Bayer Blows Top FOR ATHLETES GREELEY, Colo. 18—Athletes at Colorado State College of Education will not be allowed to smoke or drink in or out of their athletic season in the future. Violators of the coaching staff's edict will be booted off athletic teams and will lose their financial aid. Coaches here pointed to scientific research in issuing their order. They say research shows that tobacco and liquor "are defrimental to health and to the periormance of athletic skill, lessen endurance, and in general lower the potential achievement level of the athlete." The school's athletes receive oncampus work privileges. Some get tuition waivers and training table meals.
