

Dublin Fears IRA Raid on Election Eve

DeValera's Party Appears to Be in Lead in Campaigning for 18th National Vote Tuesday

By JAMES F. KING

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—Tension gripped Ireland Monday on election eve, sparked by fears that the outlawed Irish Republican Army (IRA) might strike a dramatic gesture of defiance.

Although the campaign was the quietest since Southern Ireland's 26 counties won independence in 1922, special emergency precautions were taken along the jittery frontier separating the republic from the six British-ruled northern counties of Ireland.

American-born, 74-year-old Eamon de Valera, in fighting trim though nearly blind, has won a strong campaign to win back the premiership. De Valera's Fianna Fail (men of destiny) appeared out front in the campaigning for the republic's 18th national election Tuesday.

The election was forced by the resignation of a coalition government led for the past three years by John A. Costello, mild-mannered 63-year-old Dublin lawyer. Sinn Fein, political arm of the illegal IRA, has entered a slate of 19 parliamentary candidates as a show of strength. The Sinn Feiners say they would not take their seats in the Dail (Parliament) even if they won, as a protest against the partition of Ireland.

The established political parties, though favoring uniting the country, have condemned the IRA's recent armed raids into Northern Ireland as a futile way of solving the problem.

Six of the 19 Sinn Fein candidates are serving jail terms for terrorism, but strong sympathy vote for their party could have a tremendous influence on the incoming government.

Indonesia President Ignores East Rebels

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Rebel leaders Monday still ruled in East Indonesia and much of Sumatra, but President Sukarno ignored them publicly.

Sukarno was busy pushing for his plan for a "guided democracy" to replace the Western-style parliamentary system he blames for most of Indonesia's political and economic ills. He wants a new cabinet with all parties including the Communists represented, plus the creation of an "advisory council" headed by himself with final authority over both the cabinet and parliament.

The East Indonesian rebels Saturday proclaimed their control over the Celebes, the Moluccas, the lesser Sunda, and others of the Spice Islands. Lt. Col. Ventje Sumual, leader of the revolt, Monday ordered all government departments in the islands where he claims control to sever their ties with the central government in Jakarta.

Sumual clamped an 8 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew on the islands, threatening that anyone caught breaking it might be shot on sight. He also announced he was freezing money to avert an economic crisis during the "transitional period" and said he was regulating exports of rice, coffee, and oil.

The situation was such that American consular officials at Singapore urged American citizens to stay out of Indonesia "unless they are on official urgent business."

There was no apparent coordination between the revolts in East Indonesia and on Sumatra. It also appeared that while military men are the ostensible leaders, civilian officials in the two areas were behind it all.

Four harmonizers from Renton, Wash., captured the close harmony championship at the annual Gay Nineties celebration here Saturday night.

Known as the Four-Domaties, the group consists of Jimmy Idings, Clayton Lacey, Merv Clements and Del Green.

After them came in order: Agony Four, Portland and Corvallis; Templemen, Portland; Foxceps Four, medical school, Portland; School Masters, Seattle, and Timber Fellers, Seattle.

LEBANON—(Special)—Ground was broken Sunday for the new St. Martin's Episcopal church, Grove at Milton St., by the Rev. David W. Gordon, at 10:15 a. m.

Building and furnishing of the church is estimated will cost $50,000. Mr. Gordon said. Combined seating capacity of nave, chancel and sanctuary will be 200, with provision in the narthex for overflow of 20 to 30. Rector's study, parish office and two sacristies will be included.

The church will be of traditional architecture, with some modern treatment and brick for color and accent, of frame construction. General contractors are Fitzgerald Bros. of Lebanon. Designer of the building is Stuart B. Mockford, Oregon City.

Building committee members are Richard E. Davis, C. E. Nichols, J. C. Brande, R. L. Abbott, J. L. Nicholas, M. C. Mowbray, G. L. Fitzgerald, Mrs. C. T. Rose, Mrs. R. P. Schroeder, Mrs. R. A. Patterson and Mrs. F. K. Shaw. Senior Warden for the parish is Dr. John E. Stanwood.

Swiss Reject Measures
BERN (AP)—Switzerland's voters have turned down by a narrow margin a proposal to make civil defense training compulsory for women. The measure was rejected yesterday 384,263 to 337,317. A proposal to set up state-subsidized television was also rejected, 423,874 to 314,736.

Morgan Words Draw Fire of 4 Republicans

Wyatt, Smith Angered By Insinuation About Paul Patterson

Public Utilities Commissioner Howard Morgan drew fire from four top Republicans in weekend comments on Morgan's testimony in the U. S. Senate committee probe into charges of Portland racketeering.

State GOP Chairman Wendell Wyatt wanted to know why Morgan didn't testify, too, that the Teamsters Union, under attack in the hearing, made a "large" contribution to the campaign of Sen. Wayne Morse (D).

In his testimony in the nation's capital, Morgan quoted Tom Maloney as saying to him that: "Paul Patterson (then Oregon's governor) is our pigeon and we don't want anybody shooting at him." Testimony has linked Maloney with high Teamster union officials.

Wyatt spoke of "contemptible attempts to hide this scandal out of Oregon's most revered governors." The other GOP leaders who voiced criticism of Morgan were state Sens. Warren Gill of Lebanon and Philip Lowry of Medford and former Gov. Elmo Smith.

In his testimony Morgan said that now-Gov. Robert Holmes last fall rejected a campaign offer of $10,000 from the Teamsters. For this money, he said, they wanted a man appointed to the state Liquor Control Commission.

Lowry said a grand jury should investigate the matter and added: "I am shocked that Morgan did not lay the possible commission of a crime before a district attorney or grand jury."

Gill said Morgan's remarks "continued to display the mental instability that has characterized his every act and pronouncement for the past 10 years."

And Smith, who succeeded Patterson as governor and last fall was defeated by Holmes, said, "I am appalled at the vicious attempt by Morgan to reflect on the character of a dead man..."

200 Plumbers Stay Off Job
EUGENE (AP)—More than 200 Willamette Valley plumbers were off the job Monday after a statewide union conference failed to discuss any ways to end the deadlock.

About 100 men are idle in eight valley towns—locked out by an employer group—and another 100 are striking in Eugene, where the Oregon Pipe Trades Assn. met Saturday.

Union spokesman Ray Quick of Eugene said the association discussed the strike and lockout, but did not attempt to draft ways of settling them.

The Eugene-area plumbers, who walked off the job last month, ask a 35-cent-an-hour boost to the present scale of $3.30 an hour.

Plumbers in the eight other towns said they were willing to work after a contract expires last week.

Employers said, though, they already had made plans for a strike and closed their operations.

Donald J. Eyerly, Former Resident, Dies in California
Funeral will be held here Tuesday for a former Salem man killed in a car-train collision at San Jose, Calif., last week.

Donald Jesse Eyerly, 41, who moved to San Jose from here a year ago, died as a result of the accident Thursday. He was riding alone in the automobile.

Services will be held from the Howell-Edwards chapel at 10:30 Tuesday with interment at Belcrest Memorial park.

Eyerly was born at Canton, Ill., Feb. 8, 1916. He came to Oregon from Texas with his parents in 1928 and to Salem shortly before World War II. He was employed as an auto mechanic here.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Dorothy Eyerly; his wife, Mrs. Mabel Skane; Mrs. Ethel Witenberger and Mrs. Daisy Winsor, all of Salem.

MEET THE LEGISLATORS

REP. GRACE PECK

Another member of the house's feminine contingent is Grace Oliver Peck (D), Portland, who is serving her second term in the house. In private life she is a secretary and stenographer in Portland.

Rep. Peck is strong advocate of a separate women's prison, a champion of under-privileged, and frequently takes the floor to make a plea for the distressed persons.

Her father was a Columbia river pilot and she often made trips on his boats. She has served as Democratic precinct committeewoman, and is active in a GAR auxiliary unit. She is a member of St. Philip Neri Catholic church and of Altar society and Legion of Mary.

Rep. Peck was born in Portland January 15, and attended Lincoln high school and business college. Her first husband was Vernon Williams, long editor of the Oregon Democrat. She subsequently married and divorced Raymond Peck.

She is chairman of public health and welfare committee and a member of elections and reapportionment and food and dairying committees.

REP. JOHN MOSSER

Rep. John D. Mosser (R), Beaverton, is one of two Republicans sent to the house by Washington county. Mosser is an attorney partner in a prominent Portland law firm and lives on a small farm tract in Washington county.

Rep. Mosser came to Oregon in 1926. He is secretary of the Beaverton district school board and clerk of the Sunset Valley school district. He also serves on budget board of Beaverton High and Sunset Valley schools.

He served in the army 1942 to November 1945 infantry platoon sergeant and saw combat action.

Rep. Mosser was born March 13, 1923 in Chicago and spent most of his boyhood at Glencoe, Ill. He is graduate of Princeton and the Yale law school. Was married in 1948. He is a member of the Zollinger committee which is developing proposal aimed to aid suburban schools.

He has been a Republican precinct committeeman since 1932. Speaker Dooley placed Mosser on three committees, education, financial institutions and local government.

Youth Saves Driver From Blazing Auto

NEHALEM (UP)—A 19-year-old Wheeler youth rescued a man from a blazing automobile between here and Wheeler early Sunday.

Ron Downie pulled unconscious Glen Duftett, 24, from his burning car before his clothes caught fire. Duftett is in a hospital with fractured ribs and collarbone as a result of a car crash.

State police said Duftett's car crashed into a power pole and caught fire.

Downie, more than a mile away, saw flashes from the downed power lines, jumped into his car and rushed to the scene. With the help of a passing motorist he dragged Duftett from his blazing car.

Duftett's car was destroyed by the blaze.

Gould Rites To Be Tuesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Martha L. Gould, 84, former resident of Salem, will be held in Portland Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. from St. Charles Catholic church. Burial will be made in Belcrest, Salem, at 1 p.m.

Mrs. Gould had resided in Portland for the last 10 years where her two sons, Francis E. and George G. Gould live. Her daughter is Mrs. Elvira E. Chaffer of San Francisco and there are six grandchildren. While living in Salem Mrs. Gould was a member of St. Vincent dePaul parish.

Lorraine Bagley Ends Tour With Linfield Group

Lorraine Bagley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Bagley, 3765 Center St., Salem, was among six members of the Chamber Music players of Linfield college who recently returned from a week-long tour which took them to Redding, Sacramento, Vallejo, Napa and Chico, Calif., and Roseburg, Ore.

Miss Bagley plays the cello. They played for Baptist churches in these cities. Instrumental music from the 17th to 20th centuries made up the program. Director and one of the players is Prof. Milo Wood, chairman of the Linfield music department.

'Frontiersmen' Chop Down Trees At H. Carl Home

Two young Salem "frontiersmen" did some $50 damage when they chopped down three small trees and hacked up some shrubs at the Henry Carl place, 695 E. St., city police reported Sunday.

The boys, ages 8 and 10, apparently climbed a fence into the Carl back yard and used a large hunting knife to chop the greenery down. Parts of one youth agreed to pay for the damage, officers said.

'Rover' Goes to Cairo

LONDON (AP)—V. K. Krishna Menon, India's roving foreign affairs expert, left Monday by plane for Cairo. He predicted a "crisis" unless Israel withdraws from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba area.

Honey Sobers You Up

GENEVA, N. Y. (AP)—The New York State Agriculture Experiment Station says that a tablespoon or two of honey will make a drunken person sober.

The sugars in the honey cause a chemical breakdown in the alcohol in the system. The same treatment may be helpful in routing a hangover, the station reports.

CAMERON MADE A BONER

One Sponsor to Vote Against HC Memorial

The Hells Canyon memorial expected to oppose it, and the 15 Senate Democrats probably will support it.

Sen. Ben Musa (D) The Dalles, chairman of the Senate State and Federal Affairs Committee, which considered the memorial, said he expects "the Senate to split right down the middle" in its vote on the measure.

Sen. Cameron said that his co-sponsorship of the memorial was a mistake.

"Being a new man here," he said, "I was just a green pea when Sweetland asked me to sign the memorial. I was under the impression that it was a memorial asking for construction of John Day Dam, which the Republicans support."

"I didn't know it was for Hells Canyon until after it was introduced."

"I have received many protests from my home district about my sponsorship of this memorial. I don't believe in it. I campaigned on a platform of free enterprise."

Sen. Monroe Sweetland (D) Milwaukee, is the primary Senate sponsor of the measure.

Wildlife Chief Gets 8th Term

WASHINGTON (AP)—Claude D. Kelley of Almore, Ala., was re-elected Sunday to his eighth term as president of the National Wildlife Federation.

The organization, which represents more than two million sportsmen and conservationists, named F. Ross Brown of Albany, Ore., as vice president.

Four regional directors were elected to three-year terms. They include: Frank S. Bunker, Amher, Wash., elected as director of Region 11, which includes Washington, Oregon and Alaska.

River Shipping Comes To Halt for 2 Weeks

THE DALLES, Ore. (AP)—Shipping on the Columbia River between Bonneville and McNary dams will be at a virtual standstill until the opening of the new lock at The Dalles Dam in two weeks.

The old The Dalles-Celilo locks have been closed, ending some 41 years of service.

The first stage of filling the reservoir behind The Dalles Dam will begin on March 10, with the closure of the powerhouse section to start backing up the water.

Fishing Boat Missing

KUSHIRO, Japan (AP)—A 27-ton cod fishing boat with a crew of 17 aboard is believed to have gone down off the northern Kurile Islands, the Maritime Safety Board said today. The Amatsu Maru has not been heard from since it sent an SOS Saturday night.
