

WHO IS SHORTER THAN Dr. CREELMAN?

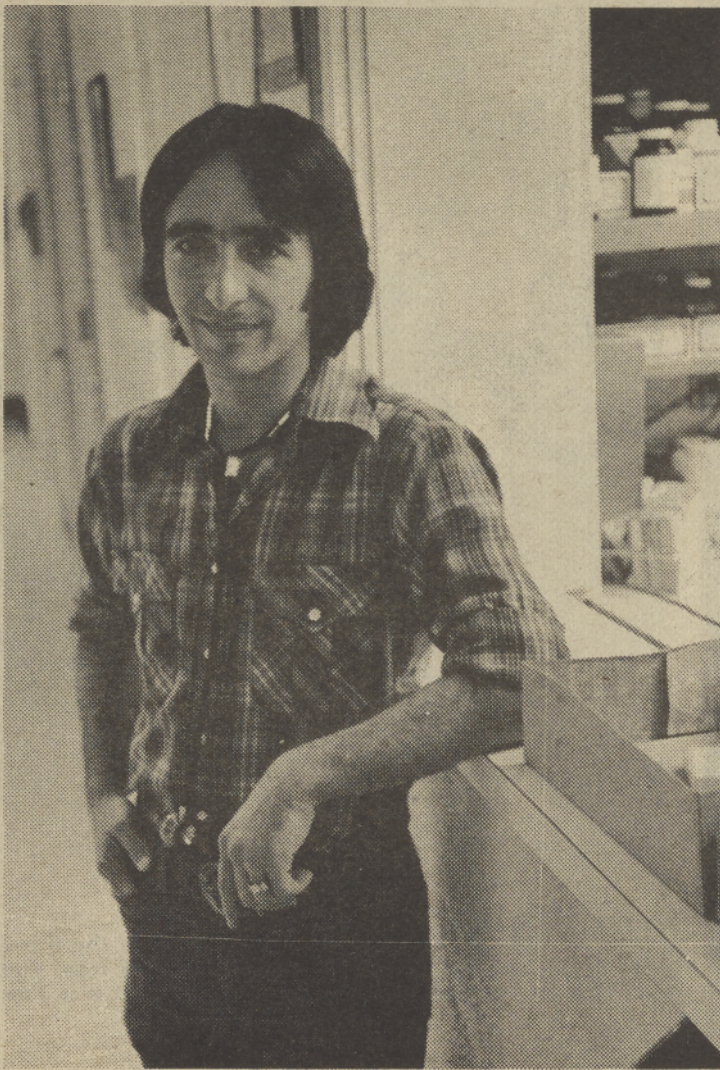

Yes, folks, it's true. The new PHS doctor, Steve Machtinger, who originates from New York, is shorter than Dr. Tom Creelman!

But height does not leave him "short" where capabilities are concerned. The newly hired 25 year-old doctor and his wife, Karen, moved from Pittsburg, Pennsylvania where he attended University of Pittsburg School of Medicine, to Orange County, California one year ago to enable the young doctor to complete his internship in pediatrics at the University of California Irvine Medical Center.

Dr. Machtinger hopes to raise the consciousness of Warm Springs residents to general health and common accidents, making riding in the back of pickups one of his pet peeves. He also hopes to help overweight patients with weight control and physical fitness. Dr. Machtinger wants people here to better understand the role of the doctor, "we're here to get to the root of the problem, not just to hand out medicine."

The new doctor, with his strong eastern accent, has been asked if he is of Indian descent, and has to answer that he is Jewish. And when asked how he and his wife found Warm Springs so far, he answered "Hot and very friendly!"

When Dr. Machtinger is on call, he can be reached at 553-1221 or through the police department at 553-1161.

FEAST SET, BERRIES GOOD

The annual huckleberry feast at HeHe will happen on Sunday, August 13, and the berries should be more plentiful this year than last.

Drought made for a poor harvest last year but the balance of rain and sunshine this summer means lots of healthy huckleberries. Euen Squiemphen has already spotted quite a few up at High Rock.

There will be dancing Saturday and Sunday night as usual, although Sylvia Wallulatum bemoaned the fact that "it's hard to get people to dance because they want to go to powwows and win money."

Washat services will be held Sunday morning after which the traditional dinner of salmon, roots, and berries will be served (around noon or thereafter).

HeHe Longhouse is a half mile west of Highway 26, just across from the Simnasho-Kah-Nee-Ta turn-off.

PLANNERS TO MEET

There will be a meeting for the Northwest Tribal Planners at the Kah-Nee-Ta Lodge August 7, 8 and 9th.

An effort by Planners from Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Alaska, of region 10, the purpose of the meeting is to discuss problems and concerns on Indian Reservations that relate to planning and other organizations.

This meeting is being held prior to the National United Indian Planners Association convention which is being held in St. Paul-Minneapolis, Minnesota, August 20-24th.

The meeting at Kah-Nee-Ta will be coordinated by the Warm Springs Planning Department and the Land Use Planning Committee.

BITS AND PIECES

Spilyay was wandering around the Tribal Administration building one day asking various ones the question of, "What's your favorite season of the year?" Here are some answers.

JP: I like the Spring and Fall. It seems like winter lingers so long and when spring comes everything turns green, even the hills. I also like the Autumn colors, they are so pretty.

CK: I like spring because that's when everything seems to come alive, the grass and leaves are turning green, animals are coming out. I lived in the city before in California and there you couldn't notice the change in the seasons because it was warm all year long.

MC: I like the summer season on the best because I like to do things out-of-doors. The kids are out of school and we can do whatever we want to do. I guess I just like the summer season.

CS: My favorite season of the year would have to be the spring because I can get out into the garden. It's not too hot or cold — the only thing, there is too much wind.

TK: I like the summer season, that's when I can get out and do things like work on my suntan and stuff like that.

JT: I like the summer because it's hot all the time and I have a chance to do more things.

JF: I like the summer season because I like to water ski and lie in the sun.

ET: I like June and September because in June the days are long and warm and in September it's pretty with the leaves all turning color.

JE: I like spring because it reminds me of new life. Everything is coming out new — grass, leaves, flowers, they are all just pretty.

DP: Spring is the time for all new things to come and fall is the end of the hot summer.

KJ: I like all seasons because they all have their own beauty.

CD: I like the fall season because the air is crisp.

DJ: Fall because it's still warm during the day and the evenings are cool and the leaves are pretty.

PS: I like the summer because I have a lot of fun and go to a lot of rodeos.

SR: I like the fall because to me it's the beginning of a new year. I like the fall colors, the change in the air. Another reason is it seems like a new year because it's the beginning of a new school year.

LIONS CLUB

John Weber, Dean of Instruction at COCC, was the guest speaker at the Lions Club regular meeting on the morning of July 25. His speech focused on the COCC school budget which will be put to the voters on August 8. Also attending the meeting with Weber was Ron Hagerman, Title III coordinator at COCC.

At the next regular meeting on August 8, Cal Calvin the new District Governor from Prineville will be present to install the new officers who will serve during the coming year.

Jay Binder, from the Madras Lions Club, one of the past District Governors, and Georgette Smith who were very instrumental in forming the Warm Springs Lions Club, will also be present for the occasion.

of a manager, he shrugged and said, "We haven't met him."

It is an unwritten policy, said Jackson, that the Council has the opportunity to meet and ask questions of candidates for such high level jobs, although the actual hiring is done by the general manager.

Pauli was recommended to Smith by Manion and resort consultant Basil Miaullis. Because of past managerial problems and the uniqueness of Kah-Nee-Ta, the job was not advertised. "We've been misled by papers before," commented Manion.

Instead, Manion and Miaullis "pirated" people who were known in this geographical area. Pauli was selected from a field of six candidates.

Council was expecting to appoint Kah-Nee-Ta's board of directors before the manager was hired, the sequence implied in the plan of operation. But Kah-Nee-Ta's crisis situation prompted the swift and (to some), unorthodox action taken.

Pauli is an 18-year veteran of the resort industry. Prior to taking on the Kah-Nee-Ta Village management in January 1978, Pauli managed the Inn of the Seventh Mountain in Bend and the Inn at Otter Crest on the coast. He has also directed resort businesses in Alaska and was a partner in a hotel-motel consulting firm in Phoenix.

Since coming to the Village, Pauli has impressed the enterprise manager with his "good management skills." He is particularly strong in two areas where Kah-Nee-Ta is having problems, said Manion: sales and public relations, and labor costs.

The new resort manager will not be an "office-type manager," noted Manion. He tends to be quite "visible" and gets along well with employees.

Commenting on the in-house selection of a manager, Manion said Pauli would have a "head start" over anyone coming in from the outside. He has also developed a good attitude about tribal members.

Although Pauli said he would like to operate his own business one day, he feels that Kah-Nee-Ta fits into his career plan "very well." Not only does the challenge of getting Kah-Nee-Ta back on its feet appeal to him, but another of his goals is to train and qualify tribal members to take over his job. Pauli does not yet have a timetable for these tasks.

The new manager started work immediately, taking over the helm at the height of Kah-Nee-Ta's busiest season.

SUPERVISORS LUNCHEON

On Wednesday, July 26, all the Tribal supervisors gathered at Kah-Nee-Ta for the quarterly luncheon in the Paiute Room where each supervisor gave his report for the past quarter.

Also, at the present time Ken Smith is meeting with Supervisors in reviewing the '79 budget. This will continue until August 4th.
