News, Views of Salem Students

South
By Judy Baker

South Salem students found themselves becoming acquainted with new classes and teachers Monday, the first day of the new semester, as all half semester courses changed. English classes began new studies, and a third of the physical education classes started a term of health.

Both satisfaction and determination to improve during the current semester were student attitudes Wednesday when report cards, revealing last term's grades and average grades for the entire first semester, were issued. Semester averages will be permanently recorded and placed on file in the school office.

Sophomores and juniors have been occupied during home room this week with registration for the fall semester.

First Lady Coronation
Which of the ten senior candidates will be named First Lady of South Salem high in 1957? Curiosity concerning who will reign over the second annual Coronation Ball will be climaxed tomorrow night when the crowning ceremony highlights the ASB formal in South's east balcony gym.

24 Earn Emblems
Earning their third "S" emblem by receiving a total of 50 points since school started are 22 seniors. Two juniors have received a sum of 125 points for their third "S". Emblems were on sale in the hall Thursday.

'S' Club Meets
Money raising projects were discussed by Variety "S" club members during a meeting on Tuesday, club day. Sponsoring a faculty-varsity basketball game with a small student admission charge to increase the club treasury was suggested.

College Entrance Stressed
Stressed in student council meeting Tuesday was the fact that juniors and seniors interested in a specific college should talk to vice principal Neil Brown or scholarship chairman Mavis Malbon and send to the college university for information concerning entrance requirements.

Friday Free Day
Today being a free day for Serra students because of the mid-term tests, many activities are planned. One of the ski trip to Mt. Hood. In the early morning around 20 Serra students went to the mountains for a two-day skiing excursion.

Annual Work Done
Serra's advertising and patron drive for Serra's first annual is well over the 50 per cent mark. Don Nordone received special recognition for his advertising and patron salesmanship. He also spent today contacting people for patrons and ads.

Stretch Test Tried for Sweater Day

A lot of Leslie Junior high boys were trying to get their prize sweaters back into shape Friday after the school's female population gave them the treatment during annual "Sweater Day" Thursday. Here Carol Smith (right) is given a two-way stretch from Rosemary Myers (left) and Judy Strang. Each girl persuaded her favorite boy to loan her his biggest sweater for the day. Spurring classes on to victory in the "Miss Caruthers Returns" ticket-selling contest are such eye-catching slogans as "Away we go", or "Look for us on top". A kickoff assembly this week opened the contest.

To keep enthusiasm high, prizes and awards are offered to the top class, individual high salesmen and to each room making its 100 per cent mark. Names of patrons must be turned in by January 30, and the deadline for ticket sales is February 7.

Dances Listed
Dancing the two-step and the rye waltz in the play will be these juniors and seniors; Jackie Doerfler, Diana Braulick, Eloise Corey, Sally Joseph, Janice Ebner, Mary Alice Weissbeck, Laveda Johnson, Sue Watson, Janice Dabler, Marianne Murray, Carol Flicker, Janie Stien, Dolores Weston, Janet Larson, Charlotte Helton, Liz O'Brien, and Pat Kindel. The girls are all Treble Tind members.

A warmly welcomed semester holiday today brought an end to mid-term exams. Wednesday and Thursday, students shuddered and groaned, as examinations took over the entire schedule. Semester reports will be mailed out next week.

New Cheer Leaders to Perform
Two new junior class cheerleaders, Jerry Anne Whitehurst and Marianne Murray, will see action when basketball playoffs begin in February. The juniors are also working on a new class song which they hope will help them retrieve the sportsmanship banner from the seniors.

Janet McCarty and Joanne Rak, seniors; Sue Van Mariynn Ripp, Dorothy Tharalson and Cathy Leontenbers, juniors along with the freshman and sophomore class officers, have been invited to attend the parent's club meeting next Monday night.

Adele Welly, baccalaureate location: Charlotte Tilgner, Margie Morton, and Marie Super, baccalaureate program; Larry Merk, Darlene Pison, and Harold Remple, speakers; Beverly Babbs, Larry Ediger, and Iris Truax, graduation program; Shirley Wiens, Vi Ruby, Arlene Barnett, and Betty Koop, Gift Verda Wall, Shirley Newfield, Cliff Ganskie, and Vernon Heinrichs, motto flowers.

Salem Academy's pie baking champion, Margie Morton, was again a winner when she won first place for Polk county at the state contest held in Eugene Saturday January 19. Margie, accompanied by Mrs. Friesen, Home Ec. teacher, and Margie's mother and sister attended the contest and banquet which was held in the pie bakers honor the same evening.

Forty-three contestants from 15 counties were competing in the contest with a county winner being chosen each as well as a state winner. Margie received a prize check and an award certificate. A tour of the University of Oregon was conducted for the pie bakers and visitors.

GAA Initiation
A candle-light GAA initiation for new members was held in the school chapel January 22 after school. In charge of the initiation was Betty Koop and Vi Ruby. To be initiated the girls must have earned thirty points in various sports.

After the initiation ceremonies stunts were performed by the new members which ranged all the way from hopping like a bunny across the gym floor to singing "I Love You Truly." Games were played including a volley-ball game between the upper and lower classmen, with the upper classmen being victorious. In charge of games was Glenda Wiley and Betty Fisher.

Devotions were led by Viola Dyck in the school cafeteria followed by a meal prepared by Verda Wall, Delores Pauls and Mrs. Jones, GAA adviser.

Pepp club has been sponsoring various sales such as cake, pie, cupcake and candy. This money raising project has included all of the pep club girls. The funds from these sales will go toward the Sweetheart banquet which is being planned for February 15.

Pep Rally Held
A short pep rally held January 15 in the gym with the band playing, some yells given and a pep talk given by Tom Reimer was followed by a winning game. Game was played with Banks.

In an effort to raise school spirit at games and to encourage the team a brief skit was put on in chapel January 21. Included in the skit was Darlene Olson, Betty Koop, Viola Dyck, Glenda Wiley and Barbara Stankie.

The second part of the school year started last Monday and North High students began their final 15 weeks of school. Second semester registration took up most of the time in the homerooms, as well as the class periods on Monday.

Each student had to re-register for the second semester just as he did when school started last fall. Also in connection with the new semester was the distribution of the third six weeks report cards and the first semester final grades. Semester grades for the only ones kept on file in the office. The honor roll will be published in about two weeks.

Fun Night Held
The Girls Letter Club, under the leadership of Carol Stok, president, sponsored a fun night for all interested girls last Tuesday. Volley ball and badminton were the games of the evening. The club holds a fun night about once a month.

The start of the new semester and new text books for some of the students brought about the sale
