3 Plan Valentine Coffee

Among parties planned for St. Valentine's day, February 14, will be the coffee for which Mrs. Sidney W. Schlesinger, Mrs. Richard C. Nelson and Mrs. M. H. Saffron will entertain.

The party will be in Meier & Frank's Salem Oregon room.

A large group of friends has been invited to call between 3:30 and 5:30 o'clock.

Miss Graber Is Recent Bride

Miss Gloria Joan Graber of Hawaii, and Lt. L. John William Taber were married December 29 in St. Stephen's Episcopal church at Wahiawa, Oahu, Hawaii.

The bride is the daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Rollin J. Graber of Wheeler Air Force base, Oahu, Hawaii, and a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Graber of Salem. Lt. Taber is the son of Mrs. George M. Taber of Chandler, Okla., and of the late Mr. Taber.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white tulle dress fashioned with cap sleeves and a scalloped neckline appliqued with Alencon lace. The bouffant hooped skirt cascaded into a graceful train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was caught to a pearl coronet. She carried a bouquet of small white roses with streamers of white buds attached to a prayer book.

The Rev. Gerald G. Gifford read the vows.

As the couple left the church an archway of crossed sabers was formed by six of the bridegroom's fellow officers.

Maid of honor was Miss Robin L. Jamison.

Lt. Edward S. Nelson was best man. Ushers were Lt. Jerry Owens and Lt. Robert Andrews.

A reception followed at the Sperry Loop home of the bride's parents. The wedding party received guests in the lower lanai beside a white Christmas tree.

The bride attended Salem schools and is a graduate of San Bernardino High school and San Bernardino Valley college of nursing in California. She received her R.N. degree last September. Lt. Taber was graduated from Oklahoma A.&M. college and is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon. He is assigned to the 25th Aviation Section, Schofield Barracks, Hawaii. The newlyweds are residing at Haleiwa, Hawaii.

Betrothal Revealed

The engagement of Anita Dahlgren of Portlano, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Ertsgaard of Salem, to Robert Mudrick of Portland was announced recently. The bridegroom-to-be is the son of Mrs. Rebecca Mudrick of Portland. The news was taken at a family gathering and attending from Salem were the bride-elect's brothers and sisters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Ertsgaard and Mr. and Mrs. Duane Ertsgaard.

Today's Menu

THE BRIDE COOKS DINNER

Broiled Chicken
Mashed Potatoes

Green Peas    Bread Tray
Artichokes with Hollandaise Sauce

Fresh Peas    Beverage
ARTICHOKES WITH HOLLANDAISE SAUCE

Ingredients: 1 egg yolk, 1/4 cup (4 tablespoons) butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 2 large artichokes (cooked and drained).

Method: Put the egg yolk in a small deep heat-resistant glass mixing bowl. Have butter cut in four pieces and add. Fill a small iron skillet half full with water; bring water to a boil; turn heat low so water is just below simmering point. Do not allow water to boil or even simmer. Put the bowl with the egg yolk and butter in the skillet; stir with a small French whisk until egg yolk and butter are combined and mixture is about as thick as mayonnaise. Remove from water at once. Whisk in lemon juice. Turn into 2 small containers and serve with hot drained artichokes. (Small Oriental-type teacups — without handles — are nice for individual portions of Hollandaise Sauce.) Makes 2 servings.

Coffee Planned

A legislative party dated for February 20 is an informal coffee planned by Mrs. Lee Ohmart, wife of State Senator Ohmart, at her North 14th street home. Guests will include wives of all members of the senate and house of representatives, wives of board of control members and the wives of supreme court justices.

Some Notations . . .

By M. L. F.

Mrs. Robert D. Holmes, wife of Oregon's governor, entertained at her first at home afternoon Tuesday at her Alvarado Terrace residence, a large group calling between 2 and 5 o'clock. . . . Many of the callers were from valley cities and from Portland, as well as from the capital. . . . Daffodils, giving a bright note of spring, featured the decor, large bouquets of them being arranged about the living room, some arranged with pastel colored carnations and irises. . . . Guests enjoyed the commanding view to both the east and west valleys from the picture windows of the charming living room. . . . The circular tea table was set with a handsome lace cloth, the centerpiece a tall branched silver candelabrum with lighted tapers, around the base a wreath of yellow acacia and white tulip blossoms. . . .

Among those greeted during our call, a group of senate wives, Mrs. Lee Ohmart, Mrs. Francis Ziegler of Corvallis, Mrs. Dan Thiel of Astoria, Mrs. Carl Francis of Dayton, Mrs. G. D. Gleason of Portland, Mrs. Don Willner, wife of Representative Willner of Portland, Mrs. Fred B. Keeler, Mrs. Estill L. Brunk, Mrs. Carl W. Chambers, Mrs. David H. Cameron, Mrs. George Alexander, Mrs. Frank Healy, Mrs. Albert C. Graag and her daughter, Miss June Lockridge, Mrs. Paul H. Hauser, Mrs. J. A. Krebs, Mrs. Philip Bouffard, Mrs. H. B. Gilsner, Mrs. Emmet Rogers, Mrs. C. R. Monk, Mrs. Marvin Nettleton, Mrs. James J. Walton, Mrs. Ralph E. Purvine, Mrs. Stewart Johnson, Mrs. B. O. Schueking, Miss Helene Schueking, Miss Elizabeth Lord, Miss Edith Schryver, Mrs. Allan G. Carson, Mrs. Raymond Walsh, Mrs. Gus Moore, Mrs. J. Edgar Reay, Mrs. David Dunaway, Mrs. Hillary Elzel, Mrs. Francis Colgan. . . .

Among those assisting at our call Mrs. Elmer O. Berg, Miss Echo Yeater, Mrs. Thomas G. Wright, Jr., Mrs. Robert Y. Thornton, Mrs. Hall S. Lusk, Mrs. Pat Dooley, wife of the speaker of the house, Mrs. Charles A. Sprague, Mrs. Harry Swanson, Mrs. William C. Perry, wife of the chief justice. . . .

Mrs. Holmes again will be at home next Tuesday afternoon between 2 and 5 o'clock, planning the affair as a weekly Tuesday event except at those times she will be out of the city. . . .

Thursday morning brings another legislative gathering, an informal coffee for which Mrs. Pat Dooley, wife of the speaker of the house, and Mrs. Robert Stewart of Keating, wife of Representative Stewart, will entertain at Meier & Frank's Salem auditorium.

Mrs. Leon S. Davis, Hillsboro, whose husband is a representative from Washington county, and Mrs. Emil A. Stutz, Nyssa, whose husband is representative from Malheur county, will pour. . . .

Alumni Meeting

College of Idaho alumni in the Salem area have been invited to attend a coffee hour Sunday, February 10 from 2:30 to 5 p.m., in the Multnomah hotel in Portland, according to Paul Hayman, Portland alumni committee chairman.

Guests from the Caldwell campus planning to attend include President Tom E. Shearer, Miss Margaret Sinclair of the English department faculty and former alumni association secretary and J. A. "Babe" Brown, director of athletics and head basketball coach.

Election of committee members will be conducted and a new C of I movie will be shown, Hayman said.

AT WILLAMETTE

Campus Set For New Semester

By LUCY MYERS
(Capital Journal Correspondent)

With the scurry of registration completed, the students are ready to face the new semester with the usual good intentions.

To get things off to a flying start, Willamette will host the Oregon Federation of Collegiate Leaders conference, Friday and Saturday. According to Don Peterson, secretary-treasurer of the federation and Willamette's member-at-large on the Student Council, 14 Oregon schools will be represented and between five and ten leaders from each college will attend. Gov. Robert D. Holmes will be the main speaker, and Secretary of State Mark Hatfield also will speak.

The committee members who are formulating plans for the conference, the purpose of which is to enable college leaders to discuss mutual problems, are George Hoyt, Steve Nason, Willard Bunney, Dean Bishoprick, and Norm Dyer.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday Christian Resource Week will be conducted with the Rev. Randall C. Phillips of Burnbank, Calif., as the chief resource leader and speaker. "Why Christianity" is the theme and the Rev. Mr. Phillips will initiate the three following topics of discussion during his respective 10 a.m. addresses: "Why Christianity: Its Purpose," "Why Christianity: Its Plan," "Why Christianity: Its Performance."

A faculty tea is planned for Tuesday afternoon, and individual and group discussions will be conducted with the Rev. Phillips each afternoon.

"Keys of the Kingdom," starring Gregory Peck and Thomas Mitchell, will be shown in the Fine Arts auditorium Tuesday evening and fireside discussions are planned for Wednesday evening in the living organizations. A communion service will be at the First Methodist church, Thursday at 7 p.m.

China, Figurines Feature Display of Month at Bush House

An outstanding collection of Staffordshire china and figurines is now on display at Bush House, Salem Art museum, through the courtesy of Dr. and Mrs. Douglas Cooper of Salem and arranged by David Dunway, chairman of the special exhibits committee of the art museum.

The collection now on view runs the gamut from handsome platters, plates and serving pieces to the more amusing collage ornaments, including a large Staffordshire dog, Red Riding Hood, Jack and Jill, the Duke of Cambridge, General Wolsley, William Tell, Robert Burns, a Stag and Hound spill vase and numerous other pieces.

The gay Staffordshire mantel ornaments were a simple folk art originally made for folk with limited purse strings by men who copied into earthenware life as they saw it around them. Historic scenes, political events, the animal kingdom, and the whimsies of childhood were all wrought into decorative pieces to grace the homes of those days.

The promoters of Staffordshire also rushed their artists across the ocean to the young America to delineate scenes and situations here and there are many pieces of Staffordshire recording American history in the making, which are the joy of present day antique collectors.

The fine Cooper collection now being shown at Bush House will make a permanent impression of the Victorian era on all those who call at Bush House during February.

Mothers Assist At Hi-Y Dance

Plans for the "sweetheart formal" for high school girls sponsored by the Hi-Y Mothers club were completed at the meeting of the group Tuesday noon. The dance will be Saturday evening, February 9, at South Salem high school.

In connection with the new member drive, Mrs. Charline Bayne talked on the different women's activities including swimming, gym work and child care. William Culp, senior student at North Salem high school, presented a discussion of the world service program of the YM, particularly in Jerusalem where aid is given on both sides of their local situation. Pictures of Jewish refugee camps were shown. Mr. Culp pointed out that the YM movement is 110 years old, having started in England, with its United States program beginning in 1851. Eighty countries are participating in YM work with 38 additional countries carrying on programs through the support of the United States and Canada.

The shower for the YM kitchen was a successful project of the day's program. A Valentine theme was used in decorations to which large bouquets of pussywillows were added. Hostesses were Mrs. Clifford T. Hudson, Mrs. Albert A. Wabs, Mrs. Glenn M. Meier and Mrs. Charles Faulkner.

The next meeting of the club on March 5 will be the Hi-Y mothers farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Washburn and family.

Plan Tea

Plans for a Martha Washington tea will be made at the meeting of the Morange circle of Morningstar Methodist church Thursday, February 7, at 7:30 p.m. at the church.

The tea is set for George Washington's birthday, February 22, and the group at this week's meeting will work on several period costumes that will be worn by those greeting and serving at the tea. Entertainment is being planned for the serving hours which will be from 2 to 4 o'clock. All interested mothers and daughters are invited to the tea.

FRIENDSHIP night and initiation

will be observed by Cherry assembly. Order of Rainbow for Girls, Thursday evening, February 14, at 7:30 o'clock at the Scottish Rite temple. Refreshments will be served by the Mothers club.

MOLALLA (Special) — Mrs. Sam Marson

observed her 70th birthday anniversary Saturday, February 2. Members of the family called in the afternoon for birthday cake. Stopping in to congratulate Mrs. Marson were Geno Marson, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Marson and Mr. and Mrs. I. Hill.

Washington Scene . . .

MacKinlay Kantor was a recent Washington visitor. He is the man credited with bringing the Civil War back in vogue by his Pulitzer prize winning novel, "Andersonville."

He took a crack at authors who "found they could write the same sex novels about the American historical scene; they had only to dress their flappers in crinoline." He deplored historical mistakes in novels about the Civil War, citing such as having Fort Sumter fired on in October instead of April and giving Lincoln a deep, sonorous voice, instead of a nasal treble.

Contrary to what one might think he did not write "Andersonville" on sites of the Civil War. After researching in the Library of Congress for 20 or 35 years — he did most of the book in Spain. In the last five days he wrote 27,000 words. He likened this production to chasing a sausage on the end of a stick. "I knew if I worked a little harder," he said, "I could bite it."

When his daughter, Layne Schroeder, came out with her first book, "The Four at Thermopylae," he had words of caution for her. He said he would never have urged her to write. It is too demanding, too fraught with loneliness and frustration, and offers too few rewards. It is even, he told her, dangerous — leading to use of drugs and stimulants — even to suicide.

His next work will be an historical novel of Iowa frontier days. Now a resident of Sarasota, Florida, he grew up in Webster City, Iowa. He was a newspaperman in his native state.

Speaking of Civil War novels, he stressed the value of "the lens of distance and time." It is nearly a century since the Civil War. "It takes that long to view the whole thing from the pedestal of the remote historical viewpoint." He added wryly: "There ought to be a law to compel people to study their subjects thoroughly — many don't know history."

Alice K. Leopold, director of the Women's Bureau, complimented Oregon as one of the foremost states to recognize the value of returning qualified teachers of 50 or 60 years of age to the teaching profession. "We are in an economic upsurge," she said, "and we need women of mature age in all professions."

We see the influence of teachers when their pupils visit Washington. Here recently was Mrs. B. F. Johnson of Portland and her daughters, Mary and Susan. A student in Lincoln high school, Mary had special pilgrimages in mind. Her American history teacher, Lex Prillaman, a well known Oregon educator, had been discussing executive departments and a bureau of government. First of all, Mrs. Johnson visited the Bureau of Standards to see the glass enclosed foot of platinum and the pound in gold. "Neat" is the way Susan, a pupil in Catlin's school, characterized the State Dining Room in the White House. "I always wanted to see where President and Mrs. Eisenhower sit at formal dinners."

Housewarming for Mr., Mrs. Jones

A surprise housewarming was given Sunday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Jones and Michael at their new home on Vine street. A gift was presented to them followed by a dessert.

Guests were Mrs. J. R. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hamilton and Sally, all of Rickreall, Mr. and Mrs. Verlin Hamilton and Carolyn of Independence, Mrs. C. W. Bennett of Springfield, Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Nita Grimes, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Falk, Janet, Shanna, Jimmy, Mrs. Douglas B. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald H. Bates, Mr. and Mrs. Daryl F. Jones, Sandy, Stevie, Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Jones, Linda, Jimmy, Danny, Mrs. James C. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Bates.

Hospital Auxiliary Plans Rummage Sale

At a meeting of Salem General Hospital auxiliary Tuesday morning plans were completed for a rummage sale scheduled for February 22 and 23 over Greenbaum's. Mrs. Otto R. Skopli, Jr., has been named chairman for the sale. Rummage may be left at the hospital prior to the sale.

The auxiliary appropriated about $1,000 for a sink and electric booster for the water heater at the hospital, as part of its general project for the installation of kitchen equipment.

Announcement was made by the manager of the hospital that three floors of the old hospital building are open to use again following a general improvement program.

Invitation has been extended to the auxiliary to appear on the "Build Oregon Together" program of the First National Bank on Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock over KSLM.

LIVE Y'sers club will spend Saturday and Sunday on skis at Hoodo bowl. The members will leave the YMCA at 8 a.m. Saturday.

Single men and women between the ages of 18 and 35 are welcome.

Regular meetings of the club are at 8 o'clock every Friday evening at the YWCA. However, due to the weekend of skiing there will be no Friday meeting this week.

Alumnae List New Officers

Gamma Phi Beta alumnae elected new officers when they met Tuesday night for their monthly supper.

Mrs. William H. Hammond was elected president and serving with her will be Mrs. Marens Malby, vice president; Mrs. J. G. Haller, recording secretary; Mrs. Glenn W. Wharton, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Jack Steward, treasurer.

Mrs. Hammond was named delegate to attend the province convention in Seattle, March 1, 2 and 3.

The meeting was at the Hammond home last evening with Mrs. Garlen L. Simpson, Mrs. Betty Templeton and Miss Alice Lehman as co-hostesses.
