

Senate Okays Addition Of 1 Member to Each Branch of Legislature

By WILLIAM WARREN
United Press Staff Correspondent

The Oregon Senate late yesterday passed Senate joint resolution 9 calling for the addition of one member to the Senate and one to the House, giving the Senate 31 members and the House 61.

But because of the way the vote went, observers said the measure might have a hard time surviving in the House, with its strong Democratic majority.

Gov. Robert D. Holmes and other Democratic leaders, backed by labor leaders, have advocated the post of lieutenant governor for Oregon. He would preside over the Senate and, in case that chamber was deadlocked 15-15, cast the deciding vote.

The Senate, with 15 Republicans and 15 Democrats was deadlocked for the first 10 days of this session.

The vote on SJR 9 was 18 to 12, with the 15 Republicans voting solidly for the proposal and three Democrats joining them — including President Boyd Overhulse.

The other two Democrats voting for the resolution were Sens. Jean Lewis of Portland and Harry D. Bovin of Klamath Falls.

Should the resolution pass the House, the proposal, involving a change in Oregon's constitution, would be referred to the people at the 1958 general election. And should the people approve it, the extra member to each chamber would be elected on the basis of population as determined by the 1960 federal census.

The vote was taken after Sen. Howard Helton of Canby, co-sponsor of the resolution with Sen.

Rudie Wilhelm Jr. of Portland, observed that the proposal for a lieutenant governor for Oregon had been voted upon by the people and rejected four times.

Soviet Warns Of Retaliation For A-Attacks

LONDON — The Russians, continuing their warnings to America's NATO allies, have threatened devastating retaliation for any nuclear attacks from bases in Britain, the Netherlands and West Germany.

Moscow radio made the warnings last night in broadcasts beamed to the three countries.

They followed recent letters from Soviet Premier Bulganin to the governments of Norway and Denmark, only Scandinavian countries in NATO. Bulganin told both countries that Russia wants peace but would retaliate with great destruction for any atomic attack.

Dag Thinks Egypt to Let Israel Use Suez

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld indicates that he believes Egypt may let Israeli ships use the Suez Canal.

Hammarskjöld was asked at a news conference yesterday about President Eisenhower's statement earlier this week that "we should not assume that Egypt will violate the 1956 convention" by barring Israeli ships from the canal.

"I think it is a wise assumption," the secretary general replied.

Egypt, however, has given no public indication that its bar to Israeli shipping will be lowered. Egypt in the past has refused to let Israeli ships go through the canal on grounds that a technical state of war still exists between the two countries.

Hammarskjöld said he had had no reply from Egypt to Israel's question whether Egypt still considers itself at war with Israel.

He also said neither Egypt nor Israel had replied to queries as to whether they were willing to reaffirm, as a "nonaggression pact," a provision of their 1949 Palestine armistice agreement against warlike acts.

Hammarskjöld expressed opposition to a Security Council debate on the Suez question at this time. He said he did not think it would be a good idea to call the council in on the issue of how to operate current Washington-Cairo negotiations, have been exhausted.

Hammarskjöld, who returned last week from a nine-day visit to Cairo, said he got full cooperation from Egyptian President Nasser and made "satisfactory" arrangements there for the U. N. Emergency Force. He declined to go into detail on any agreement reached with Egypt.

Children Trapped in Safe

Firemen work frantically with cutting torches, trying to free three children trapped in a 10x7-foot walk-in safe in a partly-wrecked mansion here. The children were trapped when someone slammed the door shut and twisted the knob. Firemen freed them after two hours. (AP Wirephoto)

Queen Liner Sails Out of French Port

CHERBOURG, France — The Queen Mary sailed for New York with 1,100 passengers today after a trip to Europe on which she steered clear of her home port of Southampton.

The 81,000-ton Queen Mary docked at Cherbourg Monday, bypassing Southampton, where 1,124 of her passengers had expected to land. She kept out of the British port because of a blacklisting by British shipyard workers. Union leaders took the action on grounds repairs to the luxury liner were not completed when Britain's shipyard strike began and the liner began her previous trip to New York with the help of government tugs.

The Cunard line spent some $84,000 to ferry passengers and crew members back and forth and to fly food and other supplies from Britain to Cherbourg.

The British shipyard and factory strikes were called off Tuesday while a court of inquiry probes union wage demands.

Rude, an Eagle Scout, said at first "we couldn't believe anyone could have locked us in."

"It was too silly for anyone to have done. All we did was ask for somebody to let us out. Then we heard someone from outside say it was locked and we asked them to go for our parents."

When firemen started using jackhammers, Cheri remembered. "We just sat down and held our hands over our ears."

Mrs. Rex Stevenson said her daughter told her the boys put the girl in a corner to keep her from getting hurt during the operations. Cheri told her nobody got panicky.

Canadians Assail U.S. Senate Group For Charges Leading to Envoy Death

OTTAWA, Ont. — Canadian churchmen and labor groups joined political leaders of all parties Friday in condemning the U.S. Senate Internal Security subcommittee for airing charges of communism against Canadian diplomat Herbert Norman.

Norman, ambassador to Egypt, committed suicide Thursday by leaping from a building in Cairo. The subcommittee had published charges made before it that he had been a Communist.

The Japanese already were aroused because the Senate subcommittee last month quizzed Prof. Shigetō Tsuru, a Japanese government official now lecturing at Harvard University, about reports that he had Communist links during student days in the United States and about Norman, whom he had known at Harvard before the war.

Only a pro-government newspaper revived charges that he had been a Communist.

The death of the 48-year-old Canadian diplomat excited the Japanese particularly because he had been born in Japan, of missionary parents, spent his pre-university years here and headed the Canadian mission in Tokyo after the World War II surrender.

The Japanese already were aroused because the Senate subcommittee last month quizzed Prof. Shigetō Tsuru, a Japanese government official now lecturing at Harvard University, about reports that he had Communist links during student days in the United States and about Norman, whom he had known at Harvard before the war.

Subcommittee leaders in a statement Thursday said they "would not be living up to our obligations" if they omitted references to foreign nations in their investigations of communism in the United States. Norman was acting chief of the Canadian delegation to the U.N. in 1951.

The United Church of Canada, a merger of 21 Methodist, Presbyterian and Congregational denominations, in a statement by its secretary, Dr. Ernest E. Long, asked President Eisenhower and the U.S. Congress to call a halt to "assassinating the characters of innocent men."

The Toronto and district labor council Thursday night urged the Canadian Labor Congress to take steps to impress upon the U.S. government that fundamental human rights and personal dignities "of Canadian citizens and their diplomatic representatives must be respected."

Speakers at the meeting called the Senate subcommittee a "kangaroo court."

At Wardville, Ont., Mrs. Grace Wright, sister of Norman, declared, "they hounded him to death."

"All those things they said about him were cleared up long ago," she said.

TOKYO — Major Japanese newspapers today expressed sorrow editorially at the suicide of Canadian Ambassador Herbert Norman and bitterly criticized what they called the "Red witch hunt" in the U.S. Congress.

Norman jumped from a building in Cairo yesterday after the U.S. Senate Internal Security subcommittee revived charges that he had been a Communist.

per, Sankei Jiji, defended the committee's action in regard to Norman and Tsuru. It said: "The matter is very complicated. Blasting American witch hunting won't solve it. Tsuru and Norman both influenced the occupation's labor policy, which went too far in encouraging leftist movements in Japan."

"McCarthyism is still alive," commented one big daily, Mainichi.

Japan has lost a "very good friend," said the Tokyo Shimbun, adding, "Hotheaded U. S. congressmen, busy with their Red witch hunt, may not feel too elated at Norman's death."

Embezzling Son Must Repay Dad

PORTLAND — U. S. Dist. Judge Gus J. Solomon Thursday ordered an embezzling son to repay his father who made good the money the son had taken.

The son, Charles L. Baker, 25, pleaded guilty to taking $600 from the Pendleton Branch of the First National Bank of Portland. His father repaid the bank from his savings.

Judge Solomon placed the son on probation for three years, but stipulated that the son must repay the money to his father.
