"Mad-Hat-Her" is the title of the 32nd annual Jym Jamboree which will be presented for the second and final time tonight in the school gym at 7:30. The program is sponsored by the Girls Letter club with all the girl's gym classes participating.

The girls have been working for about four weeks in preparation for the show. Hats of many descriptions and colors, is the theme of the affair. Each of the sophomore and junior classes will perform dance routines wearing such chapeaus as stocking caps, top hats, cowboy hats, and in a y others. The seniors will do some of their exercises to the strains of calypso.

The program will begin with a grand march, featuring approximately 500 girls, and conclude with the winding of five maypoles by the senior girls.

Final Movie Shown
The last in a series of three feature length movies, sponsored by the student body, was shown Wednesday afternoon. "Beneath the Twelve-Mile Reef", starring Terry Moore and Robert Stack, was shown.

Talent Assembly Held
The students were entertained yesterday at an assembly presented by a traveling talent show from the University of Oregon. A special dance, entitled "Headlines", was held last Friday night to climax a very successful Twirp week. The dance was a costume affair with prizes going to the couples with the prettiest, funniest and most original costumes.

Sacred Heart freshmen got a glimpse of lawmakers in action Wednesday, as the IA and IB classes paid a visit to the Legislature. Although the freshmen were the first to sit in at a Senate session, the other students are also planning trips to the Capitol.

Civil service tests were administered Thursday to interested senior girls. The tests, for both clerk and clerk-typist positions, were taken through the typing department.

Congratulations go to Sacred Heart's winners in the recent poetry contest sponsored by the Catholic Daughters of America. In division II, grades 7, 8, and 9, first prize went to Susan Markers; second, to Mary Ellen Johnson; and third, to Margaret Wilson. Joanne Myers received honorable mention. The girls are all freshmen.

Victors in division III, grades 10, 11, and 12, were five seniors. First, second, and third places went to Sally Joseph, Gloria Koch, and Sue Watson, respectively. Dorothy Rupp and Nancie Evans gained honorable mention. The winners will each be awarded a cash prize.

Four home rooms reached 100 per cent in the parents' club food sale contest. The freshmen B, sophomore A and B, and junior A classes finished with a perfect score and will be treated by the club. With proceeds from the sale the parents purchased a microphone and an electric eraser cleaner for the students.

At the senior class meeting Tuesday, Pat Kindel and Janice Eichen were named general chairman of a planned "Cotton Carnival." The affair will be a May Day celebration with a procession, movie and concessions. The seniors are scheduling the event to raise funds for the traditional girl each graduating class leaves to the school. Complete committees will be formed next week.

The exchange assembly program with Serra was successfully completed Wednesday. In addition to the girls who performed in Sacred Heart's "Declaration Day" Tuesday, the Sextet also represented S.H.A. at Serra. Members of the sextet are seniors Janet Larson, Eloise Corey, Pat Kindel, Jackie Doerfler, Sally Joseph, and Dottie Rupp. Props and lighting were handled by sophomores Jo Ann Weigel and Kathy Snook.

WORTH HIS WEIGHT
RIB LAKE, Wis. (UP)—Auctioneers decided that state Sen. Clifford W. Krueger was worth more than a penny a pound when he put himself on the auction block to raise funds for landscaping the village grounds. Krueger, who weighs 432 pounds, sold for $4.58.

Spring has sprung without a doubt! While marbles, kites, and jump ropes announce the coming of this season in elementary schools, at South Salem, the annual Cotton Day and Cotton Ball are proof that the sunshine has finally arrived. Friday, Cotton Day, girls promenaded the halls in every color from lavender to pastel pink and the fellas wore their brightest sport shirts. Girls League members sold carnation corsages to further celebrate the occasion.

"Lullaby in Birdland" is the theme of the annual Cotton Ball, which is to take place at the YWCA Saturday, April 13, when King Cotton will be crowned. South's candidates for the royal position are Bill Hazel, Herb Herman, Jerry Coon, Chuck Hammett, and Larry Thompson. Chairman of the affair are Marcia Humphrey, Imogene Thomas, and Joan Osko. Sue Jackson is in charge of publicity.

This weekend will be a busy one for many South students, with the DeMolay Doll Dance "Calypso Way" Friday night, the Hayward Relay in Eugene Saturday, and the Cotton Ball Saturday night.

ASB Talent Show
Marilyn Zeller, first vice president, announced at the student council meeting Tuesday that preparations for the ASB talent show are now underway. Peter Erickson will act as master of ceremonies and the remainder of the cast consists of Jacquie Hansen, Dale Bunsse, Jim Davenport, Mike Mills, Bob Geer, Jim Newberry, Gary Bixler, Paul Fisher, Ruth Harnsburger, Suzanne Davis, Lauretta Hopkins, Diana Hrubetz, Donna Stone, Colleen Nelson, Pamela Wyatt, Dean Hulbert and Rose Loukajary. The Boys Glee will also participate.

North Salem will present South with an exchange of talent April 26. The program will consist of the best acts from their sophomore, junior, and senior class talent shows.

Speakers to Attend Tourney
Eight members of South Salem's speech team are competing today and tomorrow in the Oregon speech Tournament at the OSC campus in Corvallis. In order to be eligible to take part in this tournament, the eight speakers placed first or second in their division in the mid-Willamette Valley district tourney. Winners at the state tourney will be awarded traveling trophies.

Student Council News
It was mentioned at the student council meeting Tuesday that the Kiwanis club has asked the school administration if South Salem would be interested in starting a key club. This club is sponsored by the Kiwanis club and has been a very successful organization in Portland. If such a club was established at South, it would be for those students who do not get an opportunity to participate in other club activities. However, the administration decided that it wouldn't be necessary to set up the club because there are many active clubs for high schoolers in Salem and 19 clubs within the school itself.

Students council members were informed that there will be an Economy Auto Run for high school students in Salem on May 18. Free gas will be furnished to the contestants, who are to drive their own cars over a 100 mile course. The winner and the winner's trophy will be presented with a trophy. Wonder what to do about your military obligation? They might have not solved all the problems, but the military panel consisting of representatives from the Army, Navy, Air Force and the Marines gave a good outline of their program. The visiting representatives last Tuesday pointed out specifically to the Juniors and Seniors, their special program and advancement in their branch of service.

Last Sunday, five representatives from Serra took in the Catholic Youth meeting at St. Mary's in Coquille, Wash. The meeting was conducted by the junior order of the Third Franciscans Minor. One of the representatives, Dan Ritter, said that they were much impressed with the club, and hope to start an Order of the Franciscans Minor club at Serra in the near future.

Bill Board Wins Approval
The student council voted to help sponsor a Capital Conference League bill board at Waters Park. Each of the eight league members, if they approve will sponsor a $10 space on the bill board sign. The student council also voted to have the St. Patrick's Day relays, which were cancelled because of the weather, be moved up to May 1st and be renamed to May Day Relays.

Dan Ritter and Fred Dusher, of Serra speech department, represented Serra in the class B schools for this district. They competed with other class B schools of the state in the contest.

Last Wednesday, Sacred Heart gave its exchange assembly program to the students at Serra. The forty-five minute program featured the sophomore, junior and senior girls in various acts. Some of the outstanding acts of the play were Casey at the Bat, a section of the Passion of Our Lord, Lincoln, and others. Most of the students expressed that the program was very enjoyable.

Holy Week Ending
The final stage of Lent will begin next week, climaxing after five weeks of penance. While class will be held as usual, there will also be special services for holy week, with only half of day of school on Good Friday. Next week will also mark the end of the second six weeks.
