

Record breaking Fried Bread Open

The 9th Annual Open fried Bread Golf tournament held at Kah-Nee-Ta hosted the largest field of golfers to make this year's tournament a record breaker with a total of 120 men competing for gift certificates and the honor of taking home the title.

The Fried Bread tournament has become an annual golfing event for golfers from all parts of the Northwest. This is the 9th year it has been held at Kah-Nee-Ta but the history of the tournament goes back to the year of 1958 when it was held at Bowman's Resort on Mt. Hood and was sponsored by the Bureau of Indian Affairs. It has moved several times since that time but it seems to have found a permanent place at Kah-Nee-Ta. The Fried Bread is sponsored by the Kah-Nee-Ta Men's Golf Association.

Three divisions make up the tournament. The class A division is composed of golfers with a handicap of 0-10 and is divided into two groups, the gross and the net. The class B division is for handicapper's of 11-15 also with net and gross divisions. The class C division is for golfers with 16-18 handicap and is divided into gross and net.

Winning the low gross for the A division was Rick Roskopf of Eastmoreland with a total of 138. Second in low gross class A was Kelly Jester of Mint Valley turning in a total of 140.

Class A net winners were as follows 1st going to George Rainer of Clackmas with a score of 127 and second was taken by Ken Piland of Forest Hills with a final of 128.

The Class B low gross winners were in 1st place Jim Perkin of Arrowhead with 152. Second place winner was bill McArthur of Salem turning in a score of 155. First place in the net series of class B went to Don Hopp of Arrowhead with 125 and taking second place was Jim Rupp of Mint Valley with a score of 130.

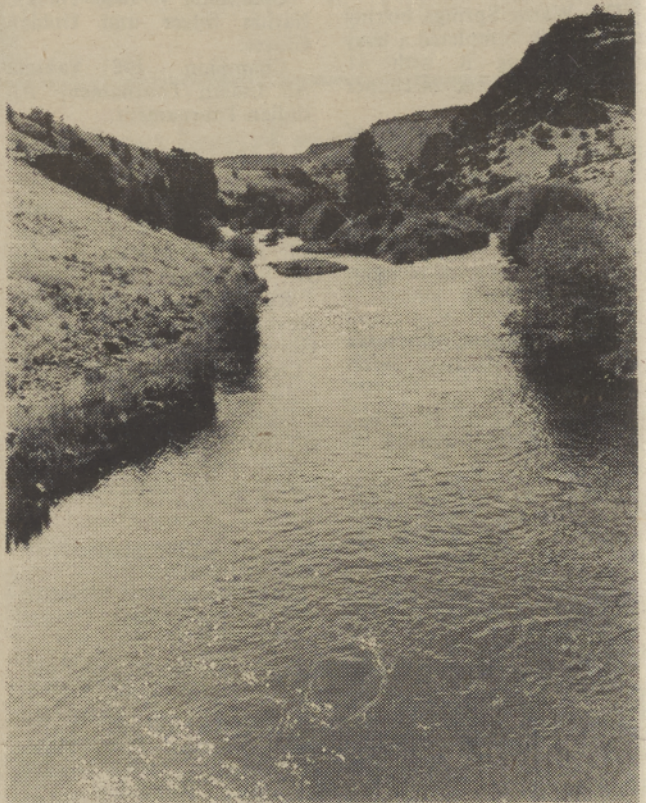

In the class C division the top low gross player was ou Garrity of Arrowhead with a score of 135 and Roger Kromer of Spring Water took second with a final score of 163. The net class C winners were Bill Yallup of Sun Tides with a total of 125 and Julius Bobillot of Arrowhead ending with a score of 126.

It its second year of being the companion to the Fried Bread Men's tournament was the Women's Flight of the Fried Bread. This year there were 18 women entered in the competition for gift certificates. The women have a gross series and a net series.

Winning the low gross for the women was Donna Stonerod, Portland, for the second year in a row. She won with a total of 207 for the 36 hole play. Second low gross winner was D. Lonefight of Salem with a series of 218. Net play top title was captured by L. Vaught of Arrowhead with a score of 156. L. Bobillot of Arrowhead turned in a score of 158 to take second place.

According to Cecil Conner, a member of the Kah-Nee-Ta Mens assdociation, each year the tournament grows and this year marked a new record in golfers competing but he suggests next year the 10th Annual which in his words "is going to be the Fried Bread of all Fried Breads."

Bruce Brunoe, Jr. correctly identified our last geo-quiz the location being the north side of Indian Head Canyon. Try your luck on this one. We not only take pictures of rocks but water as well. Identify this picturesque setting and win a year's subscription for yourself or a friend. The number to call is 553-1644.
