Russians Gain in Points U.S. Teenagers Set Record Swim Marks

By TED SMITS
MELBOURNE (AP)—Shelley Mann, a slender blonde coed from Arlington, Va., led an American 1-2-3 sweep in the women's 100-meter butterfly final and George Breen of Buffalo, N.Y., broke the world's record in a 1,500-meter heat as Uncle Sam's swimmers did their best Wednesday to offset a Russian point spurge in the Olympic Games.

Two American girls, 16-year-old Nancy Ramey of Mercer Island, Wash., and 17-year-old Mary Jane Sears of Chevy Chase, Md., followed the 19-year-old Miss Mann to the finish in that order.

America just missed another gold medal when Carin Cone, a 15-year-old high school junior from Ridgewood, N.J., was nipped by Great Britain's Judy Grinham in the 100-meter backstroke final. Both girls were clocked in one minute 12.9 seconds, surpassing the Olympic record.

Maureen Scores 2
Only an inch or two separated the British girl from the American at the finish of a race that had the capacity crowd of about 5,500 on its feet all the way.

Maureen Murphy of Portland, Ore., came in fifth in the backstroke to pick up two important points for America.

Miss Mann's performance and a winning effort by Skipper Herb Williams of Evanston, Ill., gave the U.S. two gold medals for the day.

Russia added three gold medals, all in women's gymnastics, and outscored the United States 68-48 1/2 for the day. The U.S. Olympians retained the over-all lead, under the American scoring system, but only by a 20-point margin, 538 1/2-518 1/2.

The Soviets finally took the team lead under the European system 451-445 1/2. The European scoring system awards seven points for a gold medal, while the American rating gives 10 points for a first.

Uncle Sam also qualified three in all women's gymnastics, got Breen into the 1,500 meter final and sent a three-man entry into the finals of the men's 100-meter backstroke, including Yoshinobu Oyakawa of Honolulu, the 1952 champ, Frank McKinney of Indianapolis and Al Wiggins of Pittsburgh.

MAY STOP SOME TRANSFERS PCC Ups Scholastic Requirements to 'C'

By HERB WILROIT
BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—The Pacific Coast Conference has raised academic requirements, an action that could reduce the migration of high school athletes from populous California to member schools in Northwest states.

Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, California faculty athletic representative and spokesman for the current PCC meeting, said Tuesday's move "might make it a little more difficult" for some California students to enter Northwest schools.

The new PCC action requires that a student must have a high school "C" average to be eligible for PCC athletic competition, or acquire a "C" average after entering college before becoming athletically eligible.

Dr. Seaborg said entrance requirements of three Golden State schools, California, UCLA and Stanford, are higher than at other PCC institutions.

These three schools originated proposals as far back as three years ago that led to the "C" average rule, he said, but Oregon was instrumental in reactivating the question for decision at this meeting.

Dr. Seaborg said Tuesday's vote on the issue was unanimous. The other PCC schools are Washington, Washington State, Southern California and Idaho.

"There is a general move to bring the academic level up," Dr. Seaborg said. "We might go even farther."

The PCC Presidents Council, in fact, has recommended still another step which would require an athlete to maintain a virtual "C" average to remain athletically eligible.

Action on this and other presidential proposals to revise the PCC athletic code is due at a January joint meeting of the prexies, faculty athletic advisors and athletic directors.
