Field Day rescheduled for May

The Cultural and Heritage Committee will hold a second Field Day at Kah-Nee-Ta Lodge on May 5, from 9:00 a.m. until 6:00 p.m.

At the first Field Day, on April 8, Rudi Milpacher of Milpacher Designs and commercial photographer Dave Davidson were busy from 9:00-6:00 cataloging and photographing heirlooms and artifacts brought in by tribal members. 97 pieces were photographed. It is hoped that twice that many will come on May 5. It is especially hoped that Paiute artifacts will be brought in as well as heirlooms and artifacts from Warm Springs and Wasco tribal members.

PM Magazine from Channel 8 in Portland will be photographing and interviewing tribal members for PM. The television show will be shown on Channel 8 May 22 at 7:00 p.m.

Olney Patt, chairman of the Tribal Cultural and Heritage Committee said, "We have had one successful Field Day and we sincerely hope that the second one will bring in twice as many tribal members as the first one did, with twice as many heirlooms and artifacts for us to catalogue and photograph. We are giving each tribal member a color slide of all of the artifacts that they bring in so that they can use those slides for insurance purposes."

Rudi Milpacher will go through all of the slides after May 5 and pick out those that he intends to use in the tribal Profile, a book which is being published by the Cultural and Heritage Committee sometime this summer. It is estimated that between 25 and 50 artifacts will be used in the book. The ones which appear in the Profile book will be taken to Portland for photography in a studio, whereas the photography done during the Field Days is only for cataloging purposes.

A free buffet lunch will be served in the Wasco-Paiute Room on the mezzanine of Kah-Nee-Ta Lodge on May 5.

Treat head lice with proper care

In recent weeks Warm Springs Elementary and IHS Clinic officials have become aware of another outbreak of head lice. Children may be out of school two to three days when infested with head lice

Because the problem, termed a "curable nuisance", can be handled by using basic hygiene methods, the Warm Springs PHS Clinic offers the following tips in prevention and controlling head lice.

(1) All household members and frequent family contacts should receive medicated treatment at the same time. This is necessary because lice can be passed quickly from one person to another.

(2) Avoid any contact with the hair or scalp of possibly infested persons.

(3) Do not borrow or lend combs, brushes, hats, scarves or toilet articles used on the scalp of infested persons.

(4) Do not use towels, bedding or clothing from possibly infested persons. Separate storage of wraps at school or work should be provided and individual beds at home should be provided for each child.

(5) Clothing and bedding must be changed and thoroughly cleaned as frequently as possible.

(6) Pay special attention to laundering clothing (especially undergarments) and bedding in hot water (140 degrees for 20 minutes). Dry cleaning can be very effective too, especially for heavy items like blankets, jackets, coats or sleeping bags.

(7) Thoroughly vacuum all surfaces of chairs, sofas, floors and carpeting.

It is especially important that sheets, towels, combs, brushes and all personal articles are thoroughly cleaned. If they are not, the person will be reinfested in a matter of a few days.

The clinic prescribes Kwell shampoo for controlling head lice. They advise following these instructions:

(1) Following shower (or bath) and regular shampoo, apply two tablespoons of Kwell shampoo, work to a lather for 10 minutes with only warm water, then rinse with full strength warm vinegar or wrap hair with a vinegar-saturated towel.

(2) After a thorough rinse rub the hair briskly with a clean dry towel.

(3) When dry, check the hair for any remaining nits or insect shells and use a very fine tooth comb or tweezers for removal.

(4) Apply one Kwell four days after treatment, check with the medical staff at the clinic.

(5) In addition to medical treatment for elimination of lice, it is also important that you practice prevention.

Because Kwell is so strong, the clinic advises that:

(1) Do not use Kwell as a routine shampoo.

(2) Use Kwell with extreme caution with infants, children and during pregnancy.

(3) Kwell must be kept out of children's reach and avoid swallowing.

(4) Avoid any internal use or swallowing Kwell.

(5) Avoid contact of Kwell with eyes, a towel may be held tightly over the eyes during application and rinsing.
