaining, the Eagles led by a 42-38 count.

Wayne Robinson, who had replaced Russell, made a short jump shot and followed seconds later with a tip-in to tie the game up with 2:22 remaining.

Coach Len Suckling sent his Eagles into a stall to get the last shot, but the strategy backfired. With 23 seconds left, Brunelle tied up Henderson and then tipped the ball to teammate Bob Bayne to set up the winning basket.

Russell with 13 and Brunelle with 12 led the Saxons scoring. Bayne, although not taking a shot, looked impressive with his scrappy playing and defensive work.

Marshall's Team 1st In Longview Tourney

Team Wins $750; Phipps, Ryan Gain 2nd

By BENN VALDEZ
Capital Journal Bowling Editor

Marshall's Lounge, one of the youngest teams bowling in the Northwest today, became the champions of the third annual Longview Invitational tournament yesterday when they totaled 3789 for the four-game test to beat out Alt Heidelberg of Tacoma, which finished in second place with 3743.

Maust Transfer of Seattle, also bowling in the last squad and the defending titlists, failed to maintain the pace of the Marshall's gang and finished well back in the pack.

Youthful Jimmy Lebold, asenior at South Salem High school, led the asault with a big 808 series on games of 223, 206, 196 and 183. Lyle Anderson, a student at OCE, backed up the little man with games of 196, 184, 200 and 209 for a 789 total. Tony Vitone tallied 774. Don Lebold, a freshman at Oregon, scored 714 and Benn Valdez "anchored" the team with 704.

The winning total, bowled under the roughest conditions of any tournament in the Northwest, came on games of 994, 914, 909 and 972. Strikes were tough to string all during the weekend, evidenced by the low scoring, and the Marshall's gang won the title on spares. As a team they missed but six spares in four games.

Dale Bastian, who sat out the team event, came back strong with Don Lebold to take third place in the doubles with a 1533 total. Dick Phipps and Bob Ryan of Salem edged them by three pins for second place.

Strong in Singles

None of the Marshall's boys hit in the Singles but Ryan and Phipps were just taking to the lanes when we left late last night and both men were bowling strong near the end of the doubles.

Ryan finished second to Frisco Burnett of Tacoma last year and could very well have beat the 1213 leading the tournament when he took to the lanes.

The Marshall's victory brought the team the $750 first place money and a huge trophy which was presented to sponsor Mrs. Hazel Marshall late last night.

Let's Split It Equally

Stan Anderson, South Salem basketball player at right center, finds himself fighting against odds in this scramble for the ball with two Hudson's Bay players Saturday night. Linfield Next Foe for OCE

To Meet Tuesday; 1st Wolf Game Won by Pacific, 74-61

(Special to The Capital Journal)

OREGON COLLEGE OF EDUCATION, Monmouth — Coach Bob Livingston's OCE basketball squad, 74-61 victim of the Pacific Badgers Saturday night at Forest Grove, will attempt to get into the winners circle here tomorrow night when it faces the Linfield Wildcats.

Linfield opened the season with a pair of weekend victories over the Southern Oregon College Red Raiders and will be favored to notch victory number three at the expense of the Wolves. Game time at the OCE gym will be 8 o'clock, with the JV prelim at 6:15.

Leads at Halftime

The Wolfpack, functioning almost flawlessly during the first 15 minutes of action at Forest Grove Saturday night, ran up an early 10 point lead over the Badgers and went off the floor leading 36-31 at halftime.

Daryl Girod, captain and playmaking guard of the Wolves, paced the Wolves' well-rounded first-half scoring attack, popping in five out of six field goal attempts and hitting on two free throws for 12 first-half points. Every member of OCE's starting five got into the scoring column in the first half as the Monmouth hoopsters forged out in front of the Badgers.

But the Wolves, who had connected on 13 of 26 field goal attempts in the first half, went frigid in the second half. Pacific, with forwards Ron Barendse and Tom Bourgeois hitting consistently, overhauled the Wolves at 38-37 early in the second half and went on to build up a 55-46 bulge with nine minutes of playing remaining.

During the Pacific surge the Wolves hit only one field goal attempt, a long two-hand set shot by Girod at the 13 minute mark. Consistent success at the free throw line is all that kept the Wolves in the ball game.

Girod, Miller Stand Out

With 4:30 left to play, Pacific had widened the gap to 65-51 and the issue was never seriously in doubt thereafter. Barendse and Bourgeois got some scoring help from guards Don Adams and Bob Brenneman in the final six minutes of play to keep the Wolves from getting within striking distance.

Guards Girod and Cecil Miller turned in good performances for the Wolves, with Girod sharing game scoring honors with Bourgeois, both with 19 points. Barendse had 16 and Miller and Gehrts had 13 apiece.

Rebounds were even for both clubs, each getting 37. Despite their poor second half field goal production the Wolves wound up with a highly respectable .396 shooting average to .388 for the winners. OCE's top rebounder was Doug Rogers with 8, followed by John Vermuel with 7.

The Wolves lost all three of their big men via the personal foul route. Rogers, Vermuel and Wayne Young all retired to the sidelines early with five fouls. Pacific lost center Jerry Kalapus by the same method, although later in the game.

OCE J.V. Wins

In the preliminary contest, the OCE JV's overcame a 30-21 halftime deficit to record a 58-49 win over the Pacific JV squad. Gary Milton and Gary Walker led a second half surge by the Wolfpack yearlings that overcame Pacific's 9 point halftime advantage and gave the OCE squad a comfortable 15 point margin at one point late in the game.

Scoring honors went to Milton with 18 points. Walker and Eldon Naas contributed 10 points each to the winners' cause.

BASEBALL

NEW YORK — Cincinnati Redlegs' outfielder Frank Robinson and Luis Aparicio, Chicago White Sox shortstop, won the two major league awards as rookies-of-the-year.

East Nips West In Jamboree For Loop

MOLALLA (Special)—Molalla's Indians and the Dallas Dragons showed they may again fight for the Willamette Valley league basketball title this year during a tight game in the annual jamboree here Saturday night.

The Indians, last year's WVL an District 4-A2 champions, lost to Dallas, the 1955 league runner-ups, 23-22, in the jamboree's second game. But Estacada beat Central, 19-11, and Sandy edged Canby 22-19, to help the "East" down the "West," 63-53.

The three games were shortened affairs consisting of two eight-minute quarters each. The Molalla-Dallas clash drew the most interest in a nip-and-tuck battle.

Harold Ogburn of Molalla and Gary McVey of Sandy were the night's big point-makers, each canning 10 points. Central's Darrel Brandt scored nine of his team's 11 points in a losing effort.

Four of the WVL teams see action Tuesday night. Molalla goes to Oswego, Central hosts Stayton, Estacada plays Washougal, Wash., at home and Sandy entertains Mt. Angel. Actual league competition does not start until the middle of January.

Silverton's Coach Praises Runnersup

Reedsport Wins A-2 Title by 7-6 Score

NORTH BEND (Special)—Coach Murl Anderson of the state Class A-2 runnerup Silverton Foxes isn't blaming a missed placekick for his team's 7-6 loss to Reedsport Saturday night in the finals.

The extra point was a heartbreaking one, especially because the ball, kicked by senior Clyde Kuenzi, hit the crossbar and bounced down. But the real decisive play was a five-yard penalty for backfield-in-motion within reach of Reedsport goal line late in the final quarter.

Silverton had the ball on the Reedsport 10 and ran a play that carried to the 3, but the penalty moved the ball back to the 15, thus costing 13 yards. Then the Foxes gained five but didn't make it on the fourth down and with four minutes left the Braves took over.

TD a Real Thrill

Said Anderson: "Reedsport had a good team that gave us our best battle of the season. No other opponent fought like that one. It wasn't our best game but our team has done a fine job all year and I have nothing but good to say about them."

It was the first time Silverton had reached the playoffs in 10 years for Anderson, who plans to stick to the singlewing's power because of the solid offense it offers. Silverton gained lots of yardage in the middle of the field but Reedsport bucked down when the Foxes got in close.

Thrill of the night was the Silverton touchdown when Clyde Kuenzi passed to end Bob Kouf, when it was second down and eight yards to go on Silverton's 30 in the second quarter. It was a fake spinner play, with the tailback holding instead of handing off and took the Braves by surprise as he stepped back and tossed to Kouf.

Kouf caught it on the Reedsport 40, already behind all defenders, and ran untouched for the touchdown.

Kuenzi, who hadn't missed an extra point in the last five games, then had his stroke of bad luck. A tie game, 7-7, would have produced co-champions.

Drove 72 Yards

Reedsport drove 72 yards in the third quarter for its clinching touchdown, gaining possession by intercepting a pass on the 12 and returning it to the 28.

Longest contribution was 28 yards by Roy Burns on an end sweep, being caught on the Silverton 20 by Kouf. That set up the spectacular scoring play by Hickman, who took a handoff on a reverse off left tackle and went the distance with 3:31 left in the period.

Not taking any chances with a placekick, Reedsport chose to run the ball over, Burns diving over left tackle for the deciding point.

The game spoiled Silverton's streak of 18 consecutive victories but was the 11th in a row for Coach Rudy Ruppe of Reedsport. Silverton will lose most of its mainstays by graduation.

The Silverton Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a football banquet Thursday night at the high school cafeteria, with players and parents as guests along with the coaching staff and wives.

Gamble was named as the Lions' most valuable lineman and Marlatt was the most valuable back. Phil Hochspeier was chosen captain for next season.
