Most Federal Aid Cash Goes Back to States That Paid It

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK — The belief that most federal aid is used to help the poorer states with funds taken from the richer states is challenged today in a study by the New Jersey Taxpayers Assn. It says most of the money just makes a round trip to Washington and back to the state of origin, losing a little on the way through operating costs.

The survey is released as Congress is getting ready to debate federal aid for such things as schools and roads.

The argument on the other side is that some states and communities cannot afford to provide these things themselves because their citizens cannot bear higher taxes, having relatively lower incomes.

The New Jersey group says that last year federal aid came to more than 3 1/2 billion dollars, provided by the taxpayers of all the states. By studying what taxpayers of each state paid into Washington and comparing it with the amount of federal aid received by each state, the association states that only 23 per cent of the overall federal grant system was collected directly from taxpayers in the high tax revenue producing states and spent in the lower revenue producing states. This 23 per cent was 800 million dollars.

The major share, 77 per cent, the survey says, was present in the states whose taxpayers supplied it in the first place. This came to 2 1/2 billion dollars.

The survey shows, however, that the 23 per cent of the funds that went to states different from those of origin was supplied by 14 states.

These 14 got a little less than 1 1/2 billion dollars in various forms of federal aid, but put up about 2 1/2 billion in taxes.

The other 34 states, according to the survey, put up a little more than a billion dollars and got almost two billion.

Phi Beta Sigma Has Initiation

MONMOUTH — The Oregon College of Education chapter of Phi Beta Sigma, national honorary fraternity for teachers, held an initiation ceremony and the annual homecoming banquet.

Formal initiation ceremonies were in the college faculty lounge. The seven new members initiated were: Jack Little and Gary Reid, Monmouth; George Slawson and Bill Wall, Dallas; Evelyn Tanaka, Lahaina, Hawaii; Wanda Stevens, Blue River; and Jannette Wooden, Willamina.

Following the initiation, a banquet was held in the Monmouth hotel. Entertainment was furnished by the OCE girls' sextet under the direction of Mrs. Denise Redden, associate professor of music.

Responsible for planning the Saturday program were the Phi Beta Sigma officers: Tom Tanner, Cornelius, president; Marcia Yoder, Hubbard, vice president; Opal Bradshaw, Wain, secretary; Ruth Schweizer, Clackamas, treasurer; and Tom Nash, Salem, reporter. Dr. Clifford Corley, assistant professor of education, is adviser to the group.

Lafayette Folk Hospital Patients

LAFAYETTE (Special) — A number of Lafayette residents are making hospital sojourns these days. In the General hospital in McMinnville are John Sharp, and Mrs. Bill Scott, former of Lafayette, now of Yamhill. Mr. Sharp will undergo major surgery on Tuesday and Mrs. Scott is under treatment at the hospital.

John Mount entered Providence hospital in Portland Sunday and was scheduled to undergo surgery on his leg Monday. Mount injured his leg two years ago in an accident in the woods, and the steel pin inserted in a fracture will be removed in his present surgery.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the ream of paper and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. This will give you the letters of your message. The checked figures give you...
