threatening the Middle East with violence. Egypt was expected to balk at the plea Hammarskjöld reportedly will make for an Egyptian-Israeli proclamation of nonbelligerency.

It was believed Hammarskjöld would call for such pledges as a major curb against renewed warfare and that Israel would agree to go along. The Israelis have said all along they are ready to talk peace with their Arab neighbors.

Refuse to Talk

The Arab allies of the 1948 Palestine War have refused to talk peace with the Israelis. They have used the continuing technical state of war as a basis for their economic boycott of Israel and their refusal to let Israeli ships use the Suez Canal and the Gulf of Aqaba. There appeared little hope Egypt would modify that position in the current talks with Hammarskjöld.

The secretary general was smiling as he stepped from the plane that brought him on his fifth visit to Egypt in little more than a year. He declined to make any statement to reporters.

A U.N. press spokesman said he did not know whether Hammarskjöld would visit the canal area and the Gaza Strip or how long he would remain in Egypt.

Expected to Try

For the Gaza Strip, Hammarskjöld was expected to try to work out a plan that would neutralize the Mediterranean coastal area militarily while leaving it under Egyptian administration. He will urge the stationing of UNEF troops along both sides of the border separating Gaza and Israel, a proposal Israel rejected previously in regard to its territory.

Official sources in Tucker's Town, Bermuda, where President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan are meeting, reported Britain now believes it might ease tension if Israel would accept the placing of "symbolic" UNEF elements at key frontier points inside Israeli territory.

They did Britain also favored a compromise formula keeping a Gaza under Egyptian civil control pending final settlement of its future—provided that the U.N. remains responsible for internal security in the area. The same idea was reported being pressed by U.N. members of Hammarskjöld's Middle East advisory committee.

Force Dismantles

Although Egypt so far has not sent combat forces into Gaza, troops of the U.N. Emergency Force dismantled more of their positions inside the strip yesterday and moved to further reinforce their lines along the frontier.

Nasser met for two hours last night with his Cabinet on Egypt's position regarding the Suez Canal amid reports that he might agree to accept U.N. technical assistance after the canal is completely reopened. Nasser would not give up any control of the canal, but it was said he might agree to set aside a specific fund for maintenance and accept U.N. technical help in the operation of the waterway.

General Fund Provision Viewed As Dooming Junior College Bill

By JAMES D. OLSON

Capital Journal Writer

By a vote of 5 to 2 the House Committee on Education voted Thursday to recommend that funds for community colleges be appropriated from the general fund instead of taking them from the basic school fund.

Rep. Al Flegel, Roseburg, and William A. Grenfell Jr., Portland, both Democrats, made strong objections to the move. Flegel, predicting the community college bill would be defeated, said the committee voted to request the State Board of Higher Education to make an estimate of costs of community colleges during the next biennium.

Bend Anxious

Some years ago, Bend established a junior college and Chairman Joe Rogers (D), Polk, said Bend is very anxious to have a community college with state aid as soon as possible. It was stated that sentiment is strong in Coos Bay for establishment of a community college.

A number of clarifying amendments, offered by Grenfell, were adopted, one providing for establishment of a community college in the present school year in place of waiting until the next school year.

To this end an emergency clause was placed on the bill. While awaiting the requested cost estimate from the education department, the committee voted to send the bill to legislative committee in order that the voted amendments can be properly worded and included in the bill.

Will Carry Appropriation

When the bill is reported to the House, it must be referred to the Joint Ways and Means Committee, because it will carry an appropriation, the amount of which has not yet been determined.

Rep. Keith D. Skelton (D), Eugene, although voting to send the bill to Ways and Means, was not optimistic over its fate there.

Unit Predicts Shipment Drop In NW Lumber

Lumber shipments will decrease, but grain will cause a slight increase in total carloadings in the Pacific Northwest in the second quarter of the year.

That was the forecast Thursday from the Pacific Northwest Advisory Committee on rail shipments. Because of heavy exports, grain carloadings are expected to be 50.7 per cent larger than in the second quarter of last year. That will bring an increase of 7 per cent in total carloadings.

Plywood shipments are expected to go up 10 per cent over the second quarter of 1956, but other fir and pine lumber plants expect decreases.

The committee elected Chester D. Roberts, Tacoma, president; R. G. Seacore, Hood River, vice president, and James G. Manning, Portland, executive secretary.
