

Probers' List Of Vice Joins 'Not Too Good'

PORTLAND — Police Chief William Hilbruner has termed as "not too good" information disclosed by Senate committee investigators that there are 35 gambling, bootlegging or prostitution spots here.

Hilbruner made the remark after police and newspapermen checked the list of 35 places released by a Senate committee investigating charges of labor racketeering in Portland.

"There's some vice," Hilbruner said. "We're still making arrests, but this is no wide-open town. The committee's information wasn't too good."

"We went around to some of those places. One of them had been boarded up and vacant for more than a year," he said.

One news reporter said two of the addresses were non-existent. Another said four spots were vacant, no one answered the door at five of them, and occupants of 13 others denied they were used for vice of any kind.

61 to Finish At Chemawa On Tuesday

CHEMAWA (Special) — Early graduation, first such in the 72-year history of the Indian school, will be held Tuesday, March 12 for 61 students.

George T. Barrett, graduate of Chemawa who went on to take advanced work at the University of Minnesota, will give the principal address at the commencement. "Education of Living" will be his subject. He is now relocation specialist for the Northwest area of the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

Student speakers will include Burton Monroe, member of the Blackfeet tribe of Montana; Johnny Parker, Navajo from New Mexico, and Helen Casamero, Navajo from New Mexico.

Fifty of the 61 in the graduation class are in the special five-year program, objective of which is to train for permanent placement after completion of the course.

Mrs. David Shaw To Be Speaker at UO Matrix Table

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, (Special)—Mrs. David Shaw, former editor and publisher of the Curry County Reporter, will be the speaker at the 1957 Matrix Table, sponsored by the university chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, professional honorary for women in journalism.

Date for Matrix Table is March 29. It will be in the Erb Memorial Student union.

"Wicks" Shaw became owner of the Reporter in 1951 when her husband opened law offices in Gold Beach. She took the job of editor with almost no previous journalistic experience. During her five years ownership, the circulation tripled and the paper was sold in December, 1956 for two and a half times what she paid for it.

Toastmasters to Meet

A charter party for the Beaver State Toastmasters club will be held at 6:30 Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvah G. Brown, 1557 Urban Lane.

The club, one of the newer toastmaster groups in the area, will receive a charter from George Van Dusen, governor of District 2, who will also install officers. Beaver State will hold weekly meetings each Monday night at a downtown restaurant.

BUSINESS MIRROR Suez Canal Opening Will Bring Problems

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK — Reopening of the Suez Canal and the oil pipelines across Syria will also reopen some old problems and intensify some new ones.

1. It will enlarge the question mark tied to the hike in gasoline and fuel oil prices and make the chance of price wars this summer more of a bogeyman for the oil industry.
2. Tanker Route Change
3. It will fan the fight over importing sizable quantities of oil into the United States.
4. It will reshuffle oil tanker routes around the world.
5. It will test whether all that Europe needs to extend its industrial boom is less costly oil than the American variety.

Oilmen say return of Mideast Oil to Europe in volume isn't likely to change:

1. The desire to become independent as possible of any future closure of the canal and to look for other pipeline routes for the same reason.
2. Plans to step up atomic energy programs in Europe.
3. Long-term plans of American companies to invest still more in Mideast oil production in spite of increased tension.
4. The race to build up world tanker fleets—especially the giant vessels that can carry oil around Africa or South America as economically as the small ones do through the Suez or Panama canals.

Tankers on Order

The National Petroleum Council, set up to advise the Interior Department, reports that so far this year nine million deadweight tons of additional tanker capacity have been ordered, bringing to 38 million tons the amount now projected. It figures the world's shipyard tanker capacity is now fully booked through 1960. If all the other vessels talked about turn into blueprints the yards would be busy through 1964.

The Middle East Emergency Committee, set up with Washington's blessing to pool the transport facilities of 15 American oil companies to get needed oil to Europe will be closed down as soon as possible after the canal is operating freely again.

The fight over the size of oil imports into the United States has boiled up again.

Arthur S. Fleming, outgoing U.S. defense mobilizer, has ordered oil importers to report their plans for the first six months after the canal is cleared. Independent domestic oil producers bitterly oppose sizable importation of Mideast and South American oil to the United States.

The price question is even more touchy. After the Suez closure, the price of domestic crude oil and its products went up. Oilmen stoutly defend this against congressional criticism as necessary because of rising costs of finding, processing and distributing oil and its products.

But the large surpluses of oil and some products, although pulled down by the unexpected European demand, might rise again as the Mideast oil flows in volume. Some oilmen fear this will make the new price structure shaky.

East, Midwest Much Warmer

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Much higher temperatures and fair to partly cloudy skies was the outlook for the entire East Coast today while an active low pressure area caused thundershowers and strong winds in the central portion of the country and brought warmer weather from the Great Lakes to the middle Gulf Coast.

Considerable cloudiness and thundershowers were forecast for the Mississippi Valley and showers and thundershowers were in the works from the Great Lakes southward to the Gulf.

Showers and cooling were expected across the central and southern plains and showers and thundershowers were to sprinkle the eastern Dakotas and the Southern Plains states.

UN Group Opens Hungary Hearing

GENEVA — The U. N. committee investigating Russia's suppression of the Hungarian revolt began its European hearing Monday.

The five-member group is scheduled to hear scores of eyewitnesses who fled Hungary after the Budapest fighting. The hearings will be closed, and the names of the witnesses are to be withheld.

A 24-HOUR OPERATION

DES MOINES, Iowa (UP) — A district judge had no trouble dividing a car between a 21-year-old couple in a divorce settlement. The judge ruled Leon Burk should use the car by night and his ex-wife should drive it by day. The Burks agreed without complaint.

Big War Drills Set Next Week In Philippines

MANILA — Vice Adm. Wallace M. Beakley said Monday a huge U.S. striking force will stage the biggest American military operation overseas since the Korean War along the east coast of the Philippines next week.

Only conventional-type weapons will be used in "Exercise Beacon Hill," Beakley said, but the "forces will be equipped to handle either conventional or atomic missiles."

The exercise, he added, is planned to counter the effect of increased Soviet submarine activity in the Far East.

The commander of the U.S. 7th Fleet told a news conference that 90 ships, 400 aircraft and some 60,000 Navy and Marine Corps personnel will take part in the operation starting March 17.

Ask Russ Halt Tests TOKYO — Japan for the first time asked Russia Monday to suspend her nuclear tests. The Foreign Office said Charge d'Affaires Kinya Niseki had delivered a note in Moscow to the Soviet government asking for a halt in the tests. The Russians began a new nuclear weapons test series last August.
