

East German Reds Rehearse War on Revolt

By JOSEPH FLEMING
 United Press Staff Correspondent
BERLIN (UP)—East German Communists are openly rehearsing for revolution.
 They are practicing the measures they would take against any anti-Communist attempt to overthrow the Red government which rules the eastern half of divided Germany.
 They are trying to show the restive East German populace that loyal German Communists units could crush any rebellion without calling for help from the 22 Soviet army divisions stationed in the Russian zone.
 The maneuvers revealed the deep fear which has gripped all satellite governments since Hungarian freedom fighters rose against their Communist overlords six months ago.
 Does East Germany face revolt?

Only Spark Needed
 In the early days of the Hungarian revolution a spark could have touched off widespread actions against the East German government. There had been an open uprising of workers in East Germany in June of 1953.
 But the spark did not flare and now the mood appears to be one of deep discontent rather than revolutionary zeal.
 In any case, the Communists are taking no chances. They have staged maneuvers in East Berlin, Magdeburg, Leipzig, Dresden and other cities. The maneuvers are carried out by Communist forces composed of the police, army and "fighting groups"—a workers militia formed in factories, government agencies and on collective farms.
 The Communists speak constantly of the threat posed to East Germany by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), American "imperialism" and West German "militarism."
Danger Within
 But in these war games all pretext is dropped, that the danger comes from outside. The "enemy" is the East German anti-Communist movement, labeled as "fascists," "terrorists," "counter-revolutionaries," and "provocateurs."
 In East Berlin maneuvers they attempted to seize police headquarters. In Magdeburg they attacked the local Communist union headquarters. In Eisenach they tried to take over the automobile plant. In Potsdam they raided the local Communist party newspaper plant.
 In each case the "attacks" were crushed. In the words of a Communist commentator: "So will all attacks."
 Western observers do not believe that the East German militia are so loyal as the Communists claim. In a showdown, they believe Soviet troops would have to be called out in East Germany just as they were in Hungary.

Interior Aide Affirms Dam Study Policy
 WASHINGTON (UP)—Acting Interior Secretary Hatfield Chilson today reaffirmed the responsibility of his department in investigations to assure maximum development of the Middle Snake River.
 He said he particularly referred to the area encompassed by the proposed Pleasant Valley dam and reservoir.
 Chilson wrote to Sen. Clinton Anderson (D-N.M.), chairman of the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Subcommittee on Irrigation and Reclamation, that investigation of the Pleasant Valley site by the Bureau of Reclamation is fully in order.
 An investigation is under way to determine feasibility of a multipurpose Pleasant Valley dam as a possible substitute for a dam as development. The Pacific Northwest Power Company, composed of four public utility firms, has applied for a Federal Power Commission license for the single purpose dam.
 Sen. Anderson had asked a statement of departmental policy in light of Interior Secretary Fred Eaton's advice to the FPC in February that a further investigation of the Pleasant Valley development has been undertaken.

Lockheed Missile Hits 9000 MPH

WASHINGTON (UP)—A new high in speed—more than 9,000 miles an hour—is reported to have been achieved by a Lockheed X-17 missile launched at Patrick Air Force Base, Fla.
 The three-stage research missile, informed sources said Wednesday, attained approximately 9,240 miles an hour, or 14 times the speed of sound, under the momentum of rockets fired to hasten its rush toward the ground.
 The highest speed heretofore announced for a test missile is 8,000 miles an hour. That was recorded by a five-stage research rocket fired from the Wallops Island, Va., facility of the National Advisory Committee on Aeronautics.

WHICH CAME FIRST?

KENDALL, Fla. (UP)—A judge tore up a parking ticket presented by Marine Maj. William McCormick, Jr. because of a "wet paint" sign. McCormick explained that a city painting crew painted a "bus zone" sign alongside his car after he had parked it and a policeman had tagged it before he could move.
