

Students Will Direct Sunday Church Service

The high school youth group of the First Congregational Church will direct the entire service of worship Sunday morning.

The worship theme "Consider Your Call" is taken from the National Council of Churches' Youth Week emphasis. Three young people will bring the message; Linda Parker will speak on "The Christian Call in Personal Living"; John Harvey "The Christian Call in Choosing a Life Work"; and Charles Hammerstad "The Christian Call to Build a Better World."

Other parts of the worship will be taken by Cynthia Chase, Edith Gayle Brown, John Little, Robert Gates, Edgar Martin, Jane Stein, Louise Laws and Jane Butler. Participation in a choral reading of dedication will be Marcia Chase, Dennis Dodge, William Grier, Ruth Harnsberger, Robert Hill, G. A. Y. Hogan, Vivian Locker, Richard Mason and Janette Shattuck. The adult leaders for the group is Miss Kayrene Butler.

Beginning Sunday at 9:30 a. m., will be a series of classes for the parents of Primary children. The series will run throughout the month of February and the following topics will be discussed: "Understanding Christian Growth"; "Our Church at Work with the Primary Children"; "Our Pilgrim Series"; and "Our Challenge as Parents."

From 3 to 5 p. m., the Pre-School children of the Church School and their parents will meet together at the church for a family celebration as the climax of a series of parent education classes.

At 8 p. m., the Parent's Club will meet and will see the sound motion picture film "The High Wall," a psychological study of the roots of prejudice.

Former Sea Officer Is Pastor

The Rev. Everett A. Barker, who came to Salem from New Jersey in October last year, is a licensed deck officer in the U. S. merchant marine. Now pastor of Bethel church, he spent his church vacations at sea and is a graduate of the U. S. merchant marine academy.

PASTOR OF THE WEEK

Many Faraway Places Visited By Minister at Bethel Baptist

By MARGUERITE GLEESON
Capital Journal Writer

A comparatively youthful pastor, Rev. Everett A. Barker, native of New Jersey, had traveled into far away corners of the world before coming to Salem as pastor of Bethel Baptist church.

During the war years he was a licensed deck officer in the United States merchant marine. Later he spent his college vacations at sea and even left college for a term to earn money before returning to complete his scholastic work.

Likes Travel, Reading

The broad sweep of the Willamette valley is visible from the window of his book-lined study at the parsonage, 700 Orchard Heights.

Mrs. Barker does not exactly share his fondness for overland travel by automobile but she suggested that he liked very much to work with cars.

The Rev. Barker came here from his native New Jersey where he was assistant pastor of Clinton Hill Baptist church in Newark, N. J. He had been there for four years and had gone there from Union City, N. J., which was his first pastorate.

The still youthful pastor completed high school at Cliff Side high school in 1942 and then entered the United States merchant marine academy at Kings Point, Long Island. He was graduated as ensign in the naval reserve and licensed as a deck officer of the merchant marine.

He served with the merchant marine during the war years, visiting many western coast ports as well as going into ports in many other parts of the world.

Enters College

The war over he entered Bob Jones university at Greenville, S. C., from which he was graduated with a bachelor of arts degree in 1950. His major there was Bible and English.

Later he went to sea again to replenish his finances.

He visited China, Siberia and other places behind the iron curtain. He entered the seminary in New York City in 1950 and was given his degree in sacred theology in 1956 after he completed his thesis. His work had been delayed because of his work.

Meanwhile he was working with Baptist churches in New Jersey, first at Union City and later at Newark from where he came to Salem in October, 1956.

Mr. and Mrs. Barker are delighted with Oregon and happy to be the first family to occupy the new Orchard Heights road parsonage in West Salem. They have one daughter, Bonnie Ruth, 2-year-old with blue eyes and silky pale golden hair.

The pastor's mother, Mrs. Mary Barker, and his brother, an army sergeant, came west to visit the Salem residents early this year. His brother has gone on and his mother will return to New Jersey in early February.

After living so close to New York City the pastor and his wife are happy in Salem and have no desire to return to the east coast. Except perhaps for a visit, by automobile the pastor thinks, but his wife would much prefer other transportation.

Bethany Will Hear Leader

The West Coast Area president of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, the Rev. Theodore H. Van Dyck of San Francisco, will be in Salem on Sunday morning and speak to the congregation of Bethany Bible Church at 11:00 a. m.

In the afternoon he will accompany the pastor, Rev. C. W. H. Sauerwein and the members of the consistory to a Consistorial Conference to be held at Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church at Gresham.

The conference is to be held for all of the pastors and consistory members of the Portland area churches, and will conclude at 9:30 Sunday night.

St. Paul's Men Plan Rifle Team Appearance

Col. Philip W. Allison's Crack Rifle Team will headline the program at the "Ladies Night" no-host supper of the Men of Saint Paul, Monday (Feb. 4) at 6:30 in the parish hall of St. Paul's Episcopal church.

Members and friends of the parish are cordially welcome. Reservations should be made not later than Monday noon, by calling the church office. Dr. Robert T. Boals is president of the Men's Club.

Formal opening and consecration of the first floor of a two-story annex to the West Salem Methodist church will take place Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

The frame structure, which will cost approximately $32,000 when completed, has provision for Sunday school rooms and will relieve a congestion that has existed for some time. The addition will provide an additional 6,000 square feet of usable space.
