12 Die as Packed Car Runs In Phoenix Train

Wreck Is Worst of Kind Ever Only Slight Jolt Felt on Train, It Goes On

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Twelve persons were killed Monday when the old model car into which they were jammed collided with a crack passenger train at the western edge of Phoenix.

A thirteenth occupant of the car, an 18-month-old girl, was critically injured.

It was the worst wreck of its kind on record.

The death toll, originally placed at 11, was raised at midnight when police searching through brush at the accident scene found the body of a young boy.

Bodies Widely Scattered

Bodies were scattered over a large area. The body of a woman weighing about 250 pounds was found 300 feet from the car's chassis.

The shattered car was traced through its license plate to a Sacramento, Calif., man, but he said he had sold the car, a 1938 Chevrolet, to a Phoenix resident.

Police later tentatively identified 11 dead, presumed to be Phoenix residents, as:

Juan Alirre Sr., 59; Juan Alirre Jr., 21; Victor Alirre, 29; Clara Alirre, 21; Sofi Alirre, 28; Mike Alirre, 8 months; Steven Alirre, 10; David Alirre, 8; Bobby Alirre, 3; Leroy Johnson, 36, and Johnny Massery, 36.

A woman, about 40, remained unidentified.

No one on the train, the Southern Pacific's Golden State Limited, was injured.

Find Flesh on Engine

In fact, no one on the train knew about the accident until they pulled into Union Station, about three miles from the crash scene.

Crew members then spotted bits of human flesh and a car fender on the forward track of the second half of the diesel engine.

Mortuary attendants said mangled bodies were those of five (Continued on Page 5, Column 5)

Bomb Threats Flung at Eden

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard rushed special officers and policemen to Parliament and Prime Minister Eden's residence Monday after receiving bomb threats.

An extensive search was carried out but nothing was found to substantiate a mysterious telephone call to Scotland Yard reporting a plan to bomb Parliament and No. 10 Downing, St.

The special precautions were taken because of a recent but burst of activity by the Irish Republican Army (IRA).

IRA men struck at more than 20 British installations last week in the six counties which comprise Northern Ireland, part of the United Kingdom. Attacks included bombs, dynamites, and theft of weapons.

2 Tillamook Boatmen Perish in Heavy Sea

TILLAMOOK, Ore. (AP) — A fast-running tide swept two men and their disabled boat into towering seas on the Tillamook Bay bar late Sunday afternoon and search for the wreckage started at dawn Monday.

The sea was calmer and there was a 1,500-foot ceiling but a light rain was falling as beach patrols were organized and light planes prepared to scan the beach and ocean.

Then one of the men was seen trying to start the engine. This failed and as the boat disappeared into the heavy seas at the bar, both men were seen sitting in the stern.

The Coast Guard was called. "We went down part way to the bar," Erickson said, "but it was too heavy for us to cross out."

Erickson said the tide would have pulled the boat out to sea but by the time it had crossed the bar it would have been capsized and probably destroyed. For it to have survived the battering was "impossible," he said, adding, "we have a very rough bar here."

The light planes were to follow the line of the beach and to look out to sea as well. The Coast Guard might be asked to send an amphibious plane from Port Angeles, Erickson said, if the light planes and the parties covering the beach on foot had no early success.

Oregon Electors Meet to Vote for Ike

President Eisenhower will soon be officially named to office as electors from Oregon joined with those from other states Monday in casting their electoral college votes. Oregon's six, which met at the capitol building at noon, are shown signing the ballots and include (left to right) William E. Hansen, Pendleton; James C. Hatfield, Salem; Lowell C. Paget, Portland; Zenas A. Olson, Milwaukie; Niel R. Allen, Grants Pass, and J. P. Johnson, Tigard. (Capital Journal Photo)

Six Oregon Electors Cast Ike-Nixon Votes

Oregon's six Republican presidential electors had their few fleeting moments of glory Monday when they met to cast their votes for President Eisenhower and Vice-President Nixon.

They signed the official certificates after considerable small talk about voting for Joe Smith and for states rights candidates. Actually, they could have voted for anybody whom they pleased.

Oregon electors, however, always vote for the candidates getting the largest popular vote.

The ceremony took only a few minutes. The electors signed six copies of the official certificate, one of which goes to Washington, D.C.

The certificates had the names of Eisenhower and Nixon printed on them, as Secretary of State Earl T. Newberry assumed the electors would support the Republican candidates.

Niel R. Allen, Grants Pass, was elected chairman of the electors, and William E. Hansen, Pendleton, secretary.

A spectator at the ceremony was Chief Justice Harold Warner of the Oregon Supreme Court. He is the only surviving person among the Oregon electors who voted for Herbert Hoover in 1928.

Each elector got $3 plus 15 cents a mile for the day's work.

They signed extra copies of the certificates for personal mementoes.

"There is not a chance the men survived," Chief Boatman's Mate Earl A. Erickson of the Coast Guard station at nearby Garibaldi said.

The men in the boat, LaVert Law, about 45, an Elks Club employe, and Joe Chacartegui, a logger, both of Tillamook Bay and attracted no particular notice until their 16-foot boat moved out toward the bay entrance.

Then one of the men was seen trying to start the engine. This failed and as the boat disappeared into the heavy seas at the bar, both men were seen sitting in the stern.

The Coast Guard was called. "We went down part way to the bar," Erickson said, "but it was too heavy for us to cross out."

Erickson said the tide would have pulled the boat out to sea but by the time it had crossed the bar it would have been capsized and probably destroyed. For it to have survived the battering was "impossible," he said, adding, "we have a very rough bar here."

The light planes were to follow the line of the beach and to look out to sea as well. The Coast Guard might be asked to send an amphibious plane from Port Angeles, Erickson said, if the light planes and the parties covering the beach on foot had no early success.

Both Law and Chacartegui were married.

Wife Held Hostage in Bank Haul

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Two gunmen invaded the apartment of a young bank teller and his wife Sunday night, held them captive for nearly six hours, then forced the teller to drive to the bank and hand over the contents of a night depository.

Estimates of the loot ranged upward from $20,000.

The couple's three-year-old daughter slept undisturbed during the night of terror.

Wave 3 Pistols

Brandishing three pistols, the gunmen forced their way into the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Bishoff in nearby Hyattsville about 9:30 p.m. Sunday.

At 2:30 a.m. Bishoff, 34, was forced to drive to the College Park branch of the Suburban Trust Co. and surrender weekend deposits.

The bandits fled in Bishoff's auto after returning him to his home and binding him back to back with his 27-year-old wife. He struggled free 15 minutes later and notified police about 3:30 a.m.

Neither of the Bishoffs was harmed but Mrs. Bishoff was hysterical from the ordeal and cried to police, "It can't be true. It's like a fairy tale."

Wife Held As Hostage

Bishoff reported his wife was held as a hostage while he went to the bank. He said the man who went with him, while the other guarded his wife, said Mrs. Bishoff might be harmed if they did not return to the apartment by 3:15 a.m. They returned about five minutes before that deadline.

D. K. Brown, agent in charge of the Baltimore FBI office, said that judging from previous week-end deposits, the loot might run to $40,000 or $45,000. He emphasized that this was purely speculative.

College Park, home of the University of Maryland, is a suburb of Washington, D.C.

The two bandits abandoned the Bishoff's auto two or three miles from the bank, the FBI reported.

One escapee from the Oregon State Penitentiary annex was in custody Monday morning and bloodhounds were searching for another some 18 hours after they walked away from the annex.

Benjamin T. Gaul, 47, was captured by prison guards near Turner about 9 a.m. Monday. He had been serving a 2½-year sentence for burglary on which he was sentenced from Marion county circuit court a year ago.

Ted M. Simonsen, 32, was still at large early Monday afternoon by state police, moved his capture at any time through the use of Norman Wilson's famed blood hounds from Dallas. It was presumed he had stolen some other clothes as the trousers and jacket worn when he escaped were found near the Disciples of Christ tannery in Turner. Officers' main fear of losing him came from the possibility that he may have hitchhiked a ride.

Simonsen was serving three years from Umatilla county on a forgery conviction. He was granted parole three months ago and was only waiting for a job before being released.

He is described as 5-11, 157 pounds, and having brown hair.

Poland Given Troops Voice

WARSAW (AP) — Poland and the Soviet Union signed a military agreement Monday night giving Poland a say in the movements of Soviet troops stationed within Polish borders.

The agreement was the outcome of last month's Polish-Soviet talks in Moscow. It was one of the fruits of the "October revolution" that put Wladyslaw Gomulka in charge of the Polish Communist Party and led the nation to more independent policies.

At the last minute he pleaded with Capt. Richard Campbell, the pilot, to "take more. Campbell told Holt he could provide life jackets and life rafts for 51 children. Holt held 17 more orphans aboard.

Holt said he was racing against a Dec. 31 deadline of a special immigration provision. He plans to make one more trip.

"We have a daughter, 14," said Mrs. Fournier. "We always wanted a little boy. Now we have him."

Fourteen adults, besides Holt, escorted the youngsters from Seoul.

Before resuming their journeys, the children will get a night's sleep in private homes, hotels and motels.

The airlift of Korean orphans is a project of Holt, who lives on a farm near Creswell, Ore. He originally had planned to bring 74 children on this trip.

Soviet Sweeps Aside Protests On Tanks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia charged Monday the Hungarian revolt against Communist rule was "stimulated from the outside." The United States bluntly rejected the accusation.

Less than two hours after a Soviet embassy official made the contention, a State Department spokesman said it is "as clear as the nose on anybody's face" that the uprising was "the action of the Hungarian people themselves protesting the oppression they have been under for some time."

Envy Levels Charge

Soviet Charge d'Affaires Sergi Striganov leveled the accusation during a call at the State Department. At the same time, he brushed aside an American protest against the massing of Soviet tanks on the sidewalk in front of the American legation in Budapest about two weeks ago.

"I decline resolutely this protest," Striganov said. He termed it "an unjustified attempt to interfere between relations of the U.S.S.R. and the Hungarian People's Republic."

State Department press officer Lincoln White told a news conference later that the American protest "still stands." Deputy Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy who talked with Striganov refused to accept the explanation, he said.

Let U.N. Take Look

"Mr. Murphy pointed out the Soviet Union would not want foreign tanks on the sidewalks in front of the Soviet mission in Washington," White said.

In rejecting the Soviet accusation, the outsiders were stirring up the Hungarian revolt, White said that if Russia would permit U.N. observers in Hungary to inspect the situation "the answer to who stimulated whom would be very evident."

It certainly would not show stigmatization from the outside," he added.

All reports from Hungary, he added, show it is a "spontaneous uprising" which suffers lack of leadership and coordination.

Court Rebuffs Sheppard Plea

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court Monday refused for the second time to review the trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, Cleveland osteopath serving a life sentence for the bludgeoning slaying of his wife.

The high tribunal's first denial was announced Nov. 13. Sheppard's counsel then filed a petition asking reconsideration.

Sheppard was convicted in a sensational trial two years ago. His case, in asking the second time for a Supreme Court review of the case, said "Roman holidays" trials would become the pattern for the country if the high tribunal allowed the conviction to stand unchanged.

The high court also ruled that aliens ordered excluded from the United States may obtain judicial reviews of their cases by habeas corpus proceedings, as well as by an action under the Administrative Procedure Act.

Safe Cracked At Silverton, $1,300 Taken

SILVERTON (Special) — A safe-cracking netted burglars about $1,300 in cash and checks at the Silverton Drug Co., here early Sunday, the Marion county sheriff's office reported.

The thieves tipped the small store safe on its back and pried the door off with tools found in the store, Sheriff Denver Young said. The time of burglary was set at 3:45 a.m. by an electric clock on which the plug was pulled by the thieves in pulling the safe away from the wall, he said.

The "take" included about $300 in cash and $500 in checks, owner Fred Parkinson said.

Entrance to the store was made through a ventilator on the roof and exit was made through a rear door, officers said.

Both Law and Chacartegui were married.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Fournier, of Grants Pass, Ore., said they were naming their 3-year-old Mark Lloyd after Fournier.

Holt said he was racing against a Dec. 31 deadline of a special immigration provision. He plans to make one more trip.
