Chicago Grain

CHICAGO — Most grains were steady on the Board of Trade Friday with some demands for the more distant futures in wheat.

May wheat started nearly a cent higher than Thursday's closing price but later slipped back to around the previous level. New crop wheat futures advanced fractionally.

Wheat was influenced mainly by short covering and additional shipments out of the Chicago area. Additional overnight rains in the Southwest where warmth and sunshine is needed for development of crops, also had some effect on the trade.

Old wheat closed ¼ lower to ¾ higher. May 2.18½-18; new wheat ¼ to ½ higher, July 2.08½; corn ¼ to ½ higher, May 1.29½; oats ¼ to ½ higher May ¾-¾; rye ¼ to ½ lower, May 1.18½; soybeans ¾ lower to 1½ higher, May 2.42½-¾ and 5 cents lower to 5 cents higher, May 13.50.

Wall Street

NEW YORK — The stock market turned mixed near the close Friday after touching a new 1957 high in earlier trading.

Railroad shares were a feature much of the session, pacing a moderate advance following news that the Interstate Commerce Commission had approved an increase of about 15 per cent in eastern railroad first class passenger fares.

The strength in rails helped push the Associated Press average up 40 cents at noon to $182.20, passing the year's high of $182 set Jan. 4.

The market later backed away, with rails paring their gains and oils going lower.

Near the close, Coca-Cola was up more than $3 a share and Amstar about $2. Ahead $1 or more were Union Carbide, duPont, and Zenith. Gulf Oil dropped more than $1, with Youngtown, Lukens and Standard Oil (New Jersey) losing around $1.

Water Quality Paper Planned

Information on water quality in various regions of Oregon is being compiled by the engineering experiment station at Oregon State College for publication this summer.

This information fills out and gives statewide coverage to the first water quality index published in June, 1956.

Various groups use the index. Industry uses it in appraising new plant sites, cities for water treatment plant planning; farm groups for irrigation programs; engineers for various phases of construction work and recreation and wildlife groups for planning purposes.

Water quality checks include physical tests for such characteristics as odor, color, turbidity and

Portland Police To Drop K-9 Unit

PORTLAND — The need to cut city expenses will result in elimination of the Portland Police Department's K-9 corps of dogs and the precinct station at Multnomah.

In making the announcement Thursday, Chief William Hillbruner said 34 vacancies in the city police roster will not be filled and it may be necessary to lay off 10 other policemen.

Economies are being made to make possible salary increases for municipal employees.

The police found the door of the station locked but rounded up a janitor who had a key.

"We walked in," Dippel said, "and found the telephones ringing and the record going 'round, urumpf, urumpf.'"

Head on his arms, Little Larry was knocked out cold. They shook him awake and he explained a

'Jockey' Goes Asleep on Job

SPOKANE — An all-night radio disc jockey fell sound asleep at the post at 3:30 a.m. today and it took two policemen and a janitor to get the show back in the groove.

Officers David Dippel and William Beeman got a call from a listener that something was wrong on the "Little Larry Buck program" (on station KSPQ).

The song had ended but the scratching lingered on.
