

Rayburn Bucks Time Limit on Mid-East Plan

View Runs Counter to That Expressed by Many Solons

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) said today he is "definitely" against writing a time limit into President Eisenhower's resolution on the Middle East.

He expressed the opinion as the House Foreign Affairs Committee arranged to hear former Democratic Secretary of State Dean Acheson in continuing public hearings on the proposal.

Rayburn's view ran counter to that being expressed by a number of other Congress members of both parties, among them the House Democratic leader, Rep. McCormack (Mass.) said in a separate interview he thinks there should certainly be a time limit, but he had no fixed idea what the limit should be.

Some legislators have suggested that the powers Eisenhower is asking be limited to two years, while others have suggested a proviso which would allow either the House or the Senate to terminate the resolution by majority vote.

But Rayburn said the President already has permanent constitutional authority as Commander-in-Chief to send American armed forces abroad.

Fixing a terminal date on a congressional resolution affirming this authority for the Middle East, he said, could cause future difficulty because the resolution might expire while there are still serious troubles in that area.

Eisenhower did not set any time limit in his proposed resolution, which says the President is authorized to give military and economic help to Middle East nations and use American troops there if necessary against open Communist attack.

Secretary of State Dulles has said the administration has an open mind on how the resolution might be terminated.

Dulles strongly denounced a proposed Democratic substitute for the Eisenhower resolution.

Rayburn had said the substitute used a "sneaky" approach. He passed it along to committee chairman Gordon (D-Ill.) for consideration, but added that the Democrats were not committed to it. Initial reaction among committee members of both parties seemed cool.

Ragweed Said Out of Control in 2 Counties

PORTLAND (AP)—A more comprehensive program to combat ragweed in Oregon was urged by the state Board of Health in a report issued Wednesday.

The board warned that ragweed, the "most vicious of all pollen-producing plants," has grown out of control in Josephine and Umatilla counties and has heavily infested Clackamas and Marion counties.

In addition, the board said, ragweed has been found in Washington, Columbia, Yamhill, Polk, Benton, Jackson and Morrow counties.

The 1953 Legislature placed responsibility for ragweed control on landowners but the act it passed gave no eradication funds to the state Department of Agriculture.

Earlier this week Rep. Fred Meek, Portland, said he will ask the new Legislature to vote $50,000 for ragweed control.

Portland Man Gets Soil Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harold E. Tower of Portland, Ore., Wednesday was selected by the Department of Agriculture to be the agency's Soil Conservation Service representative in the Far West states, Alaska and Hawaii.

Tower, Oregon State conservationist since 1953 and a veteran of 26 years of service with the Agriculture Department, will work with conservation officials in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Utah, Arizona, Nevada, California, Hawaii and Alaska.

Tower succeeds Cyril Luker, who was named assistant to the administrator for the department's great plains program.

Warden Tough On Non-Eaters

ANGOLA, La. (AP)—Warden Maurice Sigler of the state penitentiary took stringent action against 20 convicts on a hunger strike. He stripped their cells of furniture and mattresses and denied them tobacco privileges.

The men took their last meal at breakfast Saturday and then began their demands to be allowed to take part in the prison incentive pay program which began Jan. 1.

SOMETHING ROTTEN

ASHBRIDGE, England (AP)—Aneurin Bevan's 200 pigs were put on probation today. The parish council gave the left-wing Labor party leader 30 days to "improve" the odor emanating from his pig farm, although some council members said Bevan's pigs "smell no different than other pigs."
