Zimmerman Type Of Wheat Urged For Valley Usage

LEBANON (Special) — A Lebanon County variety of white spring wheat, named Zimmerman for its founder, Ed Zimmerman, of Shedd, is recommended for Willamette Valley production, according to O. E. Mikesell, county agent. The variety, says Mikesell, has given outstanding performance for more than 25 years and gives consistent high yields in tests for Oregon State College researchers.

Developed from a single plant, it was first distributed in 1921. An estimated 324 thousand bushels of Zimmerman were produced in the valley in 1956.

Rev. Gilstrap Will Retire

Polk Precincts Increased in Modernization

Boundaries Still to Be Determined By Dunn

DALLAS (Special) — Plans now under way will change Polk county's 38 voting precincts to 48. Three of the new precincts will be added in Dallas, making a total of eight in the city and Ogdale will be divided into two precincts, Salt Creek will be broken into three precincts and West Salem will have three added.

Definite boundaries have not been set. Allen Dunn is in charge of the re-organization. Following his re-organization, he will present his plan to the county clerk and the County Court.

Registration in precincts in Dallas will average about 350 voters. As soon as final boundaries are established and approved by the Court, maps will be drawn and published.
