Boots and Spurs

By THELMA YOUNGQUIST

Everyone is scurrying around trying to find just the right gift for Christmas and attending parties. And still there are many things to do before the big day, but all are finding time to come out and ride in the various night events at the barn.

Another large crowd attended the fun night last week. Many riders in the arena and they all had a wonderful time. A guest of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Cross last week was Glen Morgan of Boise, Idaho. Glen is a former member of the club and has not been back to visit us for several years, so he was kept busy greeting old friends.

If accidents run in a series of three, then Clarence LaCross can relax, when he recovers from his latest accident. Clarence was riding last week and his horse became startled and bucked him to the tankard, breaking his wrist in three places. He will be out of circulation for about six weeks with this accident. In September, Clarence broke his finger, then in November he suffered infection in his leg, caused by a horse bumping him, and now this accident. We hope that this is the end of the accident trail for him. The LaCrosses will leave this weekend for Tacoma to spend a week of the Christmas vacation.

The call ropers are getting in to a regular routine of practice on Sundays and Tuesday evening. They have a large group now, and more are coming in all the time. Larry Fresh is a new roper and the more experienced ropers feel that he has quite a future in the contests. Linda Lawrence tried roping last week. She didn't catch but got started on her roping career. The bulldoggers have their time early Sunday mornings and on Thursday evenings, and they too are adding to their membership each week.

Drill master Floyd Seaman called a meeting of the drill team on Wednesday night and it was decided to start the yearly practice of the team on January 9. The drill team presented past captain Roy Stender and past drill master Ervin Ward with gifts of barometers. Mr. Ward will act as captain of the group for the coming year. Movies of last summer shows and drills of the team were shown and enjoyed. The Wards and Howard Stephens have several films of past shows and all the group enjoy seeing how they did in the various drills. They always hear that they did a fine job, but seeing is believing.

Tonight is the night for the annual Christmas party for all club members and their families. Santa will be there, there will be balloons, prizes, gifts and all that goes with a Christmas party. A lunch will be served to club members and their families after the arena festivities are over. There will be a prize for the one guessing the identity of Santa and also prizes for the best dressed individual and horse in the arena. George Arbuckle and his crew have worked hard and long to decorate the arena and we know that it will be beautiful. Spectators are invited to come out and watch the festivities.

May your Christmas be the merriest ever, and your holidays the happiest. Merry Christmas!
