President Requests Another $76 Million For Drought Relief

Urges Step-up of State and Local Assistance

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH WASHINGTON (P) — President Eisenhower says he is asking Congress today for an additional $76 million dollars for emergency drought relief. Plans to include the request in the administration budget going to the lawmakers during the day were announced by the President at a conference in Wichita, Kan., late yesterday. Immediately after that meeting with representatives from 15 drought-hit Great Plains states, Eisenhower flew back to the capital, ending a six-state aerial and ground inspection tour which started Sunday. Although he called for continuation and expansion of emergency aid, he told his audience of about 700: "I am convinced that the state and local governments should assume greater responsibility in helping solve the recurring problems of agriculture, including distress."

Error Blamed For Burning of Indian Village

THE DALLES (UP) — Army Engineers today blamed a "regrettable error" for the destruction by fire of part of the Celilo Indian village above The Dalles dam. Negotiations were underway between the government and the Indians for purchase of the village and wreckers employed by Army Engineers apparently anticipated the sale and burned six of the 40 buildings today before they were stopped. Mrs. Flora Thompson, wife of the 100-year-old chief of the Celilos, said the burned buildings belonged to the Yakima tribesmen who have been dipping at Celilo Falls. She said "They don't know anything about the fire yet. They are busy removing their dead from Memaloose Island to the Washington shore." Mrs. Thompson said her husband, who is ill in a nursing home, had not been told about the burning. The village that will be destroyed as soon as the Indians receive compensation was not occupied since the last fishing season at the falls. Filling of The Dalles dam pool will inundate the Indian village. Chief Thompson's home will escape the flood.
