AW, WHY CAN'T I STAY OUT, MOM? A LITTLE RAIN NEVER HURT NOBODY!

DOROTHY DIX COLUMN

Boy Friend Moved In With Her, But Balks at Marriage DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Eight months ago 1 met a man who king in my town. We were attracted to each other, onths have been living as man and wife. He'll be going home soon and hasn't asked me to marry him, though he says he won't leave me here. He's wonderful about the house, does repairs, helps with cooking and really seems to enjoy it.

I'm sure if he didn't love me he would have gone away before this. I know I adore him, but how can I make him see marriage as something beautiful? When I mention it to him, he just says he doesn't like orange blossoms.—Valerie

DEAR VAL: Many men regard orange blossoms as a parasitic plant that tightens its grip on poor bachelors until there's no breath or free-m. Apparently your friend is one of these. Or, has you that he may already be enmeshed in those fra-

I occurred to you that he may already be enmeshed in those frais occurred to you man he may already be emissible in those fra-grant blossoms? Have you inquired about a possible wife and kid-dies back home? After all, you only knew him three months before making him a member of the family.

A position that is illegal and immoral can never be satisfying.

Don't continue it. Take a firm stand for a marriage certificate.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I went with a divorced man for two years

He said he had never received love or companionship from twife, yet last month he remarried her. I broke off with him. Now miss him very much. Perhaps I was too hasty. Did I do right? DEAR FRIEDA: This may be news to you, but you had no protest every time she does it, but the screaning goes on.—George. DEAR GEORGE: If you are a patient boy, wait for the phase to pass. It will, as aurely as summer follows spring. The alternative is to keep her away from places of amusement which feature such singers (there is somewhere else?).

Send your problem to Dorothy Dix. Or write for her free leaflet D-19, "Are You A Good Daughter-in-Law?" In all cases, he sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and send request to her care of this newspaper.

'Mat Dillon' Ponders How to Cash In on His TV Success from his new fame in other fields

By ROB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (A-Big Jim Arness faces the dilemma that every star is confronted with at some point in his career—how to cash in on his success.

The blood of the b point in his career—how to cash in on his success.

Jim kicked around this town for 10 years, playing everything from the observed. "We kept building our audience during the summer and had a head start when the second season started in the fall."

The gimmick worked. George teading roles because his get leading roles because his gobel, on the opposing NBC network, was snowed under by the established stars balked at having ratings this year and has abandoned the time slot. He'll team feet 6.

He finally hit the big time via weeks in hourlong variety shows. FulkEY Poults available weeks in hourlong variety shows. FulkEY Poults available was a good idea."
