

New Sewer System Urged in Southwest Woodburn District

Finance Problem To Be Studied By Group

WOODBURN (Special) — Construction of sewers in the southwest district of Woodburn this summer was discussed at this week's regular council meeting.

Lack of assessable frontage in the area sent preliminary estimates well in excess of other districts and engineers were instructed to classify the proposed system into mains which could be financed out of the sewer fund and into laterals to be paid by assessment.

Estimates also were asked including the new Smith division.

The district would include south of Oak street, west of the railroad tracks and east of Settemier, and Cleveland and Montgomery streets and the area in northwest Woodburn not now sewered. Estimated cost of the project would run about $6 a front foot.

Jess Fikan reported on progress on a plan to open Park and Mt. Hood avenues to the Molalla road. He has obtained commitments for a 60-foot right-of-way from property owners outside the city limits and from several along Park south to Hardcastle. He proposes to widen the streets outside the city limits improved as county roads. Widening the right-of-way would require the city to give five feet on the east side of the ball park. The council favored the plan provided it is approved by the park board and planning commission and that the park fence and grandstand are moved until absolutely necessary.

Chlorinator Asked

The engineering firm was instructed to draw plans and specifications for a chlorinator house at the sewage disposal plant cost not to exceed $4800. Estimates also were sought on enlarging the city barn.

Harold Eichsteadt informed the council that he is drafting a zoning ordinance along the lines submitted by the plan commission. Authorization was given for a new street light at Yew and Third streets and for a permit to the Junior Catholic Daughters to sell candy. An expense of $25 of the city's share for a 2-hour fireman training course by the state fire marshal's office was approved.

The council went on record as opposing state unemployment insurance for cities the size of Woodburn.

Re-appointment of Robert Sawtelle and appointment of Mrs. Don Burlington as successor to Mrs. Gerald Smith on the recreation and parks board was confirmed. Mrs. Smith has served on the board since it was organized and was president last year. She presented her resignation at the beginning of this year.

Unfaithful Woman Makes New Problem for Herself

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: A few years ago I was unfaithful to my husband. My spiritual counselor advised me to keep the fact to myself. However, I told my husband, and haven't had a minute's peace since. Since I told him, he works even less than usual. If I threaten to quit my job, he says he'll take the children away from me. He gets all my pay, and all he gives me is barely enough for necessities. The children need clothes, which he won't buy. I work all week, spend Saturday and Sunday doing housework, washing, ironing and cooking. All he does is watch TV and visit his mother—Mildred.

DEAR MILDRED: You have already demonstrated how you take sensible advice. I would certainly advise you to keep your pay check for the necessities your husband won't buy. Further than that, I suggest that you take him to court for non-support.

Someday you'll learn that love and consideration aren't earned by making a doormat out of yourself. Respect comes first; until you win that, the gentle attributes of kindness and tenderness will not be given to you. Go back to your spiritual counselor and this time, follow his advice!

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: For six months I was engaged to a widower with two children. He seemed very devoted and was very anxious for me to set a wedding date. The last time I saw him was a month ago. He promised to call, but never did. He's asked for his rings back. Should I demand an explanation, or just send them back?—Puzzled.

DEAR PUZZLED: It's extremely doubtful if an explanation would be forthcoming. Your curiosity will have to go unsatisfied—at least until a future date when the tale may be told. Return the rings and ask no questions.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I'm a young teenager and am allowed to date. I'm home at a certain time and my parents have met the boy. We usually double date with my girl friend, whose curfew is a bit more liberal. I arrange the dates and the only difficulty comes when she suggests a soda and I'm due home—S.S.

DEAR S.S.: It's gals like this who spoil things for the law-abiding citizens like yourself. Give her one more chance to co-operate on your curfew or — no more double dates. Maybe if she has to forage for her own beaux, she'll appreciate your good fellowship.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I'm a merchant seaman and don't get to see my girl very often. Last week I tried to get her jealous by going out with someone else. She got more mad than jealous and now says the other girl can write to me; she won't—Mac.

DEAR MAC: Playing tricks to test a girl's love is contemptible behavior. Sincere contrition may win your girl back.
