

Mini pow-wow attracts maxi crowd

seph and Jolene Boise, Danelle Macy, Dorian Tappo, Serena Winishut, and Anna Wewa.

A special attraction Thursday night was the performance of the Eagle Dance by Dean and Val Whitecloud from the Jemes Pueblo in New Mexico.

The drumming contest Saturday afternoon featured some fine competition and was won by the group from Great Falls, Montana.

The Longhouse was also the scene of three dinners sponsored by the Wide Spot Singers. Become a whiz at the disco

Twelve men and women learned the Hustle and basic disco dance movements at the Community Center's first dance class Tuesday evening, December 7. Eva Montee knew the California brand of the Hustle and Bonnie Souers was acquainted with Portland's version, so they combined the styles and presented what one day might become known as the Warm Springs Hustle.

People seemed to have a lot of fun at this first lesson in a series of four. The Bump will be taught at the next class on December 14 and later classes will feature the Swing, bopping and a final review.

So put your blue suede shoes, or whatever they're wearing at disco's these days, and bop on down to Conference Room II at the Community Center Tuesday evenings at 7:00 p.m. for an hour-long work-out.

For Holidays Vacations . . . Remember: We love you, need you . . . have a safe Holiday Season

You may be the General Manager, a branch manager or a supervisor or a typist. It doesn't matter.

You may be called an employee, and executive, a salesman, a worker, or a bread winner, each one should feel important as part of the personnel. With the holiday season approaching it is hoped that everyone enjoy himself and it is hoped that everyone returns back to their jobs safe and sound after the holidays.

So think safety while you enjoy yourself. There will be a lot of activity around here and the traffic will increase. There will be various gatherings around, a basketball tournament, New Years parties, etc. One consolation for the Tribal employees, being that Christmas and New Years fall on Saturdays there will be days off on the 24th and the 31st with pay.
