

Woodburn Takes Last Step For Annexation

WOODBURN (Special)—The annexation ordinance for the 17 acres of the new Smith addition outside the city limits of Woodburn and the Dean Bishoprick property on West Hayes street has been passed through the required three readings Tuesday night by the city council but final passage was delayed until the March 5 session as Councilman Hurst was absent.

The preliminary report of the planning commission on a city zoning ordinance was accepted and the council decided public hearings would not be required prior to the commission filing a final report. Such hearings will be scheduled after the ordinance is drawn and before a vote is taken.

Frank Doerfler, Layman Baird and Joe Fry appeared before the council in connection with proposed improvement of George street. They were informed that drainage would be taken to the Silverton road and that deeds for a five foot strip on each side of the street required for a 50-foot right of way. A blanket deed and a petition for the improvement is to be prepared.

The problem of relieving congestion in areas of the Bible Baptist, Christian and Methodist churches with parking on one side of the street was discussed and referred to the planning commission.

Permission was granted to the American Legion and auxiliary to conduct a heart Sunday fundraising campaign Feb. 24 from 1 to 4 p.m.

Engineers to Open War on Death Traps

SILVERTON (Special)—The Willamette chapter, Refrigeration Service Engineers society made plans to incorporate Oregon into the overall national plan to observe "Death Trap Week" at a meeting at the Mayflower hall this week.

Al DeJardo, Silverton, was appointed by Merel Plank, president, as chairman of the committee which will call on Governor Holmes to seek a state proclamation regarding a week to be set aside to publicize the hazards of abandoned ice boxes and refrigerators that have resulted in so many fatalities. Robert Preston was named official delegate to the Western International Association Education forum in Portland March 29-31.

It was announced that there would be a buffet supper on March 18 at the Pines on Portland Rd. to hear a representative from the Detroit Lubricating Valve company discuss expansion valves.

The auxiliary made plans at the meeting for a card party to be held at the West Salem city hall Saturday evening. Various games will be in play with prizes for high score and refreshments at the conclusion of the evening.

Both groups met in joint session for the program which featured a talk on heart diseases by Dr. Lucille Fortner with an accompanying film on the subject.

Lebanon Has Close Check On New Laws

Legislative Chairman Named to Watch Lawmakers

LEBANON (Special)—On recommendation of City Attorney Wendell Gronso, Mayor Ralph Scroggin has appointed a legislative chairman to assist the council in evaluating current proposed legislation. Councilman R. E. Davis was named.

The council recommended passage of a proposed bill to add 50 per cent of the cost of street improvements to the assessed valuation of property for Bancrofting, and indicated approval of Senate Bill 141, requiring county officials to present to cities copies of notices of intent to foreclose property within cities.

The recorder was instructed to write to legislators that the council opposes House Bills 530 and 531, both dealing with county powers of making city-type improvements mandatory for fringe or suburban areas at total county population expense.

364 Given Vaccine Against Polio at Amity Hi School

AMITY (Special)—Salk polio vaccine inoculations were given Wednesday morning, at the Amity grade school by Dr. Charles H. Law assisted by nurses from the Yamhill Public Health Department. Students from the Hopewell and Bridwell schools were inoculated with the Amity grade school group, which all totaled 270. This was followed by Amity high school students and teachers numbering 90, making a total of 364 inoculations in the three hour period.

Dr. Law stated his time was entirely repaid when first grade student, Lorina Rosenbalm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rosenbalm, after receiving her shot, threw both arms around the doctors neck and kissing him twice on the cheek said "Thank you, doctor." After returning to his office and learning her name, Dr. Law recalled that he had ushered Lorina into the world six years ago.

Shotgun Blast Takes Life of Dr. Woodworth

Albany Physician Hit In Throat When Weapon Fires

ALBANY, Ore. (Special)—Dr. Marshall M. Woodworth, 62, this city's longest practicing physician, was found dead in his home Thursday from a shotgun blast.

Walter Kropp, coroner's deputy, said it was an accident. An investigation, he said, established that the doctor was cleaning his guns at the time.

He had cleaned three, Kropp said, and when he reached for a shotgun on a wall rack, a jar apparently released the firing pin. Woodworth was hit in the neck by a blast.

The body was found by the widow, Janet. She had been in Eugene visiting their only child, Florence, a University of Oregon student.

Woodworth, a native of Albany, was a graduate of the University of Oregon medical school in 1923. He had practiced here since 1925. The doctor was a former Albany Rotary Club president.
