Injuries Prove Fatal
REDDMOND (AP)—Trygve Ingbrigtsen, 53, Vancouver, B.C., died in a hospital here Saturday night from injuries suffered Wednesday in a highway accident that killed his wife.
Survivors include a son, John, Vancouver, B.C.
Private Ivan G. Strauss applied for a direct commission several months before he got his “greenings” to be inducted. The day he arrived at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., recently to begin his basic training, he received orders promoting him to second lieutenant.

WROTE HISTORIC DECISIONS

Stanley Reed Ends 19 Years As Supreme Court Member

WASHINGTON (AP)—Stanley F. Reed, a Kentucky doctor's son who scaled the judicial heights and wrote some of the nation's key civil rights decisions, ended a 19-year career on the Supreme Court today.
Reed, a bald, 72, announced his retirement last Jan. 21, because he was 72 years old and the strain of his heavy court labors “no longer seems wise.”
Appointed to the nation's highest court by the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1937, he retires at a life-time pension of $35,000 a year, his current salary, and hopes to spend much of his time at his farm in Maysville, Ky., where he was born Dec. 31, 1884.
Reed's departure leaves the court's alignment at three Republicans and five Democrats. His retirement gives President Eisenhower his fourth opportunity to make a Supreme Court appointment. No successor has yet been named.
The court, which returned today after a four-week recess, was expected to hand down a heavy volume of decisions including all cases among 45 now under consideration in which Reed has been chosen to speak for the majority.
Several Communist issues have been hanging fire for some time. They include the appeal of 14 California Communists convicted under the Smith Act, and a constitutional test of the Smith Act membership clause.
The government's giant antitrust suit against the DuPont and General Motors corporations is also awaiting the court's ruling.

TV Columnist Ends Up With Strange Collection of Loot

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—The question asked most often of a TV columnist is: “What do you do with all that loot you get?”
Well, it's a pretty good question. You take the past few days. I've received a straw hat, five shares of stock in a silver mine, a crate of citrus fruit and pizza pie.
The straw skimmer was a dandy. Right across the band, it said: “Maurice Chevalier's Paris, NBC-TV, Wed., March 6.” Couldn't have wanted a nicer message on my hat.
And I would have worn it, too, except it was about the size of a half dollar.
The shares of stock were for real. They were sent to plug an upcoming “G. E. Theatre” thriller. Their worth: 15 cents a share. The last time they paid a dividend was two years before money was invented. I plan to bequeath them

INSIDE HOLLYWOOD

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—When Jessie Landis announced she was going to get married and live half-way around the world in Tehran, her friends thought it most unlikely.
After all, the Chicago-born actress was a veteran of the glittering stages of New York, London and Hollywood. For her to leave her career behind to live in remote Iran was incredible.
But she did it. She's here briefly to play yet another mother—June Allyson's—in “My Man Godfrey.” (She mothered Grace Kelly in “To Catch a Thief” and “The Swan.”) Miss Landis told how the whole thing happened.
The story starts in Korea. An infantry general, J.F.R. Seitz, happened to see the actress's photo on the desk of another general, who was married to a friend of hers. Seitz was impressed.
Later he was returned to the United States to take over command of Camp Kilmer, N.J. This gave him a chance to get to New York and contact his mother-in-law, who was transferred to Tehran to supervise supplies and training of Middle East allies. He wanted her to marry him. First, he would see if living conditions were tolerable.
He sent her, and they were married last November.
“Living in Tehran has been one of the thrills of my life,” she remarked. “It has been a fabulous experience. We live in a beautiful house and have eight servants—all for what one servant would cost here. Why even our house boy has his own driver.”
The natives do all the driving, she explained, because of the erratic nature of the motorists and the laws. The courts hold the driver responsible for traffic damages, not the owner of the car, hence no one with any money drives.
“My husband was worried about what I would do in the daytime while he was working,” Miss Landis said. “My days are so busy I don't know where they go. After we were married, I had thank-you notes to write and the same Christmas. Then we put on a benefit for Hungarian relief which was an enormous success; we raised $21,000.”
She can get to Hollywood in two days of flying and I asked if she would commit for pictures. “I don't think so,” she said. “I came this time because I loved the part and had some legal matters to clear up in New York. I'm not sure my husband likes my being gone.”

Woods Union to Ask Pay Hike

PORTLAND (AP)—The International Woodworkers Union voted at a meeting here over the weekend to seek “a general wage increase and certain fringe benefits,” it said in a statement Monday.
A “finalized negotiating program cannot be announced at this time,” it said, “since there is considerable variance between local union contracts as to the points which may be opened for negotiations this year.”
The union said “it will be necessary to make different point submissions to different employers” when talks start.
Some 200 delegates from locals in Oregon, Washington, Montana, Idaho and California attended the meeting.
First negotiations are expected to start about April 1.
The conference voted to support the British Columbia district in its coming talks with employers.

Nehru Plane Blazes

BOMBAY (AP)—One engine on Prime Minister Nehru's airplane caught fire today and the aircraft made a forced landing on a deserted airstrip near Ranchur, 110 miles southwest of Hyderabad. Nehru and the others aboard stepped out unhurt.

Peddicord Gets To See Girls

PORTLAND (AP)—Blind Clarence Peddicord, 38, under 20-year sentence in the 1935 Meier & Frank Co. store bombing, had a reunion here Monday with two of his children.
Peddicord, here for a hearing on a motion in a mail fraud charge against him, talked with and touched his two oldest daughters, 13 and 11.
He had complained that at the prison he is not allowed to touch the children when they visit him.
But in Judge William East's anteroom he had a brief close visit with the children, who called out cheerfully, “Goodbye daddy,” when they left.

Former Film Producer Named Key Witness in Spy Prosecution

NEW YORK (AP)—Government counsels have identified Boris Morros, former Hollywood producer and music director, as a key prosecution witness for the trial here of three persons accused of spying for the Soviet Union.
Whereabouts of the Russian-born Morros have not been revealed, and his role in the case is cloaked with mystery.
There were unofficial reports that government officials are keeping him out of the way of possible harm.
Morros was named yesterday by Chief Asst. U.S. Atty. Thomas B. Gilchrist, Jr., as the “individual” mentioned in 14 overt acts allegedly involving the three defendants.
The overt acts in which Morros allegedly was a figure included meetings in New York, Paris, Vienna and Zurich, Switzerland. The government charges that he colluded in his detention cell a week ago.

Woods Union to Ask Pay Hike

Strange Gal's Mash Note Has Woman Plenty Worried

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My husband and I have been married three years. We're in our early forties.
I work away from home all summer. When I came back last fall, he seemed very worried. A few days ago I came across a letter written to him by a woman. It was most affectionate, and it hurts so much that I had to say something about it. He said it was just a joke, and nothing whatever to worry about. Should I love him, or stay?—Mattie.
DEAR MATTIE: After waiting so long to get married, I should think you would want to stick around and take care of your husband. The city you live in has plenty of job opportunities. This summer, stay home.
Whether there's anything to the letter or not, drop the subject, keep your husband company and make your own amiable disposition keep his thoughts from wandering. Even if your marriage got off to a bad start, it can be redeemed if you work at it a bit. Don't be so quick to surrender.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX COLUMN

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I'm 13 years old and very much interested in tap dancing. I've never been able to take lessons, but now I have the opportunity and I wonder if I should take advantage of it.—Sally.
DEAR SALLY: Why the hesitation? Take the lessons and success to you!
DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Up to now I have no reason to doubt my husband's love. I'm 23, he's 21, and we have two adorable children. My husband now claims he doesn't love me and never has. He has suggested that I leave and take the kiddies. I don't think this is a solution, but what is?—C.C.
DEAR C.C.: The responsibility of a family can loom very large in the eyes of a boy who has barely come of age. Chiefly, he needs constant encouragement; what he doesn't need is a feeling that he's trapped.
Even if things look dismal at present, don't ever let him think you feel hopeless. You are the more mature of the two, so it's up to you to preserve your family. Get co-operation from relatives and friends; see a marriage counselor, if possible, and, above all, cling to your religious practices and beliefs.
DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I'm a woman of 43, and have a “boy friend,” as they all say today. We started going together about 22 years ago. He doesn't want to hear about marriage or children, so we stopped discussing the subjects long ago. Don't you think it's time he made up his mind?
Maybe I've been too easy. He gets everything he wants when he wants it, and spends very little on me.—T.S.
DEAR T.S.: Apparently the gentleman's objection was to legitimate children only. Know what? One of these fine days he's going to show up with a charming young wife, who somehow overcame his prejudice to marriage!
Maybe she'll accomplish the miracle by refusing some things and demanding others—in their proper order. You should have done it long ago.

Franco Shifts Spain Cabinet

MADRID (AP)—Generalissimo Franco has reorganized his government to strengthen Spain's economy and to “meet modern needs.”
The strength of the Falange in the Cabinet was trimmed. The monarchists remain the largest faction.
The shakeup, first since 1955, brought in younger men and new faces. It was Franco's answer to the country's rising inflation, political strife and public unrest.
Alabama-born Tallulah Bankhead received her first stage acclaim in London in 1923 in a play called “The Dancer.”

Mama Gabor Plans to Wed

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—There's a marriage pending in the Gabor family—but not for Zsa, Zsa, Magda or Eva. This time it's Mother Gabor.
Zsa Zsa said last night that Mrs. Jolie Gabor will be married Sunday in either New York City or Westport, Conn., to an “old friend” from her native Hungary, Count Edmond de Saigethy.
It will be the second marriage for the mother of the much-wedded Gabor sisters. (Magda and Zsa Zsa have each been married four times, Eva thrice.) Mother Gabor's first husband, Vilmos Gabor, 76, the father of the sisters, lives in Budapest, Hungary.
