Committee needs input

There will be an Aerial Spraying Environmental Assessment meeting March 3, 1982 at the Agency Longhouse.

Prior to the meeting, the Timber Committee would like to compile the concerns of the different committees, resource people and the general public before Dr. James Witt speaks at the meeting.

If any committees are scheduling meetings during the week of March 8, the Timber committee would appreciate committee input.

Timber committee chairman Louie Pitt urges all tribal members to attend the Aerial Spraying meeting. Dr. Witt recently lectured in Bend and gave a very "informative, objective picture of what is happening," said Pitt.

Geo-Quiz

One more time. No one was able to identify the location of the last geo-quiz so here it is again. This rock formation is obvious from the road if you're in the right place. Correctly identify the location of this rock formation and win one year's subscription to Spilyay Tymoo for yourself or a friend.

Happy Valentines Day! (from Spilyay Tymoo)

Romantic verse from the heart

Drug stores are decorated this month with hearts, upids and lace. The supermarkets boast red roses tied with delicate white lace and stacks upon stacks of heart shaped boxes of chocolates. Jewelery stores are advertising gold hearts on gold chains as an expression of undying love. Could it be a repeat of Christmas? Hmmm...it's February, Valentine's Day is approaching! Have your children asked for a box of valentine cards yet? And remember poor Charlie Brown!

Women will probably receive much of the sweets and lace, but what does a woman give the man in her life for Valentine's Day? Picture giving a male lacy, red pajamas, or a heart shaped ring. What about those red and white boxer shorts with hearts all over? Rather than saying it with flowers, some choose to just plain say it! Romantic poetry was the subject of the Personnel Department's Valentines Day Poetry contest. The first annual event drew 14 contestants, all of which submitted original words of love and admiration.

The judges for the contest were Dave Harding, Marsha Shewczyk, Jerry Huff and Julie Mitchell. All were chosen for their romantic inclinations.

This years winners by catagory are:

Funniest Valentine	Margie Earl
Sweetest Valentine	Anne Kirkwood
Toe-Ness Valentine	Rose Boise
Most Unusual Valentine	Carol Jenkins
Best Submitted by a Male	Cliff Jenkins
Best Submitted by a Female	Evelyn Nequatewa

Original prizes were donated by Natlie Smith, Frances Allen, Margie Earl, Carol Jenkin, Lyda Scott, The Hair Bear and Bob Macy. If you need inspirational lines to use this Valentine's Day, the poems are on display at the Personnel office. Remember, forgetting Valentines Day, is like forgetting your anniversary.

VALENTINE SENTIMENTS

We've made it together through thick and thin,
Some we lose and some we win.

We share the bitter with the better,
Through all the fair and foul weather.

Our love has lasted for thirty years,
Mostly smiles, very few tears.

No one else can take your place,
You'll always be my "Sweetie Face".

SILKEN THREADS

Love is like a silken thread that holds us heart to heart—a silken thread, yet strong as chains. We cannot draw apart. We are tied to those we love for all eternity—held in bondage of affection, gently, tenderly.

Day by day and year by year the unseen ties are wound—in and out between our hearts until we're closely bound—by ties as light as gossamer. In fairy webs we're caught in the tangled meshes of silken threads of thought.

MY LOVE, MY SON

My love is strange,
His name is James,
With heart full of games.

My life you entered with Joy.
To you, my loving boy.

In dedication to you, my son,
For in my heart
You will always be number one.
