3 Arrange 'Kidnap' Coffee

April Fool's day! What better day for a fun event, thought three members of St. Anne's guild of St. Paul's Episcopal church.

So they gave a party, a "kidnap coffee," calling on several friends to "round up" the guests.

The three hostesses were Mrs. A. D. Woodmansee, Mrs. Harold M. Olinger and Mrs. Wallace P. Carson, the three entertaining this morning at the Woodmansee home for some 50 guests.

Those assisting the hostesses in bringing the guests were Mrs. Carl Steelhammer, Mrs. Harold Parsons, Mrs. Harry H. Bell, Mrs. Carl Porter of Albany, Mrs. Vernon Perry, Mrs. Donald A. Young, Mrs. Paul A. Lardon, Mrs. Wayne Loder, Mrs. W. Wells Baum, Mrs. Roderick Livesley, Mrs. Robert Schneider, Mrs. David Eason, Mrs. William Doll, and Mrs. Sydney Kromer.

And of course, St. Anne's treasury was augmented by the affair, the coffee being one of series planned by members through the year to raise funds for their work for the church.

Charter Night Set For Friday Evening

Trinity Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will observe its charter night on Friday, April 5, at the West Salem City Hall, with its newly installed worthy matron and patron, Mrs. Clarence C. Field and Frank D. Nettleton, presiding for their first meeting of the term.

At the installation ceremonies last Friday evening, special guests honored and escorted were Mrs. Paul E. Robinson, past grand matron, who also served as installing matron; Herman M. Johnston, past grand patron; Dr. Charles A. Howard, past grand patron; Mrs. Ed Harnberger, Estar scholarship fund chairman; Mrs. Leith Peterson of Woodburn, grand representative to Montana; Mrs. Arnold S. Johnson, worthy matron, Chadwick Chapter; Miss Cieta McClorris, worthy adviser, Cherry Assembly, Order of Rainbow for Girls; Mrs. Ray Hoffman, junior past matron; Lawrence M. Flagg, past patron and installing patron for the ceremony; Clarence C. Field, junior past patron; Leith Peterson, worthy patron, Evergreen Chapter of Woodburn; V. Omer Huff, worthy patron, Ainsworth Chapter; Billie Koles, worthy master, Kingwood lodge, A. F. & A. M.; Dale Guyton, worthy master, Sherwood lodge.

Mrs. Field was presented with a gavel by her husband and son, Charles.

Feeling were Mrs. Ray Hoffman and Mrs. Thomas Meade of Port Orford, a sister of Mrs. Field.

MRS. ROBERT TOM (Merry Lee Smith) a recent bride was honored with a bridal shower last week at the home of Mrs. Hazel Burnham, with Mrs. Margaret Smith as co-hostess.

Guests were Mrs. Aurille Tom, Mrs. Beulah Woeike, Mrs. Elsie Mayberry, Mrs. Earl H. Mootry, Mrs. Leona Mootry, Misses Sara, Allen, Su Shaw, Bonnie Bulman, Sandra Shore, Marilyn Zeller, Gayle LaBranche, Gerry Elstun, Alice Stewart, Judy Woods, Judy Baker, Joan Luby and Lyn Woeike.

HOME from more than two weeks in California on business and vacation are Colonel and Mrs. Maylon E. Scott. They were in San Francisco, visited at the home of their son, Jackson Scott, at Encino, and were in Santa Rosa.

Salem Woman's Club Entertains Group

Salem Woman's Club members entertained husbands and guests at a no-host dinner Friday at the club house. At the dinner Mrs. John S. Tyler Jr., president, welcomed the guests. Special visitors at the dinner were the speaker of the evening and the folk dancers of the program from Salem and Portland. Mrs. Henry M. Hanzen introduced Bill Ford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Ford, who gave a report on the International Relations League's mock United Nations Assembly he attended at the University of Oregon. The youth is a senior at South Salem High School.

Mrs. Clifton Mudd introduced the folk dancers who presented several dances in costume. The dancers from Salem were Mr. and Mrs. Percy E. Byers, and from Portland Mrs. Dorothy Hinderlie, Mr. and Mrs. Roy De Vol, Mr. and Mrs. George Foxhoven, Mrs. Mabel Hagan, Alf Ross, Joe Vernon and Miss Marlyce Rugroden.

The hostess committee included Mrs. Waller L. Osborne, chairman, and Mrs. Frederick Leopold, Mrs. James A. Garson, and Mrs. William E. Lenry.

Next event of the club will be the Book Festival and Antique Display on April 9 at the club house. It is to be a silver tea with proceeds to go toward State Federated projects, such as the student scholarship loan and the reforestation project of the Tillamook Burn area. The display will be opened from noon to 9 p.m. and the interested public is invited.

A. H. WRIGHT, director of Indian education for the State Department of Education, will be the speaker for the April 3 meeting of the Leland study group, sponsored by the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Wright, who will be introduced by Mrs. Clark C. McCall, will discuss the problem of education of the Indian student.

The talk will follow the Wednesday morning church service.

Today's Menu

- FAMILY DINNER
New version of a well-liked way to bake chicken.
Chicken Quarters with Walnut Stuffing
Sweet Potatoes Broccoli
Salad Bowl Bread Tray
Coffee Gelatin Beverage
- CHICKEN QUARTERS WITH WALNUT STUFFING
Ingredients: 1 fryer-broiler (about 2 pounds ready-to-cook weight), 8 thin slices bread, 2 drained canned pimientos (chopped), 2 tablespoons minced parsley, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon pepper, 6 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted), 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 6 walnut halves (broken in small pieces).
Method: Have chicken cut in quarters; clean and dry. Cut bread into tiny squares, leaving crusts on. Mix bread with chopped pimientos, parsley, salt, pepper, 5 tablespoons of the melted butter, 1 tablespoon of the lemon juice and the walnuts. Place stuffing in 4 mounds on aluminum foil in shallow baking pan. Place one-quarter chicken over each mound of stuffing. Mix remaining 1 tablespoon butter and 1 tablespoon lemon juice and brush chicken with it. Bake uncovered in hot (400 degrees) oven 30 to 40 minutes or until chicken is tender and golden-brown. Cut foil in four and serve chicken on it. Makes 4 large servings.

Easter Hats Plain, Fancy

Plain—Dashing sombrero in brown shantung straw with a wide white band, for wear with a tailored suit this Easter.

Fancy—This flower-laden leghorn with stems for fringe is guaranteed to take the Easter spotlight, says Fred Fredericks.

Bon Voyage Party Honors E. A. Brown

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Brown, who are leaving April 19 on a trip to Europe, the "Robinson Sisters" Club met Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Wenger on South High Street. The Browns are members of the group which includes four sisters and their families who meet each month.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown will visit their son-in-law and daughter, Sp. 2 and Mrs. Eugene Wilkinson at Karlsruhe, Germany, and the two grandsons, Randy and Ted. A ten-country tour of Europe will follow the family visit.

Emphasizing the trip to foreign countries were the ten dishes of foreign origin on the buffet table, each marked with a sign post of the country represented. Red, white and blue candles were used for decoration.

Attending the dinner party were the families of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Vincent of Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Graber, the Browns and the Wengers.

"HONG KONG," a moving picture travelog showing the city as it is today will be shown at the meeting of St. John's Lutheran Women's Guild in the Fireside Room of the church Thursday, April 4, and 8 p.m.

Hostesses for the program are Mrs. George Peper, Mrs. Vern L. Bartsch, Mrs. James Irwin, Mrs. C. Isom, Mrs. T. Gettman and Mrs. R. P. Lankow.

SHERIDAN (Special) — Miss Ruth Rhodes served a birthday dinner in honor of her sister, Miss Edythe Rhodes, last week. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. G. Allen, the Rev. and Mrs. Gile Wilson, Mrs. Bessie Malo and Nicol McIntyre.

Some Notations . . .

The 40th wedding anniversary for Mr. and Mrs. Douglas McKay was noted at the open house given in their honor Sunday by their sons-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hadley and Mr. and Mrs. Lester D. Green, at the Hadley home on Cross street. . . . Friends were invited to call between 4 and 8 o'clock. . . . If the guests had not guessed the occasion from the decorations or from congratulations extended by friends in the living room, they found out in the dining room, the napkins telling the anniversary news. . . . Judging from the long list on the guest book, friendly capital folk poured in to pay their respects to "Salem's Doug and Mabel," many Portland friends joining them. . . . For a large group it was the first occasion to greet and visit with the McKays since they returned to their home here from more than three years in Washington, D.C., where Mr. McKay served as Secretary of the Interior. . . . Beautiful arrangements of spring blooms decorated the Hadley home for the party. . . . At the outside entrance was a large potted pink camellia at either side of the door. . . . On the mantel was a long, fan-shaped arrangement of tulips, hyacinths and blossoms, several white doves set among the flowers. . . . Pink and white hyacinths, daffodils, pink carnations and other flowers were in bouquets about the living room. . . . The tea table carried out the busy theme for the 40th anniversary. . . . The table was covered with an embroidered cloth. . . . The centerpiece was an arrangement of red garnet roses accented with pale pink snapdragons, pink candles in silver candlesticks at either side. . . . Tiny cakes were topped with ruby decorations, and ruby and white mints added color. . . . Among those greeted at our late evening call were Dr. and Mrs. Paul N. Poling, Justice and Mrs. William McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. Lester F. Barr, Mr. and Mrs. Leo K. Page, Dr. and Mrs. Fred H. Thompson, Justice and Mrs. George Rossmann, Dr. and Mrs. A. D. Woodmansee, Lewis Judson, Mr. and Mrs. George Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Sprague, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sprague, Mrs. A. A. Schramm, Mrs. Frank H. Spears, Mrs. Lee Patterson of Portland with her brother, William Masters of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Heltzel and her mother, Mrs. W. W. Gabriel of Portland, Dr. and Mrs. Wolcott E. Buren, Colonel and Mrs. Philip W. Allison, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Bonesteel, Dr. and Mrs. A. T. King, and several of those assisting at the open house, Mr. and Mrs. Sam R. Haley, Mrs. E. M. Page, Dr. and Mrs. William Cole, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Chambers, Miss Dorthea Steusloff, Mr. and Mrs. Roy S. Keene of Corvallis, Dr. and Mrs. W. Wells Baum, Mr. and Mrs. Richard D. Slater, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Chambers. . . . Among the Portland guests earlier were Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. McCaslin, Mr. and Mrs. Hillman Luettemann, Miss Effie Godman. . . . Spring conference for the Oregon Press Women at Eugene this weekend brought out the largest attendance yet for the group since its organization six years ago. . . . Sessions were conducted in the University of Oregon School of Journalism and featured a number of speakers to give pointers in different fields of communication—newspapers, radio, television, publicity, advertising, and public relations. . . . Highlight of the Saturday night banquet was the presentation of annual awards given for work in all fields, each year's contest ending with the spring meeting. . . . Kay Lundeen, woman's page editor of the Eugene Register-Guard, topped off with the top honors, winning five first places and one second place award. . . . Miss Genevieve Morgan, Salem, director of information for the State Department of Agriculture, won a first place award in the division for non-fiction booklets and pamphlets, hers being one from her departmental work; and took a second place award for a feature picture in a magazine. . . . Miss Inathe Smith, woman's page editor for the Albany Democrat-Herald, is the new president for the Oregon Press Women. . . . Serving with her will be Miss Claire Lyon of Portland, vice president; Miss Maryann Howard, Albany, secretary; Mrs. Martha Stranahan, Redmond, treasurer. . . . A sum of $50 was voted to go to the UO School of Journalism scholarship fund, to be awarded a deserving girl majoring in the school. . . . At the breakfast Sunday morning Miss Alene Phillips of the Capital Journal woman's department was the speaker, giving some highlights of her work as executive assistant to Douglas McKay during the time he was Secretary of the Interior. . . . Fall conference for the press group will be in Albany, the dates to be set later. . . . LINFIELD COLLEGE (Special)—Two Salem girls, Miss Larrie Lou Osterman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Osterman, and Miss Carol Leo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Lee, were members of the juvenile delinquency class of the sociology department of Linfield College, McMinnville, taking a field trip to Friendly House, a community settlement house in Portland, recently. . . . Miss Osterman is a sophomore and Miss Leo is a senior. Both are sociology majors. Linfield students take field trips each semester to become acquainted with the conditions they study.

Salemites Elected

Salem sub-district of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church selected three Salem women as its officers at its meeting conducted in conjunction with the district meeting in Silverton, Thursday.

Elected to office were: President, Mrs. C. W. Stacey of Morning-side Church; vice president, Mrs. C. L. Blodgett of Leslie Church; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Milton Blackman of Jason Lee Church.

Elected to the corporation of the Methodist Home at Salem was Mrs. Alex Bodeker of Lyons.

The Salem sub-district meeting will be at the Leslie Methodist Church in Salem on May 14. Thirteen societies comprise the sub-district.

200 Attend Third District Meeting

WOODBURN (Special) — More than 200 women, representing 52 clubs, attended the third district convention of the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs Friday at the MacLaren school. The Woodburn club was host group. Mrs. James B. Gay of the Woodburn club, who is financial secretary for the third district, was general chairman.

Registration and coffee hour was from 8 to 9 a.m. Mrs. M. M. Nelson of Independence, third district president, presided. Speakers were Mrs. George Rossmann, state president; Mrs. Marion H. Weath-erford, a member of the national board, and Sam Smith, assistant superintendent of the school. Don Miller was soloist during the morning session.

The Rev. Robert E. Van, pastor of the Woodburn and Bethel Presbyterian churches, gave the invocation. Luncheon was served in the school gymnasium. Music was furnished by the boys' chorus of the school.

Annual reports were given by club presidents during the business session. The next board meeting was announced at the home of Mrs. Nelson in June.

A tour of the school in the afternoon proved very interesting to the visitors and was the closing entertainment of the convention.
