means Subcommittee. The bill would put the state into the power business so it could take power from federal dams and resell it to power companies.
Sen. Walter J. Pearson (D), Portland, and Rep. Richard Eymann (D), Eugene, argued that their bill would give the state a preference under the federal law that gives public power agencies the first call on federal power.
Spokesmen for the power companies claimed it would not give the state any federal preference, and that the bill might lead to state competition with private power.

Six Seniors at WU Given Assistantships

Six seniors graduating in psychology from Willamette University have been awarded assistantships to colleges and universities throughout the country for advanced work toward the master's degree.
Marilyn Isaak, Salem, will take part in a two-year graduate residence program counseling in a residence and taking part in advising student government activities at Ohio State University. Stipend for the first year is $1200; for the second year, $1785. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Isaak of Salem.
Gayle York of Portland has accepted a graduate assistantship in human relations at Ohio University. She will serve as dormitory counselor and as assistant in the office of the Dean of Women. The first year stipend is $1000 plus tuition, and the final year of the program pays $1800.
An assistantship to Syracuse University has been accepted by Hugh Armstrong, Myrtle Point, totaling $1885. While working on his advanced degree, he will teach classes in the psychology department.

Ted Primrose, Gladstone, was awarded a full tuition scholarship to the University of Arizona in the fields of personnel, counseling and guidance for industrial psychology.
A resident counselor scholarship at the University of Oregon has been taken by Curtis Culver of San Francisco. He will receive full tuition and board, plus a grant of approximately $1000 for the nine-month period.

Gary Schmalke of Modesto, Calif., has been accepted at the University of Washington and has been offered a readership in the psychology department for the coming year.

County Gets Tract Offer

An offer of a deed to a tract of land approximately 145 by 170 feet in size has been made to the Marion County Court, without compensation to the donors.
The proposal was made by the heirs of the late Anna Kaeser, who platted Rivercrest Acres adjacent to the Willamette River north of Salem.
It was stated that the land was dedicated by the owner for park purposes but a deed of transfer to the county has never been made. The court will investigate.

Hearing Set for Building Requests

First hearing on building requests by the State Board of Control and the State Board of Higher Education will be held May 7 by the sub-committee of the Ways and Means Committee of the Oregon Legislature.
The Board of Control is seeking $10,264,209 while the Board of Higher Education is asking $14,022,000.
