

65 Persons Injured in Brooklyn Subway Crash

'Man Failure' Blamed for Accident

NEW YORK (AP)—A subway train rumbled around a sharp curve in a Brooklyn tunnel last night and smashed into the rear of a stalled train. Sixty-five persons were injured, one seriously.

A city transit official said later he felt "man failure" caused the accident.

Several Hundred Passengers
Both trains were en route from Brooklyn to Queens with several hundred passengers when the first train stalled with a jammed brake. Motorman Victor P. O'Brian, 41, of Queens climbed out, released the brake and headed back to the controls of his eight-car train.

He was just entering the cab when the second train struck. "There was a crash," O'Brian said. "Some people were knocked to the floor and some of the injured got panicky and began screaming. I said to them, 'take it easy.'"

Motorman Pinned
Motorman William A. Hoke, 46, of Queens was pinned in the cab of the second train for an hour and a half before firemen using axes and wrecking bars could free him.

He was in serious condition in Kings County Hospital with a crushed right leg and possible internal injuries.

Stalled Train Hit

NEW YORK, April 19—This is the rear of a stalled train which was smashed into here today by another train which was rounding a curve. A moment of panic swept the 200 persons aboard the two trains. About 40-60 persons were injured but none seriously. Both trains were locals bound from Brooklyn to Queens. (AP Wirephoto)

Conductor Hospitalized
The conductor, Daniel Rotundo, 30, of New Hyde Park, N. Y., had been knocked unconscious for a few minutes by the impact. He also was hospitalized.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Elliott Golden said motorman Hoke told him he had seen two flashing red lights and one yellow one and that that meant "proceed at your own caution."

The crash scene was in the Bedford-Stuyvesant section of Brooklyn, behind the Navy Yard and not far from the Williamsburg Bridge. The trains were between the Bedford-Nostrand Ave. station and the Myrtle-Willoughby Ave. Station on the IND (Independent)

Aid to Israel Will Resume

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials disclosed today that American economic and technical aid to Israel "is being resumed."

The United States cut off aid to Israel last Oct. 29, 1956, when Israeli forces attacked Egypt. About 50 American personnel assigned to the aid programs were withdrawn from Israel. Only six remained behind in a caretaker status.

The State Department March 14 announced that talks on resuming aid would begin soon.

Spokesmen for the State Department and the foreign aid agency told the United Press that now "the American aid program to Israel is being resumed."

The State Department spokesman said the basic decision to resume aid had been made, and that American and Israeli officials are discussing details here and at Tel Aviv.

Returns Authorized
The foreign aid spokesman said American aid personnel have been authorized to return to Israel. He estimated that more than six Americans already are back at their jobs on agriculture, health, sanitation, education, communications and other aid projects.

Aid to Jordan and Lebanon was cut off in October. There was no indication of resumption of aid to those countries.

Officials said the amount of Israeli aid for this year has not been finally decided. But the United States before the October invasion had earmarked about 25 million dollars for aid to Israel during the current fiscal year ending June 30. Only $400,000 of this had been allocated to Israeli aid projects.

Hypnosis Fails To Bring New Clues in Case
Police After Identity Of Driver in SF Hit and Run
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—First attempts by a psychiatrist to question witnesses under hypnosis have failed to yield any new clues to the brutal hit-run slaying of a San Francisco man.

The doctor, who insisted he remain unnamed as a condition for doing the work, Friday told police further efforts "might produce better results."

Lloyd V. Stephens, 62, was struck down at a San Francisco intersection and dragged 1,200 feet by a car. The car's path was traced in blood as the driver sought to dislodge the body by alternately speeding up and slamming on the brakes.

Some fifty horrified persons saw the grisly episode.

One witness, Bonifacio Silverio, gave police a partial license number. He was one of four persons questioned under hypnosis by the doctor, who sought to discover the entire number from Silverio's subconscious mind.

Cornelius Lynch, a city fireman, who chased the car in vain, also was questioned.

Police Lt. Edward Moody said the questioning revealed "no significant new information."

Dr. Wilson Van Dusen, chief psychologist at Mendocino State Hospital, suggested the use of hypnosis in a letter to Lt. Moody. He said he thought witnesses saw everything but focused their attention on the dying man.

"But it is a matter of attention," he said. "They centered on what was happening to the man. They also registered other facts of what was going on, but they were probably rather vague. Hypnosis would aid in the complete recall of what happened."

Dr. Wilson said that because "the scene is so vivid and so important" to witnesses the questioning is likely to be successful.

Iran Not to Permit Any Foreign Bases

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The Iranian government has promised Russia that Iran will not permit the United States or any other foreign country to establish military bases in Iran, though it will continue to accept American military aid.

A Foreign Ministry spokesman confirmed Saturday the assurance was given to a Soviet delegation headed by Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov.

Kuznetsov said Friday on his return to Moscow that Iran had promised not to take part "in any movement which is aimed against Soviet security."

The Foreign Ministry spokesman said "Iran has assured the Soviet delegation that no military or atomic base will be given (Iran) to any foreign country, including the United States."

He added that neither Russia nor the United States has asked Iran for permission to set up such a base, "but Iran undoubtedly will continue to receive military aid from the United States."
