Pi-Ume-Sha Powwow draws crowd

Indian dancers and dance groups from all parts of the United States and Canada came to compete for prize money here at Warm Springs during the 13th annual Pi-Ume-Sha Pow-wow, also to renew old friendships and make new ones with all those who travel miles and miles each year to perform and compete in pow-wows throughout the country.

Saturday morning drew a good turnout of participants for the street parade starting at 10 a.m. from the grade school grounds and ending at the dancing arena near the Community Center. Leading the parade following the color guard was Elder Annie Smith, who just recently celebrated her 100th birthday. Behind her was Oregon's Governor Vic Atiyeh, this was his second year to participate in the parade during the pow-wow. His visit of Friday night and Saturday was well excepted by his many friends.

This year dancers represented Canada, the midwest, southwest as well as entries from all parts of the northwest. Men women and children alike presented all the action. It was tough on the judges to pick a winner from such a talented group of dancers. It was so close that the toss of a coin would have been the most simple way to determine or pick the winner

The following are the results of the parade contest from the entries in the various categories and floats.

- Best Dressed Boy On Foot: 1st. Jeremiah Farrow, 2nd Martin Tallbull; Best Dressed Girl Foot: May Anne Kirk; 2nd Julia OnePenny. Best Traditional Baby - (Old Style) 1st Annie Marie Kirk; 2nd Farlee Eaglespeaker "Ty"; Best dressed Traditional Person: 1st Sahah Greene; 2nd Annette Jim; Oldest Traditional Dressed Person: 1st Susan Moses; 2nd Julia Wolf; Best Dressed Male on Horseback 1st: Wilson Wewa; 2nd Max

Someone must have "Goofed" and slipped in a rain dance song in between contests because the rains came in buckets full and on Saturday night the dancing discontinued out of doors because of the rain and later resumed in the Community Center gym. But rain or not didn't stop the determined pow-wow goer's to witness the fine dancing.

Oregon Governor Victor Atiyeh made his second annual appearance at Pi-Ume-Sha this year. He participated in the friendship dance and a mutual friendly attitude was apparent. See pages 6 and 7 for more of Pi-Ume-Sha and the Governor's activities. Spilyay Tymoo photo by Behrend

It's fire awareness time

For the second year in a row, Fire Awareness Time has been coordinated on a two-state basis by all of the wildland fire suppression agencies. The program runs from June 28 to September 6.

On a local basis, the Central Oregon Fire Prevention Cooperative is sponsoring and coordinating this kick-off to the central Oregon summer-fire-prevention campaign.

The purpose of Fire Awareness Time is to alert the public to wildland and rural fire prevention measures being initiated. The Prevention Coop, up to this point, has encouraged homeowners to clean-up and dispose of, by burning or whatever other techniques, debris and dead vegetation around their buildings. From this point on, however, we are urging people to haul this material to a dump or "pile now and burn later" after fire season restrictions have been lifted.

Central Oregon residents are also urged to pay special attention to any activity that might result in a wildfire: avoid operating vehicles in the tall grass; limit smoking to safe places and made an extra effort to properly extinguish smoking materials. Children playing with matches is an ever present problem for all fire service agencies.

The Central Oregon Fire Prevention Cooperative encourages all local residents and visitors to central Oregon to be aware of their activities that could start fires, be informed about local fire restrictions. Pass the word to encourage everyone to use proper safety practices in dealing with fire and help prevent a wildfire.
