Smith Advances To Area PP&K

Finishing 60 feet ahead of the second place contender, Troy Smith of Warm Springs won the 13-year old division of the district Punt, Pass and Kick contest in Portland, October 25.

His total score of 332 was made up of 88 feet in the punt, 136.5 feet in the pass, and a kick of 107.5 feet. His 136.5 foot pass landed right on the tape, according to his mother.

The competition was filmed by the television crew of "We're on", a young people's program which airs on Sundays at 10 a.m. Following the competition, the junior reporters also interviewed Troy. That interview and highlights of the contest will be shown November 5 on "We're on." (NBC)

Smith now goes on to the area-level competition to be held in Seattle on December 3. The contest will be televised during the halftime of the Seattle-Cleveland game at the Kingdome, and should be seen locally.

If he wins at Seattle, Troy will move to the Division competition which will probably be in Houston when the Oilers meet the San Diego Chargers.

This is not the first year that Troy has tested his ability at the PP&K contest. He has advanced to the Area competition in two of the past three years, and his brother Jason went to the area competition two years ago.

Troy wasn't as nervous this time as in the past, according to his mother. Apparently, the jitters have been a problem for Troy when he had to get up in front of all those people.

If you would like to see Troy on TV, tune into "We're On" on November 5, then to the Seattle Game on December 3.

(Best of luck, Troy. We're all pulling for you.)

VanPelt Wins Lift-a-thon

Madras High School junior Tony VanPelt, son of Gary and Eliza Hicks, was awarded a pair of Nike sports shoes and a T-shirt for collecting the most money for the Lift-A-Thon held yesterday (Thursday) at the Madras High School.

The 173 pound fifteen year old lifted 200 pounds and was pledged a total of $822. Tony's previous high was 190 pounds lifted. The money pledged will go towards more equipment and weights for the Weight Lifting class.

Tony's competition included over 70 boys, many of them from Warm Springs.

Queahpama in 200-mile Relay

Tribal member Ralph Queahpama and three other Pacific Northwest Bell employees completed a 200-mile relay run from Portland to Seattle October 23 in a fund-raising benefit for United Way.

Queahpama, 32, said it was a good workout and that the three-day effort was tiring. "We didn't just jog," said Queahpama of himself and his one female and two male teammates. He said they averaged seven minutes a mile.

The four started out on Saturday, October 21 and ran about 80 miles that day. On Sunday they put in another 80 miles, finishing up on Monday with a 40-mile jaunt.

Since runners are not allowed on Washington freeways, the group went up through Longview on Old Highway 99. They took two motor homes along for convenience.

Each relay participant ran at seven-mile intervals, chalking up 21 miles each per day. They kept at it for ten to eleven hours both Saturday and Sunday, and finished Monday at about noon in Seattle.

Although pledge sheets were still out, it was estimated by a PNB spokesman that the runners raised nearly $2,000 for United Way.

Queahpama's teammates were Brian Stocks, 29, Larry Sciuchetti, 32, and Margaret Nussbaum, 36.

Loses One, Wins One

In games played at the Warm Springs imaginary "super dome" on October 28, the little guys hosted teams from the Yakima Nation. It was a long, hard-fought ball game for the six to nine year olds and they dropped that game 14-0. The teams were pretty well evenly matched, but because of some mistakes and bad breaks the Yakima team managed to score and hold on to their lead to capture the game.

The ten to fourteen year old's game was a hard-played game also, a see-saw affair all afternoon with each team not going too far each time they had the ball. This was a tight defensive game with a very few turnovers, but there were some mistakes from time to time.

Warm Springs managed to push the ball into the end zone two times and both PAT's were good to give them a 14-0 victory. So far their record stands with one win one loss and a tie. Their next outing will be November 4, when they will travel to Lummi, Washington.
