Sen. Gill Bids Vice Jury to Submit Views

Gives Up Idea of Summoning for Testimony Indicted Officials After Parley With Judge Redding

By PAUL W. HARVEY, JR. Associated Press Writer

Sen. Warren Gill (R), Lebanon, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, announced Monday he would invite members of the Multnomah County Grand Jury to testify before his committee on what recommendations they might have to make about changes in laws relating to grand juries.

At the same time, Gill said he has abandoned any ideas of receiving testimony from persons who have been or might be indicted.

The grand jury, in its report Friday night, criticized Atty. Gen. Robert Y. Thornton, who is conducting the Multnomah County vice probe, and suggested that he be replaced in that probe.

TO SPEAK TO SENATE

Gill made his statement to reporters, and planned to tell the same thing to the Senate during the afternoon.

His statement means that the committee won't talk to Portland Mayor Terry Schrunk or further to Thornton, he indicated.

The Judiciary Committee heard testimony from Thornton and Multnomah County Dist. Atty. William Langley on Friday night.

Gill said he talked Monday morning to Circuit Judge Charles W. Redding of Portland, to whom the grand jury submitted its report.

"Judge Redding," Gill said, "said he had excused the grand jury, but that he didn't discharge it."

"It is not our intention to probe the vice situation in Portland, nor is it my plan to invite any persons who have been indicted, to testify."

IMMUNITY PROVIDED

Gill explained that the law provides immunity from prosecution to any person who talks before a legislative committee.

"We are fortunate," Gill continued, "that the committee did not ask Mr. Langley Friday night any questions about his own conduct."

Judge Redding says he sees nothing improper with our calling the grand jury, but he cautioned that it should not be asked, and that we should be careful not to let them volunteer, anything about their secret proceedings.

"Judge Redding said he felt they were very conscientious and willing to assist the Legislature in our study of what changes in the law, if any, should be enacted."

Flash Flood Pours Through Wenatchee

WENATCHEE, Wash. (AP)—A flash flood, spawned by a sudden, violent summer storm, sent torrents of water streaming through Wenatchee and its environs Sunday, causing widespread damage. There were no deaths.

An undetermined number of homes were evacuated as the flood waters surged out of No. 2 Canyon southwest of Wenatchee shortly before dusk after a thunder and lightning storm accompanied by heavy rain, high winds and hail passed over the area.

Flood waters stood two feet deep in Wenatchee's main street at one time during the flood and the basements of most business houses in the city were flooded.

In West Wenatchee, neighbors rigged a lifeline of garden hose and rope by which Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Morrow and their two children fought their way to safety from their home, through which three feet of water was flowing.

In East Wenatchee, the flood waters smashed through the rear door of a drug store and coursed through the building, breaking out through a glass window in the front.

Power was off in Wenatchee for several hours, and most of the telephones in the city were put out of commission by the storm and flood.

The House today approved House bill 808 tightening and clarifying the state's election laws. The vote was 52 to 8. Institutions Shift Asked In New Bill

A substitute version of the proposal which would allow state institutions to be located outside of Marion county without a vote of the people, has been introduced in the Oregon Senate.

The resolution, proposed by the Senate Committee on State and Federal Affairs, would enable the legislature to order any institution located outside of Marion county but action would have to be ratified by the voters. The previous proposal called for outright repeal of the present constitutional provision which limits the institution location to the county.

The resolution also provides the Legislature may "reduce, enlarge or terminate the use or purpose of any institution located outside of Marion county at any time after 10 years from the year of the general election at which location outside Marion county was ordered."

Freak Cold Wave Grips Most Of Europe; Crops Wiped Out

LONDON (AP)—A freak cold snap gripped Europe Monday. Snow fell over most of the continent. There was heavy damage to crops in Britain, France and Italy.

The northern Yugoslav city of Ljubljana had a May snow for the first time in 58 years.

Widespread damage was reported in Italy. In Lombardy, after a night of cold, near-gale winds, trees lay uprooted and blossoming flowers collapsed. In the rich Po Valley north of Rovigo, hail destroyed 80 per cent of crops.

Radio Belgrade reported "great damage" to crops in Yugoslavia, where the snow lay 10 inches deep in places. Many telephone lines were cut.

In France, the frost damaged fruit trees, which had been well advanced due to a hitherto warm winter. Outside cafes of Paris were empty.

In Denmark, thousands of farmers will have to replant seeded fields that were scorched by high winds.

Potato crops were damaged in parts of southern England. Fruit growers were advised to take special precautions to protect their crops from cold temperature Monday night.

Prague Radio said the parks and gardens of the Czech capital, famed for their May blossoms, were under a carpet of snow. The fields and forests of Bohemia, Moravia and western Slovakia were also snow covered.

Farewell Said to McCarthy

Church, Senate Eulogies Laud Anti-Red Fight

WASHINGTON (UP)—The capital said farewell to Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy today with eulogies in church and Senate Chamber for his campaign against Communism.

In high vaulted St. Matthew's Cathedral, where McCarthy was married four years ago, his grieving widow and friends heard him praised as a courageous "watchman of the citadel."

BURIAL IN APPLETON Then in the Senate Chamber where he rose to prominence and later was condemned by his colleagues, the controversial Republican from Wisconsin was extolled as an intrepid fighter against the "malignant powers of darkness."

The two ceremonies preceded the departure of an airplane bearing McCarthy's body back to his home town, Appleton, Wis., for final burial rites Tuesday. McCarthy died unexpectedly Thursday at Bethesda Naval Medical Center of a liver ailment.

At St. Matthew's, before 2,000 mourners Archbishop Patrick A. O'Boyle sang a solemn pontifical mass of requiem over the flag-draped casket. The cathedral's pastor, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John K. Cartwright, praised McCarthy as a courageous "watchman who alerted his countrymen to the menace of Communism."

WIDOW WEEPS BRIEFLY Mrs. McCarthy, the beautiful 31-year-old Jean, held back her tears until the very end of the cathedral service. When Archbishop O'Boyle took her hand and spoke a few gentle words, she bowed her head and wept for a moment.

In the chamber where he had served more than 10 years, McCarthy was praised by the Senate chaplain, the Rev. Dr. Frederick Brown Harris, as an intrepid fighter against "insidious enemies of the republic, malignant powers of darkness."

The senator's body was brought to the chamber from St. Matthew's in a flag-draped casket which was placed before the flower-banked rostrum.

METHODIST, CATHOLIC Dr. Harris, as chaplain, spoke for the Senate. He is a Methodist. Then the priest who married McCarthy and the former Jean Kerr in 1953, the Rev. William J. Awall, conducted Catholic services.

Dr. Harris called on McCarthy's Senate colleagues to pledge anew never to falter in fighting Communism "until this torn and tortured earth is made safe for decency, truth, honor, and the pledged word."

Major Riot in Polish Town Stamped Out

WARSAW (AP)—A major riot was reported today from Jaroslaw, a garrison town in southwest Poland.

More than 1,000 police and troops were called in to quell the disturbance, which apparently occurred just before the weekend.

A report in the Warsaw newspaper Spandor Mlodzych suggested it was one of the most serious of recent outbreaks against Communist state authority. It carried indications of a military mutiny.

The arrival in the town of Gen. Kuropieska, a district military commander.

Appointment of a military investigation commission to determine responsibility for the trouble.

The paper said the outbreak started with the arrest of a young soldier on a charge of drunkenness. It said other soldiers and "young hoodlums" sided with the arrested man, went to the police station and "started a fuss."

A crowd of several hundred gathered outside the police station and flung stones through the windows.

The army riot squad was called for calm and order brought no response. The trouble increased. A number of soldiers were hurt and police were forced to use tear gas.

The paper said a battalion of reserve police and a second battalion of the army riot squad were brought in. A battalion is about 800 men.

City-Chamber Budget Meeting Set May 20

A procedure new to Salem will be used by city Manager Ken Mathewson in presenting the Salem budget for 1957-1958 to the City Budget Committee and to the public.

This will be done simultaneously at the regular noon meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on Monday, May 20 by a cooperative arrangement between city authorities and the Chamber.

Members of the budget committee, who are the mayor, the council members, and nine citizens at large, will have special tables at the luncheon meeting, and will be given the budget in book form by the city manager.

Following the luncheon, City Manager Mathewson will deliver a budget message, which will be a narrative summary of the budget, and the public will be invited to listen to the message.

This will be the first time that a message has accompanied presentation of the budget. Heretofore a simple letter of transmittal has been printed on the flyleaf.

The Air Force said the first public demonstration by the six-jet medium bomber was to be made during an aerial firepower demonstration by the Air Proving Ground Command at Eglin Monday afternoon.

The Air Force said in the past "this maneuver has been limited to fighter aircraft which weigh from one-eighth to one-quarter as much as the Stratofort."

In the toss bombing maneuver, the aircraft enters the bombing run at low altitude to avoid radar detection and then pulls into a sharp climb.

Budget Meet Virtually Assures County Employees Higher Wages

By FRED ZIMMERMAN Capital Journal Writer

Marion county employees are virtually certain to receive pay boosts for the 1957-58 fiscal year, but the amount had not been determined Monday noon when the budget committee took a recess.

Whether it will be based upon a flat across-the-board increase or based upon a certain percentage, also had not been decided.

MOTION DIES Commissioner Roy Rice presented a motion early in the deliberations suggesting a flat $20 a month increase, but it died for want of a second. Then ensued discussions dealing with job classifications, and the possibility of some injustices of a flat increase.

The feeling was general, however, that a complete survey of jobs available under the jurisdiction of the Marion County Court should be made. Judge Rex Hartley said he felt an appropriation covering the cost of such a survey would be justified.

Leo Butts, representing those members of the road department who are affiliated with union labor, repeated his request for an increase of 35 cents an hour. Butts' proposal would cost the county $53,000 a year.

Frank Stone of the Marion County Employees Assn. advocated a $20 across-the-board increase pending a reclassification of jobs survey. Such an increase would create better feeling among the lower paid employees, he said.

Teamsters Lose High Court Fight

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Teamsters Union lost in the Supreme Court Monday a bitter fight to keep its own office employees out of another union.

On two points at issue involving charges that the embattled Teamsters organization has engaged in unfair labor practices against its own workers, the high tribunal ruled:

1. Unanimously, that labor unions are employers within the meaning of the Taft-Hartley Act, and

2. By a 5-4 division, that the National Labor Relations Board must act on charges of unfair labor practices brought against a union.

Justice Clark delivered the court's opinion. Justices Brennan, Frankfurter, Burton and Harlan dissented on the second point. They contended the NLRB should have discretionary authority not to act in such cases.

The case originated with the Office Employees International Union, Local No. 11 of Portland, Ore. That union complained to the NLRB that the Teamsters Union there had unfairly discouraged membership by Teamsters employees in the Office Employees Union and that the Teamsters had fired one of its employees who had been active in behalf of office employees.

The NLRB said the case was the first in its history of unfair labor charges being brought by one union against another. But the board ruled it lacked authority to act on the complaint.

McChord Pilot Brushes Death

MCCHORD AIR FORCE BASE (AP)—A pilot brushed close to disaster here Monday morning when the tire on the nose wheel blew out in a landing of a new delta-wing F102 jet interceptor.

The plane burst into flames while skidding 2,000 feet along the runway after the landing gear collapsed. McChord firemen quickly quenched the flames and pulled 1st Lt. James Wakefield from the plane unharmed. Wakefield, from Hamilton Station, Pa., is attached to the 317th Fighter-Interceptor Squadron.

Beck Jolted By 22-Page Particulars

By MAUREEN GOTHLIN United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP)—The AFL-CIO today charged Teamsters President Dave Beck and Vice President Frank Brewster with using union funds for "personal purposes" and using their union positions for "personal profit or advantage."

Teamsters Vice President Sydney Brennan of Minneapolis, who has been convicted of accepting money from an employer, was charged with "corrupt activities" by the AFL-CIO.

And the entire Teamsters Union leadership was charged with failing to take action against the three, 22-PAGE STATEMENT

The bill of particulars was contained in a 22-page statement presented before the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee as it started its hearing on the question whether the big Teamsters Union is dominated or substantially influenced by "corrupt influence."

The AFL-CIO specifically questioned the teamsters leadership's "apparent failure" to determine for itself whether Beck is in fact guilty of "personal corruption in the handling of union funds and in the conduct of union affairs and invoked the Fifth Amendment... to conceal the fact."

Beck was accused by the Senate Hackett Committee of using more than $20,000 in union funds for personal matters, but he resorted to the Fifth Amendment 117 times in refusing to answer the committee's questions about his financial dealings with the union.

The AFL-CIO charges were spelled out after Beck himself accused the parent union in an open statement of conducting a "medieval inquisition and witch-hunt" at the hearing.

Beck, backed up in his statement by other members of the teamsters Executive Board, denounced the general charge of corruption as "malicious and unfounded slander."

DEMANDS PARTICULARS Beck demanded that the committee provide teamsters leaders a bill of "particulars" as to the charges against the union. He said the board members had come to the hearing "solely" to find out whether they would get a detailed breakdown of the allegations.

It was after he spoke that the committee came up with a 22-page statement detailing the charges.

The committee's statement of detailed charges against the teamsters alleged that Beck used union funds for "personal purposes" when he was chairman of the union's Western conference.

A similar accusation was made against Brewster. And both were charged with using their "official union positions" for "personal profit and advantage."

"The committee then cited the 'corrupt influences' of Brennan. 'The committee also questioned 'the apparent failure' of the Teamsters Union to investigate the activities of the three officers."

NO MENTION OF HOFFA No mention was made of Teamsters Vice President James R. Hoffa of Detroit, who was present at the closed hearing. He has been indicted on charges of trying to bribe his way into the files of the Senate Hackett Committee, which also has been investigating corruption in the Teamsters Union.
