

Stayton Sets Speech Tilt For Thursday

Students to Compete For Pilgrimage To UN Meet

STAYTON (Special) — Stayton's sixth annual United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth contest will be Thursday in the 100F hall. The time has been set ahead one-half hour this year to 8 p.m.

Eligible are sophomores and juniors of Stayton Union high school who will be 16 and 17 years of age during the period July 1 to Aug. 15, 1957. They must have written and submitted an essay of not more than 1000 words on the subject, "The United States, the United Nations, and World Affairs."

Students and escorts will leave the high school at 1 o'clock under the guidance of the Odd Fellows committee. They will be taken to a place of interest and education where a special tour has been arranged with the management. The experience will be the subject of the students' contest talks at the evening meeting.

Judging will be based 30 per cent on the essay with the other 70 per cent to be related to the speech.

The winner will represent Stayton Union high school at the finals late in March. Winner of the final contest will go on a month-long, expense-paid United Nations Pilgrimage for Youth. The trip will be made by chartered bus from the northwest including 15 pilgrims from Oregon, 10 from Washington, and eight from British Columbia.

An appropriate program will be presented Thursday night along with the contest. The high school band will play, and there will be other numbers.

RE-ELECTED

GERVAIS (Special) — Donald Coleman was re-elected by the Marion County Farmers Union Oil Company of Mount Angel, at the meeting Saturday.
